DRINK MORE WATER IF KIDNEYS BOTHER

Eat less meat and take Salts for Backache or Bladder trouble-Neutralizes acids.

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys they become overworked; get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek re-lief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush off the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad. matic twinges when the weather is bad. Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot in-jure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

Loring in Outing.

A. Taylor says that James was untiring in his efforts toward the realization of a good Scottish fleet. In 1511 the building of the St. Michael, "a very monstrous great ship." was completed. "All the woods in Fife, save one, had been laid waste to build her," and material was also imported from Norway. According to Lindsay, this wonder ship, which was 240 feet long and 36 broad, "cumbered all Scotland to get her to the sea." Her sides were feet thick within walls of oak.

and she cost the king, all told, some £40,000. He paid her daily visits when supping on board, and exhibiting her to the lords and ladies he brought with him. Henry VIII. was covetous of her, but when the singular request was preferred that James "would grant Henry the loan of the apple of his eye, the great St. Michael, the he would make peace with France he might command all his ships." I believe if you had to write to the biggest ass in the world you would take greater care. I threw your last letter into the fire because I could not read it. I cannot therefore reply. Insurance and Assurance They were talking, the little group of agents, about the words insurance

At one period of his boyhood Macau lay's fancy was much exercised by the threats and terrors of the law. He had a little plot of ground at the back of the house marked out as his own by a row of oyster shells, which a maid one day threw away as rubbish. He went straight to the drawing room, where his mother was entertaining some visitors, walked into the circle and said very solemnly. Chum Saved Himself.

A little dog, unlicensed, had been found in the streets and taken to the pound. He was an affectionate animal and greatly endeared himself to all about the place. They called him Chum, and he joyfully responded whenever his name was spoken. As the days passed, other poor, homeless dogs were put to death. Finally came Chum's last day of grace, and no one had come to claim him. The next morning dawned, and the man who was to kill Chum called him into the yard. Chum danced and wagged his tail, no doubt thinking something good was in store for him. The man then said: "Well, Chummy, your time has come. You'd better say your prayers." Immediately the little forepaws were crossed, the little head bowed, and Chum said his prayers. As the she lay in the roads, often dining and little body was still in this attitude of reverence a step was heard. The attendant looked up and saw the superintendent standing there. A Novelty In Strikes.

The management of a traveling theatrical company demanded 2 shillings for admission. The visitors did not propose to pay more than 1 shilling and after a hasty consultation outside the entrance formed a "theater goers' union." As fishing is practically the only work done there the missionary had probably said to them, Do not put out your fish nets on Sunday, meaning thereby 'Do not work the prohibition came to our community in the form 'God has said you must not use fish nets on Sunday.' MARKET QUOTATIONS HOG KEY TO MEAT FAMINE OF COUNTRY

(Western Stock Journal.) There has been considerable warning given by prominent persons and government officials who have made a study of the supply and demand of the meat question in this country un-Ger the belief that we were facing a shortage in the supply to meet the de-

That owing to the rapid increase of the population and the decrease of the meat producing animals of the United States, were approaching a very critical period. Furthermore the fencing up the free range on government lands, compell-

This necessitates the farmer in making a greater effort to build up his soil to grow the steer and to enlarge his herds of swine.

The hog has the advantage in many way of proving himself the key to the meat supply. He annually increases from 500 to a possible 1500 per cent; whereas the steer and sheep are from 60 to a possible 80 per cent. While the hog is ready for market in six or eight months, the steer requires two years. The hog again is a gleaner and saver by using the by-products of the creamery, of the beet factory and of the waste from the table known as garbage in cities. No other animal will gather the mast or glean the grain in the fields or the fallen fruit of the orchard. Again he will make twice the num ber of pounds of meat from a bushel of corn or grain that the steer will.

This is starting up a fresh impetus from the country for hog growing. The South, the West and the Northwest are taking from the corn and hog belt and producing pork in many instances much cheaper than it can be made in the corn states. Again we see that the cities all over the country are establishing for the feeding of garbage which is gathered up, assorted, cooked and fed, maintaining large numbers of hogs from what has heretofore been very largely waste. The experts of the Department of Agriculture are studying the situation and endeavoring to get at the bottom of the trouble and suggest the remedy. They have just issued a bulletin advocating increased hog production on the irrigated farms of the West, that pork production be made an adjunct to the creamery wherever conditions permit. They state that the irrigation farmers have a splendid opportunity for the profitable production of pork of the high quality. Pigs, they state, can be raised at a minimum cost on tional guards because he was unable alfalfa and then be finished on grain to produce his card of citizenship, as such as barley and peas.
