O'MALLEY GETS APPOINTMENT

GIVEN JURISDICTION OVER ALL
FISHERIES OF COAST
DEPARTMENT

WORK PLEASES GOVERNMENT CHIEF

Heads at Washington Like Work that
He Has Done During the Years
He Has Spent in Office—
Stocks Streams

Henry O'Malley Monday received notice of his appointment as field superintendent of the United States Bureau of Fisheries and has been placed in charge of all the fish cultural work of the bureau for the entire Pacific coast, embracing the water of Oregon, Washington, California and Alaska.

He expects to maintain his headquarters at Oregon City for the present, though later it may be necessary to move to Seattle because of the importance of the Puget Sound work and the extent of the Alaskan field. Mr. O'Malley's successor in charge of the Clackamas station and sub-station has not yet been named, though he has been recommended.

Was at Baker Lake. Mr. O'Malley came to Oregon City January 1, 1907, having been transferred from the position of superintendent of the Baker Lake, Wash., station, which he, in four years, had built from a small plant to one of the most important and best equipped hatcheries on the coast. His success at that station decided his transfer to the Clackamas station, where, under his direction, the egg take has steadily increased until this year when a grand total of over 53,000,000 salmon and trout eggs were secured and nearly 3,000,000 shad eggs.

The Clackamas field includes the Big White Salmon river and the Little White Salmon, in Washington, bordering on the Columbia river, the River Mill station on the Clackamas below Estacada; Elk Creek station on the Upper Rogue river; Lower Rogue river hatchery situated a few miles below Medford; the Applegate Creek station and Illinois River station, on

TOWN GETS BUG FOR NEW PARKS

HAS GREAT AMBITIONS TO BUILD
REST PLACES FOR ITS CHILDREN

TO SPRING A BEAUTIFUL SCHEME

Charming, Restful Parks and Heavily
Planted Streets With Other
Attractive Features Are
To be Included

With an eye to the future, the people of West Linn have started to plan for public parks although the charter of the new city has not yet been adopted and the town has had a few months.

It is planned to secure blocks and tracks now while the land is cheap and develop them as the city grows. It is thought that system of park blocks and boulevards would add greatly to the attractiveness of the city.

Beautiful View.

West Linn has naturally a beautiful view of the Willamette river, the lowlands of the east side, and the foothills which gradually rise into the mountains of the coast range. On a clear day several snow cap mountains can be seen.

With such scenic advantages, combined with the almost ideal lay of the land, it is thought that parks can be made which will rival any in this section of the state.

One Central Park.

It is probable that there will be a large central park and that, scattered through the city, there will be a number of park blocks. With these parks established, a system of boulevards will be built to connect them. They will be laid out in such a way so as to bring out the all scenic advantages that are possible of the hill.

The hill side is rocky and it would probably be difficult to level the park sites and to cover the surface with soil. Many favor the plan of leaving the rocks in their natural condition. They hold that this would greatly enhance the beauty of the park and at the same time would be much cheap-

CITY IN THROES OF PNEUMONIA ATTACKS

Oregon City is in the grip of an epidemic of pneumonia, probably the worst in the history of the city, according to the opinion of various physicians and County Health Officer Van Brakle.

In every part of the city cases are reported. Doctors are kept busy answering calls. New cases are reported every day and the number increases every twenty-four hours.

One doctor alone has over ten cases in and around this city. It would be almost impossible to correctly estimate the number of persons ill with pneumonia in Oregon City but it is certain that the number would be large.

Pneumonia, in many cases, is the outgrowth of the "grip." Combined with the condition of the weather, it is probably largely responsible for the number of cases.

No decisive step has been taken by either the county health officer or by the individual doctors as pneumonia is not contagious.

ENTERTAINMENT TO BE GIVEN

Redland, Ore., Dec. 16.—(Special)—Fir Grove school at Redland will give a historical pageant representing old English customs Friday evening, December 19. The Redland brass band will assist the students by furnishing the music for the occasion. No admission will be charged.

Offer Received.

An offer has been made by the Moody Investment company to sell seven acres to the school district for a school and park site. This would be the first step of the system and it would be around this central park that the final complete and connected plan would be built.

It is with an eye to the future that the people of this city are planning these parks. At the present time there is practically no use for a park or public play grounds but as the city grows and the population increases it is said that the need for parks will be felt.

Hist! Chief Shaw Has Got Clue to Tobacco Sellers

"I have the names of a number of boys who have been seen lately with cigarettes and I also have the names of two Oregon City cigar stores who have, I believe, sold tobacco to minors in the past. I intend to use these lists." This was the statement of Chief Shaw to an Enterprise reporter Monday.

"It is almost impossible for either the officers or myself to catch the dealers selling tobacco to boys and in the same way it is seldom that I can see a minor smoke because we are known as representatives of the law and the mere sight of one of us is enough to put the dealer and boy on guard. For this reason, I ask the cooperation of each and every citizen who wishes to see this law enforced." The chief would not state definitely if any arrest would be made but he acknowledged that he was keeping a close watch on two Oregon City stores and that sensational developments might materialize at any time. He also has a list of boys who are known to usually be supplied with tobacco.

CLERK'S OFFICE HAS ITS BIGGEST DAY IN HISTORY

Never in the history of the office of the county clerk have the fees multiplied as rapidly as they did Monday when the deputies received $70 for filing papers in the circuit and probate courts.

The business for the day is a record breaker. Several papers were filed and a great deal of routine business transacted by the clerk's office through the day. The fees that the office collects come from the filing of papers that are to pass through the judicial grist in both courts.

"REAL MUSIC AT LAST"

Records from $1 Upwards

THE DIAMOND AND THE DISC

Changeable needles or points are not used. The reproducing point which traverses the record is a genuine diamond, permanently mounted; it is never changed and never wears.

RECORDS

The records are in the disc form, of a material which is new in chemistry and of so great hardness as to permit the reproduction of the myriad of faint overtones which alone give quality to music. These records are truly indestructible. The method of recording these new Edison records is also new, and the processes of manufacture are unique and new in every detail.

SPECIAL MOTOR

The mechanism of this new instrument is powerful, and is governed as accurately as a chronometer in order that the pitch shall at all times be accurately reproduced.
