LOOK OUT FOR CATARRH

When the cold wave flag is up, freezing weather is on the way. Winter is here in earnest, and with it all the miserable symptoms of Catarrh return—blinding headaches and neuralgia, thick mucous discharges from the nose and throat, a hacking cough and pain in the chest, bad taste in the mouth, fetid breath, nausea and all that makes Catarrh the most sickening and disgusting of all complaints. It causes a feeling of personal defilement and mortification that keeps one nervous and anxious while in the company of others.

In spite of all efforts to prevent it, the filthy secretions and mucous matter find their way into the stomach and are distributed by the blood to every nook and corner of the system; the stomach and kidneys, in fact every organ and part of the body, become infected with the catarrhal poison. This disease is rarely, if ever, even in its earliest stages, a purely local disease or simple inflammation of the nose and throat, and this is why sprays, washes, powders and the various inhaling mixtures fail to cure. Heredity is sometimes back of it—parents have it and so do their children.

In the treatment of Catarrh, anti-septic and soothing washes are good for cleansing purposes or clearing the head and throat, but this is the extent of their usefulness. To cure Catarrh permanently, the blood must be purified and the system relieved of its load of foul secretions, and the remedy to accomplish this is S. S. S., which has no equal as a blood purifier. It restores the blood to a natural, healthy state and the catarrhal poison and effete matter are carried out of the system through the proper channels. S. S. S. restores to the blood all its good qualities, and when rich, pure blood reaches the inflamed membrane and is carried through the portions of the body, they soon heal, the mucous discharges cease and the patient is relieved of the most offensive and humiliating of all complaints.

S. S. S. is a vegetable remedy and contains nothing that could injure the most delicate constitution. It cures Catarrh in its most aggravated forms, and cases apparently incurable and hopeless. Write us if you have Catarrh, and our physicians will advise you without charge.

THE HOW AND WHY.
Much you may have guessed about life insurance may be wrong. Mr. H. C. Lippincott, of Philadelphia, one of the most foremost insurance authorities of the age, has copyrighted a little book entitled "The How and Why." It has been adopted by several Eastern colleges to teach the first principles of life insurance, and may be had free by addressing Sherman and Harmon, general agents Penn Mutual Life Insurance Co., Morgan building, Portland, Ore. It may help you to understand how and why the Penn Mutual during 1902 wrote a larger amount of insurance in Oregon than ever before written in the state by any company in one year.

SENATOR HOPKINS' "RED HEAD."

How It Gave Him His First Start in Congressional Legislation.

When ex-Congressman Albert J. Hopkins of Illinois took his oath in Washington as United States Senator as the successor of William E. Mason, he saw realized the ambition of many years. In his early years, when only a lad of 7 or 8, he visited a court room with his father, who had been summoned as a juror, and he then and there determined to be a lawyer. Later, in his young manhood, he conceived the ambition of becoming a United States Senator. The first ambition was long ago realized and for many years Mr. Hopkins has been a leader at the bar of Kane County. And now the second ambition has been realized.

Senator Hopkins has been a member of Congress since 1885 and has served on many of its important committees. He helped frame the Dingley tariff bill and has taken an active part in financial and revenue measures.

It was his "red head" that first gave him his start as a congressional lawmaker. When he first entered Congress he met the fate of all "youngsters" in not being able to catch the Speaker's eye, and thus the stack of bills for which he wished to gain consideration by the House remained unshifted upon the calendar. For every move in forwarding any one of "them" the recognition of the chair was necessary, but all efforts to interest the Speaker were as useless as it would be to get a nod of recognition or assent from a snow man made by school boys.

In his plight he was almost in despair, as his chance for a renomination to Congress was then in the balance. It was at this time that the brilliant "Sunset" Cox became temporary Speaker and Mr. Hopkins resolved to "cultivate" him. Cox was an inimitable story teller and raconteur; Hopkins was a good listener. When Speaker Cox was telling one of his stories Hopkins would take a prominent place in front of the Speaker's desk. Nobody laughed more heartily at the "Sunset" stories and jests. His "red head" had "caught" the unofficial eye of the Speaker and at last he had hopes of catching the "official" eye.

One day when Mr. Cox was in a particularly jovial mood the young member from Kane County introduced his bill for the cession of the Fox river islands to the town of Aurora and moved for its passage "by unanimous consent, under suspension of the rules."

