DISTINCTION THROUGH DULL GOLD CRESCENTS ON A CREAM DUVETYN VEST

Individuality in dress does not necessarily mean that one must wear something entirely different from what is being worn, but that there must be something about our clothing that is characteristic of our own personality. It may be a blending of colors that are becoming, and it may be in the judicious choosing of accessories, hats, shoes, gloves and the other trifles that go to complete a costume.

The woman of discrimination and taste, no matter how limited her dress allowance may be, has as good a chance to appear as well-dressed, or perhaps better, than the woman with the well-filled purse, as she is obliged to think and plan carefully for her wardrobe each season.

8058 is a semi-tailored frock fashioned of bronze colored eponge with a waist-coat of cream duvetyn, over which is a sprinkling of dull gold crescents.

The wash is of dull gold satin and the buttons are cream colored bone, thus reproducing the same color motifs.

This dress may be copied in size 36 with 6 1/2 yards of 36 inch material and 1/2 yard of silk for trimming.

8052 is a girl's coat made of seal brown velvet with collar and belt of oddly figured silk.

It may be made in size 6 with 1 1/2 yards of 36 inch material and 1 yard of bias silk for trimming.

No. 8058—sizes 34 to 42.
No. 8052—sizes 2 to 10.
Each pattern 15 cents.

Current Happenings of Interest in and About Oregon City

RS. N. C. Humphry was assisted in entertaining for the Bithiah class at her home in West Linn, Monday evening, by Mrs. Mina McDonald. The rooms were prettily decorated for the occasion with cut flowers and ferns.

After the business session, games and music were features of the evening's entertainment. The members who enjoyed Mrs. Humphry's hospitality were: Misses Molly Rose, Mabel Meyers, Anna Meyers, Erma Draper, Nettie Kruse and Maud Perkins and Mesdames Emma Johnston, Daisy Mollert, Malva Bolle and Cleo Hughes.

The next regular meeting of the class will be held at the home of the Misses Meyer in Gladstone.

ACT IN THE PRESENT.

It is a very pleasant thing to entertain the picture of ourselves in some future scene, planning wisely, feeling nobly and executing with the holy triumph of the will, but it is a different thing, not in the green avenues of the future, but in the hot dust of the present moment, to do the duty that waits and wants us.

What it Does Do.

GLASS OF SALTS IF YOUR KIDNEYS HURT

Eat less meat if you feel Backachy or have Bladder trouble—Salts fine for Kidneys.

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the back or sick headache, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush of the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.

NEW CREAMERY TO ENTER FIELD

ery here.

In conference with Secretary Freytag of the commercial club Tuesday, the manufacturer told his plans for the new factory and spoke of the advantages that this city offers to the maker of butter and cheese. The weekly demand for butter alone here is more than 2500 pounds and the milk and cheese trade has hardly been more than touched, he believes.

Small Plant First.

Though he does not plan to put in a large plant at first, he thinks that he will be able to meet the demand for his product and that he can later enlarge the plant to the size that is required for his market. In the almost untouched territory around Molalla and other rural points, he plans to reach for the business that he thinks is there. Molalla has been making a special effort for sometime to get a creamery of its own after the old one went out of business.

Mr. Morgan, however, believes that he can handle the entire trade of the country through the city and that he will be able to bring the milk here and care for it without going to the smaller towns. He would establish receiving stations at these points and would place a man in charge of them to take the milk that the farmers brought along the route and delivered to the concern.

Several at Work.

Already, there are a number of creameries doing business through the county and in this part of the state. The new factory would not invade the present territory but would expect to handle such business as the other companies did not get. Those who have studied the situation believe that there is room in the city and county for at least one more creamery and that routes could be established that would bring in the milk products of these farms to the new concern.

The companies that have already entered the field have been making strenuous efforts for sometime to get more cattle into the county and to make the dairy industry a bigger feature of the business. They have encouraged the farmers to buy the best grade of cattle from the eastern dairy centers and have done all that they could to assist in making the selection for them.

Has Same Scheme.

The new company would plan to work along the same lines. Its manager believes that the county and his own business can best be developed with the aid of the farmers and that the dairy industry should be one of the biggest in the territory.

