UNITE FORCES FOR HIGHWAY

COMMERCIAL CLUB STARTS BIG CAMPAIGN TO IMPROVE THE ROAD CONDITIONS

THREE COURTS AID UNDERTAKING

Organizations Get Into Battle for Repair Work In Anticipation of Visits from Thousands of Tourists

The Oregon City Commercial club has made plans for a concerted effort looking to the improvement of the Pacific Highway through Multnomah, Clackamas and Marion counties, and notices of a meeting of those interested was issued Saturday afternoon and the following committee appointed to make the necessary detailed arrangements: B. T. McBain, M. D. Latourrette, M. J. Brown, E. E. Brodie and T. W. Sullivan.

The meeting will be held in the rooms of the Commercial club next Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock and representatives of every town on the east side of the Willamette river from Portland to Salem will be given an invitation to attend.

The county court of Clackamas county has agreed to cooperate with the object of securing the early improvement of the road marked by Pacific Highway signs through Clackamas county. Members of the county court of Marion and Multnomah counties will be requested to send representatives to the coming meeting.

While the counties through which the Pacific Highway passes will naturally be expected to bear a share of the expense of improving the roads running south from Portland, it is possible that aid will be asked from the State Highway commission, which will have next year at its disposal about $233,000, derived from a state tax of one-quarter mill authorized by the last legislature. Because of the valuation in Multnomah and Clackamas counties is large, it appears that these two counties will pay about 41 per cent of the total amount that is to be raised by general taxation to be placed with the State Highway commission for disbursement.

Prepare for Tourists.
Road enthusiasts of Clackamas county realize fully the importance of having the Pacific Highway placed in first class condition in anticipation of the enormous tourist travel that will come through Oregon in 1915, during the Panama-Pacific Exposition. The action taken Saturday afternoon partially to the report that residents of territory west of the Willamette are planning to bring about a change in the route of the highway. This change, if made, would take the towns on the east side of the river off the map, so far as the highway is concerned. It is understood that the distance between Portland and Salem can be shortened about five miles with no great expense.

TRAIN KILLS TRACK WALKER AT CANBY

CANBY, Ore., Dec. 6.—Peter Selfors was run over and killed about 2:30 o'clock a. m. near this city by Southern Pacific train number 15.

Selfors with his partner Bert Ellison, was walking down the railway track towards Slider's wood camp, where the two men worked.

It is probable that Selfors was blinded by the powerful head light on the locomotive and unable to get off the track in time. Coroner Wilson went to the scene of the accident early this morning. He will hold an inquest tomorrow morning. The dead man is survived by a brother in Portland and by a cousin in Astoria. Selfors is about 31 or 32 years of age.

HIGH SCHOOL PLANS BIG NOVELTY FAIR

The faculty of the local high school is unanimous in the desire to assist the efforts of the students along legitimate lines.

A few weeks ago, with its co-operation, the students, netted the athletic association a neat sum, to further work along this line. They are now planning a Christmas fair, for the benefit of another of the school activities, to be given in the high school building, Friday evening, December 19. This is to be a Cosmopolitan fair and many of our sister nations will be represented.

Each teacher is assigned a booth, in which she will sell articles to net money to the school. There will be a Japanese booth, an American booth, others representing the Chinese, Irish, Indian, Eskimo and Turkish nations. The plan is unique and all credit is due Misses Burleigh and Johnston for its originality. These ladies have the work in hand, and hope with the co-operation of the rest of the faculty and student body to give a most successful entertainment.

Miss Burleigh, teacher of art, has many "classy" water colors and drawings which she proposes to sell, and Miss Johnson, teacher of domestic art, and science, will furnish dainty bits of needle work made by the high school girls. These ladies will preside over the American booth.

Other booths will have many interesting features. And the whole scheme is one that will attract, if for no other purpose than to admire. The public will eagerly await the event.

PASTOR BEGINS HIS THIRD YEAR'S WORK

The first Sunday of December, 1911, Dr. T. B. Ford began his pastorate of the First Methodist Episcopal church in this city, succeeding the Rev. E. F. Zimmerman who resigned to engage in anti-saloon league work.

The work has gone steadily forward, without a single backstep, with increasing facilities, departments, membership and congregation. The new carpet, the new lights, the new steam-heating plant, the pipe organ and the new choir and the brotherhood, are all additions under the pastorate of Dr. Ford.

