ARMY WALLOPS NAVY

PRESIDENT AND 40 ADMIRALS SEE GAME

Final--Army, 22; Navy, 9. End second period score, Army, 9; Navy, 6.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—President Wilson, 40 active and retired admirals and generals and about 40,000 others witnessed this afternoon's football game here between the army and navy teams. The middies outweighed the West Pointers six pounds to the man, and were favorites in the betting.

A drizzling rain, which started last night, continued this morning. The Middies were quartered at the Hotel Vanderbilt, and the West Pointers at the Hotel Astor.

All the cadets and midshipmen arrived on special trains before one o'clock. The army supporters brought along a mule as a mascot and the midshipmen a goat.

The two teams have engaged in 17 games. The navy has won nine games and the army seven. One resulted in a tie.

A raw wind prevailed throughout the game. Forty-one thousand persons were present, including Secretary Daniels and Secretary Garrison.

POWER IN BACKFIELD

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Nov. 29.—A resume of the O. A. C. football season shows great power in the heavy driving backfield. Doing away with the light quarterback Coach Stewart combined the weight and speed of his squad into a unit of strength which worked together as no backfield has worked here for many years.

ALL THAT REMAINS IS TO SIGN THE PAPERS

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 29.—Information was received this morning that makes it almost a cinch that Tyrus Lober, Portland outfielder, will go to the Cleveland club of the American league this year. All that remains, it is said, is for Manager McCredie of Portland and President Somers of Cleveland to complete the release papers. Ever since McCredie returned from the minor league meeting at Columbus he has been stalling about the exchange of Lober. He stated that Cleveland could have Lober provided the big league club gave him a sufficient number of players in exchange. Whether McCredie gave the Naps an option on the star outfielder makes little difference for Somers and the Portland club have been working under a gentleman's agreement for years. It now looks as if Cleveland will haul in any strings it has on Lober and the outfielder will report in the south next spring. Lober has said that he does not want to play with the major league next year, but Tyrus will not be found absent when the Naps send the call to train at Macon Georgia.

SPORTING BREVITIES

Brainerd, Minn., Nov. 29.—Leslie Bush, the Philadelphia pitcher, who ran down and killed Louis T. Miller Wednesday evening was exonerated by the coroner's jury yesterday. The jury was out but 10 minutes.

Canada's two motorcycle organizations will form one national governing body.

Sacramento, Cal., Nov. 29.—"Dutch" Klawitter, Sacramento Coast league pitcher, and one of the leading twirlers last season, was knocked out of the box by a gang of 15-year-olds in a baseball game here yesterday. "Dutch" pitched for a local theatrical team.

Chicago, Nov. 29.—Manager John Evers of the Chicago Nationals, and Joe Tinker, former Cub shortstop who managed the Cincinnati team last season, held a conference yesterday, after which Tinker announced that he knew of no place he would rather play than in Chicago.

New York, Nov. 29.—Captain Bill Sweeney of the Boston Nationals, former shortstop of the Portland 1906 Coast league champions is named as possible manager of the Cincinnati team.

the end for long gains in every contest except the one Thursday against Idaho, where he was only successful a few times.

COACH STAGG BELIEVES ALL WILL HAVE NUMBERS

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—Coach Stagg of the University of Chicago predicted here today that before the end of the next season every prominent football team in the west would adopt the system of numbering players.

Sport dictators of nine big western universities last night agreed at a conference to number the players in the first two games next season. Stagg was appointed to devise a code whereby the officials may inform the spectators the reason for various penalties.

FIVE FIELD GOALS BY ONE MAN--BRICKLEY!

Can you see that smile on the face of Brickley the Great? He is watching one of his inimitable quintet of field goals sailing over the Yale cross-timber. Five field goals in one big game--and by one man! 'Twill be some time before that record is broken and the setting of it has put Brickley with Eckereel, Coy, DeWitt and the other mighty men.

Harvard has something else to be thankful for beside Brickley. Two "hoodoos" have been broken. Harvard has never beaten Yale in her own stadium and has never been able to come out victorious two years in succession. By winning this year's game, both "hoodoos" were broken.
