

ROY RABER'S DREDGE.

HAS BEEN BUILT IN PORTLAND AND SHIPPED TO SNAKE RIVER.

Machinery for It Costs Fifty Thousand Dollars—Goes to Glenn's Ferry, Idaho, for Operation—Other News.

Portland, July 11.—The Oregonian says: Joseph Supple will ship four car loads of the parts of a dredge today for Glenn's Ferry, on Snake River, Idaho, and will follow this shipment up with men and material for setting up the dredge at that place. This dredge is for mining on the sand bars in Snake River, and it will be the largest and most complete ever built for the Snake River. It contains some apparatus for saving the fine gold in the bars in the river.

The dredge is for N. L. Raber & Company. It will be 40x100 feet in dimension, and will be very strongly built. Mr. Raber is now in Chicago ordering the machinery, which alone will cost $50,000. Mr. Supple said yesterday that the company which Mr. Raber represents has ample means, and so much confidence in Mr. Raber's new methods in dredge construction that it has furnished him with all the money required to build and equip the boat as a first-class gold saver.

Mr. Raber says that the dredges on Snake River use more gold than they save, but he has developed some new ideas by which he is confident that he will change all this and save the fine gold in these river bars. In the single item of sifting and sluicing in the new dredge 3000 feet of burlap is used, while in the other dredges not more than 300 feet is used. The parts of the boat have about all been made here, and will be quicky put together at Glenn's Ferry. With the improvements in the way of saving the fine gold abounding in the sandbars on Snake River there will be a revolution in this kind of mining.

A small launch and a barge will also be built to go with the large boat. When this dredge is completed and in operation, Mr. Raber will have several more built on the same lines. They will probably be built in Portland in parts knocked down the same as the first one.

Bluefields, W. Va., July 11.—The little town of Devon, Mingo county, was the scene yesterday of the assaulting of a little 14-year-old girl by a negro, followed by his subsequent lynching by an enraged mob numbering over 200 men.

The little girl was caught a short distance from her home by the negro, and carried to a neighboring wood where she was tied to a tree, bound and gagged. Her absence was noticed by the neighbors, who immediately formed themselves into a searching party. She was found in an almost dying condition, but was able to tell to the horror-stricken searchers the story.

Wild were the cries for vengeance when the little girl's story was heard, but after a short consultation, it was decided to lay in wait for the fiend. In a short time he appeared and was just renewing his assault upon the helpless child when the entire mob of concealed searchers emerged and made for him. He would have been torn limb from limb on the spot, but the horrible crime of the negro demanded a more cruel death, and the cool heads kept the enraged mob back, and the negro was dragged to the village common and bound to a tree.

After the mob gave vent to their wild desire for revenge, and it was by the greatest effort of the leaders that they were kept back, the clothing of the negro was torn from his body, and pins, tacks, penknives and every conceivable weapon of torture was struck into the skin of the negro as he struggled, vainly pleading for his life. He was allowed to suffer a hundred deaths with his body bleeding in a thousand places.

The almost lifeless form of the little victim was then placed before the glaring eyes of the brute, while willing hands cut out with a knife his swollen mouth. His cries became incoherent, and before the enraged citizens could be checked the skin was literally cut from his body and distributed among the villagers. He died with his eyes on the little girl whose life he had ruined. His heart was then cut out with a jackknife, his toes and fingers chopped off and carried away as mementos. His bloody and mangled form was then soaked with kerosene and fired.

Lost. Tuesday afternoon in or near Corvallis, a lady's gray jacket. Finder please leave at this office.

DR. DARRIN WILL REMAIN UNTIL OCTOBER.

Dr. Darrin's Work is Piling Up in Such Volumes That He is Compelled to Prolong His Visit in Albany at the Revere Hotel.

(Albany Herald.)

This eminent and far-famed specialist has met with such an immense volume of business since coming to Albany that he finds it absolutely necessary to prolong his visit to October 1. It is a source of gratification to the doctor's friends to know that his skill is being so well and appreciatingly taxed. His patients are coming from all parts of Oregon and in all cases a benefit or cure is effected. The doctor's skill is becoming so well known and his cured patients so plentiful that his name has become a household treasure in hundreds of homes in this vicinity. He is one of the cures.