The pastor begins, this morning his third year of service, and will be glad to greet all the members and friends at the services of the day. He will preach this morning on "The Might of Mediocrity," and this evening on the question, "Is Christianity a Failure?" The large chorus choir under the direction of Mrs. Neita Barlow Lawrence will furnish the music at both services.

PLAN EVEN BIGGER FAIR NEXT SEASON

In a better condition than it has been for years, the Clackamas County Fair association is making preparations for another exhibit next summer.

At a meeting of the stockholders Saturday afternoon, M. J. Lee, the secretary, was instructed to have the premium lists ready for revision at a meeting on January 17 and to have the financial statements ready for publication at the same time. Though the meeting lacked a quorum of the stockholders, plans were tentatively laid for a bigger fair next year.

If one cannot make himself or herself pleasantly interesting and somewhat important to somebody else, his, or her life is surely a dismal failure.

FORTY-TWO NEW HOMES BUILT

GLADSTONE SHOWS WONDERFUL PROGRESS DURING PAST
ELEVEN MONTHS

IMPROVEMENT COSTS ARE $50,000

Other Buildings Are Planned for Erection Before First of the Year by People of Wide Awake City

Forty-two new residences, erected or now in process of erection, at an average cost of over $1,000 each, is the remarkable record made at Gladstone since January 1, 1913, or to be more exact, in the past eleven months. The cost of the buildings will aggregate $50,000, and with several new homes to be started at once, it is thought the amount will have reached $60,000 by January 1, 1914. This will be a most enviable improvement record—even for cities much larger than Gladstone.

Spirit is Contagious.
The building spirit caught the Gladstonians early last spring and has been continuing steadily throughout the summer and fall months, and during practically all of the time, at least one dozen homes have been in process of construction at once. An unusual feature exists at the present time at the corner of Yale avenue and Arlington streets, where four bungalows are now being built, one each by B. T. McBain, W. W. Leete, C. A. Chambers and Carol Leete.

In addition to the list of those who have built or are building now, there are eight others who expect to start homes before January 1, 1914. The list of those who have constructed residences since the first of the years follows:

- List of New Homes.
- Frank Barlow, Gloucester St., $3000
 - Dave Cotto, Darnmouth St., 1500
 - Gill Russell, Dartmouth St., 1250

 - C. Nelson, 2500
 - James Prater, Arlington St., 1250
 - Mrs. Edwards, Arlington St., 1250
 - J. H. Gobbie, Arlington St., 1500
 - W. W. Leete, Arlington St., 2500
 - Coral Lette, Arlington St., 2000
 - C. A. Chambers, Arlington St., 2000
 - B. T. McBain, Arlington St., 1500
 - Guy LaSalle, Dartmouth St., 1500
 - Emil Nelson, Berkeley St., 1500
 - H. B. Miller, Arlington St., 500
 - D. C. Moore, Arlington St., 500
 - Chas. Legler, Arlington St., 600

Others Are Planned

Among those who will build in the near future are L. D. Mumpower, who expects to put up a $1500 home; J. W. Coburn, who will start work immediately on a $3500 residence, which will be one of the prettiest places in Gladstone; C. W. Riley, $1500; Ernest Shandy, $1200; P. S. Baker, $1500; L. L. Lydell, $500; and Bert Boardman and Frank Nelson who have not completely decided on their plans as yet.

Extensive street improvements, the securing of telephone and light franchises and the installation of street lights have been features of Gladstone's development the past few months, and the latest move among the progressive people of the thriving little place is to secure and plant several thousand shade trees along the streets.

SENATOR BOOTH?

EUGENE, Ore., Dec. 6.—The general desire for a straightforward man to represent Oregon in the United States senate culminated here this afternoon, in a remarkable demonstration, when neighbors and friends to the number of 200 went to the home of Robert A. Booth and formally asked him to become a candidate for the office, the highest within the gift of the people of Oregon.

Corpse Rises From Slab And Offers To Fight Crowd

To have a "dead" man jump up off the slab in his undertaking establishment and offer to fight any man in the place, was the unique experience of R. L. Holman Saturday. About three o'clock p. m. the undertaker received a call that there was a "dead" man at the Elkhorn stables and Holman sent a wagon to secure the body. The wagon returned and the corpse was placed on the slab.

