WASHED CITY AWAY.

TERRORS OF A FLOOD IN SOUTH CAROLINA.

Four Thousand People Are Out of Employment on Account of Destruction by Water of Cotton Mills—Many Homeless—Other News.

Augusta, Ga., June 6.—A report has reached here from Pacolet, S. C., that Mill No. 1 of the Pacolet company was completely washed away by a cloud burst. The Pacolet river has overflowed its banks and Mill No. 2 is in great danger. Many miles of lowland are flooded and great damage has been done. Reports conflict as to whether there was any loss of life or not.

A later report says Mill No. 2 has been swept away and another one further down the river has been destroyed, while a fourth is in danger. A church, hotel and livery stable at Pacolet were also destroyed.

A later report says that 33 persons were drowned at Spartansburg, S. C. Clifton Mill No. 4 was washed away in addition to the two Pacolet mills. The greatest loss of life occurred in the Clifton district. All rivers in the western portion of South Carolina are on a rampage. Railroad bridges are washed away and all wires are down. There is 60 feet of water in the Pacolet river, which is usually a small stream, barely large enough to turn the mill wheels. The property loss has already reached $1,500,000. Two thousand bales of manufactured goods were washed away when the mills were destroyed. Western Union Telegraph Company reports the loss of practically all its wires and poles in the vicinity of Spartansburg. Telephone communication is out of the question.

Columbia, S. C., June 6.—Reports received here just now from Spartansburg say the loss of life will probably exceed 50. The greatest number suffered death at the Clifton Mills, above the Pacolet Mills. A hotel and a number of residences washed away by the water, which came out of the mountains like a giant millrace. The mills were largely owned by New England capitalists.

At mill No. 3 one-half of the picker room and five stories on the left side of the main building were washed away. The main building, supported by a thick wall, is still standing. The dam at No. 3 is intact. The boiler room has gone, but the smokestack is yet standing. All the machinery in this mill is ruined. At Glendale four warehouses filled with cotton and cotton products were swept away along with the dam across Lawson's Fork and the trestle of the City Electric Railway. The mill at Glendale was not materially damaged.

At converse the main building of the Clifton factory collapsed, and the flood rose till the second floor of the mill was under four feet of water, 40 or 50 feet above the ordinary stage. The Converse mill is utterly demolished, nothing standing but the picker-room building, which is badly wrecked. Clifton mill No. 3 also lost its boiler room, engine room and smokestack.

Spartansburg, S. C., June 6.—So many wires are down and communication of all sorts is so thoroughly demoralized that it is impossible to form any definite calculation of the loss of life in today's cloudburst and the resultant floods. The mortality list may go to 150, but the more conservative estimates place it somewhere around 40 or 50. The total property loss in the entire section laid waste by the storm is likely to aggregate $2,000,000. The loss at Pacolet is placed at $1,000,000. More than 500 people are homeless and 4000 out of employment.

There was no wind and no damage by lightning, the loss all being by water. This fell in veritable torrents, converting the surface of the earth into a sheer lake of raging waters; rivers overflowed their banks to heights never before known; creeks became rivers, and small rivulets raging torrents, wiping out everything in their course. Railroad bridges were torn from

EAT HUMAN FLESH.

FAMINE IN CHINESE PROVINCE PRESENTS TERRIBLE CONDITIONS.

Illinois People Hang and Then Burn A Negro Schoolmaster—He Had Shot the School Superintendent and the Burning was White Men's Revenge.

Washington, June 6.—The Christian Herald today transmitted to Assistant Secretary of State Loomis a check for $10,000 for the establishment of a relief fund for the famine sufferers in the Chinese province of Kwang Si. Mr Loomis deposited the money here and notified United States Consul-General McWade at Canton that he may draw for the amount of the check. Every report that comes to the State Department either by mail or cable, contains the most pathetic stories of extreme destitution prevailing in Kwang Si, leading to the commission of unnatural crimes, such as the sale of daughters into concubinage, and there are even hints of cannibalism.

Belleville, Ill., June 6.—W. T. Wyatt, a negro school teacher, was lynched here tonight for shooting and mortally wounding County Superintendent Charls Hertel, of St. Clair County. Hertel had refused to renew the teaching certificate of Wyatt, and the negro came into his office and attacked him. Wyatt was immediately arrested and taken to jail. Two hours later a mob swarmed the jail, secured the negro and despite the appeals of the mayor and other officials, he was hanged.

Superintendent Hertel was removed to the hospital, where the physicians probed for the bullet, but he stated there is no chance for his recovery.

A young man named Felder was in the office when the shooting occurred. He grappled with Wyatt, but the negro beat him off with the butt of his revolver, inflicting a severe scalp wound. Before he was hanged Wyatt asserted the shooting was the result of a political grudge.

The mob hanged Wyatt to a telephone pole in the public square. Even while his body was jerking in the throes of death from strangulation, members of the mob began building a fire at the foot of the pole. The flames flared up and licked at the feet of the victim, but this did not satisfy the mob, and another and larger fire was started. When it had been burning briskly the negro still half alive, was cut down and after being covered with coal oil, he was thrust into the fire. Moans of pain were heard from the half-dead victim of the mob, and these served to further infuriate his torturers. They fell upon him with clubs and knives and cut and beat the being almost to pieces, and not until every sign of life had departed did they desist and permit the flames to devour the body. As the fire lighted up the scene the members of the mob stood around the fire hurling more fagots of wood into the flames and denouncing the negro for the shooting.

Morristown, N. J., June 5.—A little fox terrier created a commotion here in the store of George C. Smith today. The dog had been hanging around all day and suddenly went mad. He began chasing Mr. Smith and the clerks. They barricaded themselves behind cracker boxes, cheese boxes, etc., and pelted him with lemons and canned goods, but failed to drive him out. The police were telephoned for. A fat sergeant and fatter roundsman came on the scene and were more badly frightened than the men in the store.

Just as the policemen turned and ran, the dog jumped into an open cracker box. The lid was slammed down before he could jump out. Funeral services were conducted in the grocery store yard.