HAPPY AFTER TWO YEARS OF MISERY.

Mr. Editor: I can recommend Dr. Darrin's treatment. For eight or ten years I have been troubled with rheumatism in the hip and back, also diabetes. Through Dr. Darrin's electrical and medical treatment, I am cured of the rheumatism and the diabetes. Refer to me at Jefferson, Oregon.

J. W. PATE.

The writer knows Mr. Pate very well and is pleased to inform his many friends of his recovery, and knows the case must be a genuine one, as Mr. Pate is a man of good sense and sound judgment. He could not be induced to make such a statement unless he knew it to be true.

What the Editor of Jefferson Review Says of Mr. Pate's Cure.

Almost every one in Linn and Marion counties knows J. W. Pate, and all know that he is a man of unquestioned integrity. Mr. Pate was treated a year ago for rheumatism and kidney trouble by Dr. Darrin, the eminent specialist now at Hotel Revere, Albany. To satisfy ourselves as to the efficiency of the Dr.'s treatment we interviewed Mr. Pate when he was in town Tuesday. He said: "I had suffered for years with rheumatism and kidney trouble, much of the time being confined to my bed. Since being treated by Dr. Darrin a year ago the trouble is cured and I have been entirely free from pain. As you can see, I have gained in flesh, look 20 years younger, am getting handsomer all the time and am beginning to worry for fear I shall be kidnapped by some old maid. Yes, Dr. Darrin's treatment was certainly successful in my case." The above statement will convince all who know Mr. Pate that there is no fake about Dr. Darrin.

DR. DARRIN'S PLACE OF BUSINESS.

Dr. Darrin is located at the Revere Hotel until October 1st, and will give free examination to all from 10 to 5 or 7 to 8 daily. The poor free except medicines, 10 to 11 daily, and those able to pay at the rate of $5 a week or in what proportion of time the case may require. All curable chronic diseases of men and women a specialty. Eyes tested and glasses fitted at reasonable prices.

This is the first visit of the head of the Portland firm of Drs. Darrin to this city.

GATCHING RATTLEERS.

MONTANA WOMAN SNARES RATTLESNAKES IN MOUSE-TRAPS.

The Hot Wave in the East—Friends of Initiative and Referendum Will Fight the Portland Decision.

New York, July 10.—Thirty-eight deaths and 83 prostrations in and around New York and Brooklyn tell the story of today's heat. It was the hottest July 10 in the history of the local bureau, the highest previous record being 91 degrees, recorded July 10, 1880.

The early threat of a temperature that would break all records, however, was not fulfilled. Thursday's record of 94 degrees at 4 o'clock, the high weather mark of the year, was reached today at 20 minutes past 1 o'clock, without signs of relief. But by two o'clock the temperature had fallen two degrees where it remained during the next two hours. Fortunately the humidity was only 46 per cent. when the temperature stood at 64, and increased but slowly from that time during the afternoon, as the heat subsided. At 8 o'clock it was 65 per cent, but by that time the temperature had fallen to 86 degrees, 6 degrees lower than at the same hour Thursday. Between 5 and 7 o'clock the temperature fell seven degrees following a thunder storm southeast of the city. The city had been sweltering so long in the hot wave, however, that it was hours before the offices and tenements began to feel the effects of the cooler weather.

In the streets the cooling process was difficult, men, women and children crowding the walks to recover from the heat of the day. Many slept on the park benches and, where the police would permit it, in the grass.

Daniel Lewis, a heat crazed negro, attacked with a club two girls who were carrying a large piece of ice. A mob quickly gathered and shouted "Lynch him!" Lewis was rescued by detectives and sent to the hospital. There was intense heat throughout the state today. At Albany there were many prostrations, and one child died. Several prostrations occurred at Middletown.

Helena, Mont, July 4.—The problem of how to catch and dispose of the rattlesnakes at 10 Mile Point, near here, has been solved by Mrs. Daniel Dutro, wife of a farmer. She used a mouse trap.