Holman was suspicious for he had noticed a peculiar movement of the muscles which is not only unusual but also strange thing for a really "dead" man to do, so he sneaked around to the pedal extremities of the body and hit the feet of the "corpse" with a hammer. The "dead" man resisted such action and jumped up with surprising quickness.

It appears after an investigation, that a group of friends of the undertaker had bribed a stranger in the town to play "corpse" for the occasion.

ATTORNEY CLEARS MAN OF CHARGE OF MURDER

George C. Brownell returned Saturday night from McMinnville after clearing the defendant in the case of the state against Hutchins on the charge of murder in the first degree. The claim of self-defense was made in the trial. The indictment charged that he had killed Walter Rogers on August 2, 1913, shooting another man five times at the same fight.

TRIAL AGAIN POSTPONED

The trial of James Bliss and Frank Morgan, charged with robbing the post office at Willamette, has again been postponed from Saturday to Monday.

ELKS ARE IN MOURNING TODAY

MEMORIAL SERVICES WILL BE HELD AT TEMPLE FOR THE HONORED DEAD

SPECIAL PROGRAM IS ARRANGED

At Same Hour, Lodges In All Parts of the Country Will Have Same Exercises—Judge
Galloway Will Speak

More than 1300 lodges and over 400,000 Elks will celebrate today as Memorial Sunday, the annual day which all Elks hold sacred to those who have gone before. From coast to coast and in every state, the order of the Elks will become a lodge of sorrow and the living will spend the day in honoring the dead.

This afternoon all Elks with their friends and relatives are asked to meet in the Elks' temple on Water street between Sixth and Seventh streets. The services will be opened by Henry O'Malley, exalted ruler of the lodge and by a hymn, sung by the members. The invocation by C. W. Robinson will be followed by the song, "Not Dead, But Sleeping," which will be sung by the Oregon Male Quartet.

The memorial address will be given by Judge Charles V. Galloway, who is a member of the Salem lodge. Following this there will be a solo, "Eventide," by J. A. Taucher. Rev. C. W. Robinson will deliver the eulogy and the benediction.

Nemesis Doggedly Follows Peddlers Seventeen Miles

After tralling on foot three men from Oregon City to New Era, through the country to the east of New Era, and then back to this city, a total distance of 17 miles, Deputy Sheriff H. W. Streibig arrested them Saturday on a charge of selling within the city limits without a license.

Early in the afternoon Streibig learned that three men were selling hams in the northern part of the city and that several purchasers complained that the meat was underweight. The deputy sheriff set out at once on their trail, following them the full 17 miles on foot and completing a circuit that led through several towns and villages.

On his return to Oregon City Streibig secured an automobile and caught the trio between here and Gladstone. They were brought before William Stone and fined $15. The leader of the party was named P. Sullivan. The names of the others are unknown.

SCHOOL MATE TO PREACH

Rev. Paul Dalry, a friend and college mate of Rev. J. R. Landsborough who has been for the past 11 years in the Philippines, will spend Sunday in Oregon City and will speak in the Presbyterian church both morning and evening.

O, yes, there are roses and other flowers, but really, these are not quite what they were—and will be—in June.

The following are the members of the Oregon City lodge who have died: Ralph C. Dimick, W. E. Carl, O. Tonkin, Jr., E. T. Fields, W. A. Schewman, M. J. Lasselle, G. W. Bigham and E. S. Follansbee.

ITALIAN HELD IN JAIL FOR DEBT

Rigid Law Keeps Him From Going to the Sunny Isles of Italy and Throws Him in Prison of the County

Nick Hondruras, an Italian who worked in the Willamette Pulp & Paper company mill, was arrested Saturday by Constable Jack Frost on complaint that he was an absconding debtor. It is said that he had received $2000 for injuries in the mill, that he sent the money to his home in Italy, and had bought a ticket for that place while he still had bills outstanding.

In default of bail, he was given into the custody of the sheriff. J. Reece, charged with assault, upon Alleen Reece, was given a fine of $50 in the circuit court, one year in the county jail, sentence suspended, and 30 days in which to pay the fine.

Alonzo Haskins, committing acts tending to contribute to a minor's delinquency, pleaded not guilty, defaulted $500 bail, and was given into the care of the sheriff.

Erico Polo, daylight burglary at Lakewood, demurrer to indictment overruled, and will plead during the week.

Anyway, Huerta hung on a long time.