"Why, bless your fine red head," exclaimed Acting Speaker Cox, "I would not refuse to recognize you from any quarter of the House. Every time I see those, Auburn locks of yours I have pleasant visions of a red-haired girl I used to know in school. For her sake you, with that head, can always have the recognition of this chair. The gentleman from Illinois has the floor."

Although a peal of laughter greeted the recognition, Mr. Hopkins was not sensitive and he held the floor. Five minutes later his resolution had been passed. The Fox river islands were Aurora's proud possession and the young Congressman had so strengthened himself with his home city that the future support of the inhabitants was always at his command.

Senator Hopkins' home in Illinois is at Aurora. He has three sons and one daughter, Miss Fannie, who, with her mother, is prominent in the society life of Washington.

Schoolboy Answers.
Here are some games of schoolboy answers to examination problems culled by University Correspondence in London:

"John Wesley was a great sea captain. He b at the Dutch at Waterloo and by degrees rose to be the Duke of Wellington. He was buried near Nelson, in the Poet's Corner in Westminster Abbey."

Asked to name six animals peculiar to the Arctic region, a boy replied: "Three bears and three seals."

"The Sublime Porte is a very fine old wine."

"The possessive case is the case when somebody has got yours and won't give it to you."

"The plural of penny is twopence."
"In the sentence, 'I saw the goat butt the man,' butt is a conjunction, because it shows the connection between the goat and the man."

"Mushrooms always grow in damp places, and so they look like umbrellas."

"The difference between water and air is that air can be made wetter, but water cannot."

A busy man seldom has time to realize how happy he is.

A prominent Southern lady, Mrs. Blanchard, of Nashville, Tenn., tells how she was cured of backache, dizziness, painful and irregular periods by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"Gratitude compels me to acknowledge the great merit of your Vegetable Compound. I have suffered for four years with irregular and painful menstruation, also dizziness, pains in the back and lower limbs, and fitful sleep. I dreaded the time to come which would only mean suffering to me. Six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brought me health and happiness in a few short months, and was worth more than months under the doctor's care, which really did not benefit me at all. I feel like another person now. My aches and pains have left me. I am satisfied there is no medicine so good for sick women as your Vegetable Compound, and I advocate it to my lady friends in need of medical help."—Mrs. B. A. BLANCHARD, 429 Broad St., Nashville, Tenn.—$5000. Full if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

When women are troubled with menstrual irregularities, weakness, leucorrhoea, displacement or ulceration of the womb, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation of the ovaries, backache, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

THE MEN AND WOMEN

Who Enjoy the Choicest Products of the World's Commerce.

Knowledge of What Is Best More Important Than Wealth Without It.

It must be apparent to every one that qualities of the highest order are necessary to enable the best of the products of modern commerce to attain permanently to universal acceptance. However loudly heralded, they may not hope for world-wide preeminence unless they meet with the general approval, not of individuals only, but of the many who have the happy faculty of selecting, enjoying and learning the real worth of the choicest products. Their commendation, consequently, becomes important to others, since to meet the requirements of the well informed of all countries the method of manufacture must be of the most perfect order and the combination the most excellent of its kind. The above is true not of food products only, but is especially applicable to medicinal agents and after nearly a quarter of a century of growth and general use the excellent remedy, Syrup of Figs, is everywhere accepted, throughout the world, as the best of family laxatives. Its quality is due not only to the excellence of the combination of the laxative and carminative principles of plants known to act most beneficially on the system and presented in the form of a pleasant and refreshing liquid, but also to the method of manufacture of the California Fig Syrup Co., which ensures that uniformity and purity essential in a remedy intended for family use. Ask any physician who is well informed and he will answer at once that it is an excellent laxative. If at all eminent in his profession and has made a special study of laxatives and their effects upon the system he will tell you that it is the best of family laxatives, because it is simple and wholesome and cleanses and sweetens the system effectually, when a laxative is needed, without any unpleasant after-effects. Every well-informed druggist of reputable standing knows that Syrup of Figs is an excellent laxative and is glad to sell it, at the regular price of fifty cents per bottle, because it gives general satisfaction, but one should remember that in order to get the beneficial effects of Syrup of Figs it is necessary to buy the genuine, which is sold in original packages only; the name of the remedy—Syrup of Figs and also the full name of the company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of every package.