Besides the milks that would be handled, there would be many by-products. Butter, cheese, cream, buttermilk and other products would be placed on the market. The company thinks that the city is the center of this business and that its proximity to Portland will give the creameries both the local and the foreign markets to supply.

loon at 422 Main street and ordered his officers to keep a close watch on the building. Tuesday morning he determined to search the rooms. There is a door between the saloon and the two rooms covered by a curtain. The chief asked Buse for a key and the latter unlocked the door. But there was a catch on the inside which held the door fast although the key was turned.

The two men, Shaw and Buse, shook the door and demanded that it be unlocked until Kerr, awakened by the noise, looked through the small glass at the top and saw the chief. Kerr works until late at night and was asleep when the cries of the two of the saloon side of the door awakened him.

Chief Impatient.

Kerr asked for time to dress but Shaw and Buse continued to demand that the door be unlocked and rattled the door, it is said. At last, Kerr opened the door and the room was searched with the result that neither the officer or the saloon-keeper could find a trace of any gambling article.

The two rooms, which are on the ground floor, are rented to Mr. and Mrs. Kerr by Mrs. Kearney, the landlady. The latter rents the entire building from Buse, excepting that part occupied by the saloon.

Official Wrath Appeared.

After Shaw and Buse were satisfied that they could find nothing in the rooms of the Kerr family, they went up to the second floor and found Mrs. Kearney. They asked her if there was "any gambling going on" in the building and she replied that there was not.

When an officer searches the private living rooms of any persons he put himself liable to damage suit, according to a prominent local attorney. "Every man's home is his own castle and can not be searched without proper papers," the lawyer explained.

Chief Shaw claims that he did not know that the rooms were the living rooms and that he thought that they were used merely for storing purposes. He issued the following statement:

Chief Tells His Story.

"I heard that there was gambling going on in Buse's saloon in the back part and Friday night I came down here and night Officer George Woodward and I watched the house but there was nothing going on that night. I told him to keep close watch with Officer Lee French and if they saw anything suspicious going on they were to call me up. Nothing happened."

"Last night I heard that there were games running in there, so this morning I went in about nine o'clock to Mr. Buse, the owner of the saloon and asked him if he rented all the building and sub-rented it and he said 'yes.' I asked him if he had a key to the door between the saloon and the rooms in the back and he replied that he had. He unlocked the door but was fastened on the inside and he knocked on the door. A man pulled the curtain on the door aside and Buse said, 'Open

Frost Has Names of Boys Who Get Weed From Local Stores

"I have the names of almost 60 boys in Oregon City who smoke," said Juvenile Officer Jack Frost Tuesday.

"The campaign, being carried on by certain persons in this city, has my hearty support and I will do everything in my power to help put down the evil. Under the present laws governing the sale of tobacco to minors, it is impossible for the local police officers to make any arrest on this charge. An ordinance is being framed with the Portland ordinance as a model which will give the police the power to make arrests on either the charge of selling tobacco to minors or minors who have it in their possession.

It is probable that this new ordinance will be passed by the city council within the next ten days or two weeks and after that time the local officers can make arrests at any time.

"The Portland system provides that when a boy is caught with tobacco in his possession he can be arrested and held until he tells the place he secured it. It is only by such a plan that the evil can best be regulated."

The right sort of person can do well anywhere, but nowhere on earth better than in Oregon.

SH-H! LADIES! SECRET TO DARKEN FADED GRAY HAIR—USE SAGE TEA

Sage Mixed with Sulphur Restores Natural Color and Luster to Hair.

Why suffer the handicap of looking old? Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks dry, frizzy and scraggly just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred fold.

Either prepare the tonic at home or get from any drug store a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," ready to use, but listen, avoid preparations put up by druggists, as they usually use too much sulphur, which makes the hair sticky. Get "Wyeth's," which can always be depended upon to darken beautifully and is the best thing known to remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair.

By using Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur no one can possibly tell that you darken your hair. It does it so naturally and evenly—you moisten a sponge or soft brush, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time, which requires but a few moments. Do this at night and by morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two its natural color is restored and it becomes glossy and lustrous and you appear years younger.
