B. Long has been re-elected principal of the Brownsville public school. He has held the position for two years, and his re-election to the place is in recognition of his popularity and ability as an instructor. —The lot south of the old Evangelical church was sold at sheriff's sale Saturday. It brought $254.45, which was the amount of the mortgage and costs. The property was bought by A. E. Laws, plaintiff in the suit. —E. J. Garrow arrived Friday from California. The trip home was made on account of a severe attack of la gripe, but at last accounts, Mr. Garrow was greatly improved. Joseph Garrow is temporarily located at Dunsmuir, California, as bookkeeper for a large lumbering firm. —The Corvallis youth has been at large all this week and will so continue until tomorrow. The three days closing of the public schools is on account of the annual county institute now in session at Philomath. All the schools of the county are closed during the period, as by law required. —A letter received announces that Mrs. E. B. Hornung was able Monday to be out of bed in a Portland hospital for the first time since the operation four weeks or more ago. She is rapidly convalescent and the prospects for permanent relief very bright. Seven weeks must elapse after the date of the operation before she can leave the hospital. —Joseph Howard arrived Sunday from Silver Lake, Southeastern Oregon, and is to remain ten days. Last year he sold his extensive interests in Crook county, and is now engaged in cattle raising at Silver Lake, where he has a band of 2,500 head. His cattle graze on leased lands, the ranges in that country having been exhausted. Mr. Howard pays about $2,500 per year for leased lands. Mrs. Howard is to accompany him on the return trip to Eastern Oregon. —Three Corvallisites returned Saturday from Southern Oregon, where they located timber claims. They were Rev. Carlick, James Tedrow and Harry Clodfelter. Each selected a quarter section of fine timber land near Grants Pass. In the same party were two men from Monmouth, who also secured claims. The land has been surveyed but is not yet open to entry, and only squatters' rights could be taken. It is expected to be subject to filing in a couple of months. The timber is extra fine, some quarters cruising as high as nine million feet. The claims were located under the direction of Mr. Clodfelter. —There was a very pleasant occasion Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Bardon, who reside in the Sylvester house near the public school building. Saturday was the 82nd birthday of Mr. Bardon, and the Fayette, Iowa, colony in Corvallis surprised him in his own home in honor of the event. There was a dinner and a flow of kindly feeling such as would naturally characterize a reunion of old neighbors far from their former home. The day was greatly enjoyed by all. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Colbert, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Fowells, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. Augusta Bardon, Mrs. Lucy Francisco and Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Bardon.

The Philomath band having submitted the lowest bid for four days' playing, the committee awarded the contract to that band. —There is to be an end to the practice of taking deficiency judgment in sales of property under mortgage foreclosure. For a long time deficiency judgments have been rendered in the courts, and many a debtor has seen his property go under the hammer without satisfying the debt. The bid at the sale was made only a part of the mortgage and costs, and for the balance deficiency judgment was taken and made to hang over the mortgagor for all time, unless thereafter paid. The late legislature, however, passed a law which prohibits the practice, by making the proceeds of the sale, whatever they be, a full satisfaction of the mortgage, or note or obligation against the property. —A very pleasant dancing party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Rickard Friday evening, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Rickard. FOXY JIM.

The Football man—Is Cunning, but his Friends—They Know all.

The signs are unmistakable. It's to be a wedding. The father arrived Sunday. The mother is already here. In Portland there is a six-footer or more, who, not many moons ago, was a popular student at OAC. His arrival in Corvallis is expected at any time. He is to come, unheralded and unannounced. It is his plan to be cunning and fool everybody. Even the football boys have not been informed. All of them know about it however, though they don't know the exact day or hour. They think it may happen this morning. The tall man they say is to arrive after nightfall, so as to be unobserved. As to the bride, she is a popular graduate, who finished her work at OAC last year. She spent Christmas holidays this year at San Francisco. She is well known and very much admired by everybody. Lots of friends join the TIMES in extending good wishes, thus, in advance.

Lost. Thursday on the streets of Corvallis, a white buggy robe. Suitable reward will be paid for its return to the undersigned.

Joseph Yates, Corvallis.