Ten Mile Point has often been called "Rattlesnake Point," on account of the large number of rattlesnakes that thrive in that vicinity. Not a year passes that they do not kill a number of cattle, and now and then a human being. Mr. Dutro and Jack Cornwall, the latter a noted snake-catcher, have for a long time been trying to clear the place of the reptiles, but without much success. Finally they sought the aid of Mrs. Dutro.

"Nothing more simple," said the woman, as she smiled in a superior sort of way. Instead of unfolding her plans to the men and allowing them to gain all the credit, she secured a number of common circular mouse traps, which she baited and set around in various places before going to bed. When she entered the kitchen in the morning she found each trap filled. In each hole was a snake, which had been attracted by the bait, and which had been choked to death when the trap was sprung. All the other traps, which had been set in various places about the farm, contained snakes, and in all sixteen were captured. The smallest was a trifle more than a foot in length, while the largest was four feet, and had eight rattles.

If the supply of traps holds out Mrs. Dutro expects to rid the Point of rattlesnakes in two weeks.

Salem, July 10.—Neither the referendum amendment nor the referendum movement is dead, as will be evidenced by the great struggle that will take place in the next few weeks or months. The case involving the constitutionality of the referendum amendment has yet to be heard in the supreme court, and the friends of the amendment are preparing to make the greatest possible efforts to convince the supreme court that the amendment is constitutional. If they fail in that, they will at once start a movement for the re-adoption of the amendment, and will carry fight into the next campaign. They will try to make the referendum the great issue in the next election, and will compel every candidate for the legislature to declare his position upon the question.

Salem, Or., July 11.—Not in any spirit of threatening to appeal to the people do the friends of the initiative and referendum amendment talk of their plans, should the supreme court decide that the referendum was not legally adopted. "We have the utmost confidence in the supreme court," said one of the most enthusiastic advocates of the referendum today. "Our supreme court has shown in the past that it can be influenced by neither politics nor corporate power. Whatever the court may decide regarding the legality of the adoption of the referendum we will accept as good law. Asking for a re-adoption of the referendum will not be an appeal from the supreme court from the people, for the court will not pass upon the merits of the referendum. The question before the supreme court will be whether the referendum was adopted, and if we find by the decision of the supreme court that the referendum amendment was not legally adopted, we will begin again and pursue a different course that we know will be legal. We will organize direct legislation leagues in every precinct in the state, and in the next campaign we will pledge every candidate for the legislature in writing to vote for a constitutional convention. If any candidate will not pledge himself we will defeat him in the election. It is because the organization of the campaign is so great a task that we are already talking over our plans."

It was stated in yesterday's correspondence that the friends of the referendum will attempt to secure a re-submission of the amendment if it be determined that it was not legally adopted in 1902. This was an error, for the plan is to secure the calling of a constitutional convention.

Pottsville, Va., July 12.—Judge George Gray, of Delaware, former United States senator and president of the Anthracite Strike Commission, is being quietly boomed in the anthracite region for the democratic nomination for the presidency. As the result of a canvass that has been made throughout the region, it has been found that nearly all the miners' union officials who are democrats are heartily in favor of his nomination and, since the reported collapse of the Cleveland boom, both Cleveland men and Bryan men are enthusiastic in declaring that Judge Gray is the man who can unite the party.

FEMALE WEAKNESS

542 1-2 Congress St. PORTLAND, OREGON, Oct. 17, 1902. I consider Wine of Cardui superior to any doctor's medicine I ever used and I know whereof I speak. I suffered for nine months with suppressed menstruation which completely prostrated me. Pains would shoot through my back and sides and I would have blinding headaches. My limbs would swell up and I would feel so weak I could not stand up. I naturally felt discouraged for I seemed to be beyond the help of physicians, but Wine of Cardui came as a God-send to me. I felt a change for the better within a week. After nineteen days treatment I menstruated without suffering the agonies I usually did and soon became regular and without pain. Wine of Cardui is simply wonderful and I wish that all suffering women knew of its good qualities.

Willamette Valley Association, Treasurer, Portland Economic League

Periodical headaches tell of female weakness. Wine of Cardui cures permanently nineteen out of every twenty cases of irregular menses, bearing down pains or any female weakness. If you are discouraged and doctors have failed, that is the best reason in the world you should try Wine of Cardui now. Remember that headaches mean female weakness. Secure a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui today.
