THE NEW POPE

HE DID NOT EXPECT THE HONOR AND BOUGHT A RETURN TICKET

One Escaped Convict from Folsom Captured—All Others Are in Hiding—Cyclone Strikes St. Louis Fair Buildings.

Rome, Aug. 4.—At 11:40 o'clock this morning Cardinal Macchi, secretary of the Apostolic Briefs, appeared on the balcony of the Vatican and announced that Cardinal Joseph Sarto, patriarch of Venice, had been elected pope of the Holy See. The new pontiff has selected the name of Pius X.

Pope Sarto was born June 2, 1835, at Riese, and was one of the most learned cardinals. His election is believed to be a compromise, as he has taken no interest in Vatican politics.

Pius X will probably devote himself to religious affairs almost exclusively, except to urge conciliation, as did the late Pope Leo.

The charitable disposition of Sarto has gained for him the affections of the multitudes of the Vatican. An immense crowd had gathered at St. Peter's at as early as 10:45 o'clock this morning watching the Vatican stovetop. It was the largest multitude that has gathered since the beginning of the conclave and numbered about 12,000.

When government officials saw the enormous streams of humanity wending their way to St. Peter's the number of troops was increased in order to suppress promptly any disorder, such as whistling, catcalls, sarcastic shouts should the first of the day's ballot fail to elect. This unruly spirit was shown somewhat at last night's ballot.

Sarto, the prelate, is from the Venetian provinces. He began his studies early at his native place and was passed to college at Castel Franco, where he was ordained priest and although very young he was given the parish of Tombolo. He was soon transferred to a larger parish in 1867. The bishop of Treviso recognizing Sarto's great merit and ability, nominated him Canon of the Cathedral, where he became vicar general.

In 1884 he was made bishop of Mantova. Here his real activity, cleverness and scope was not long in coming to the front. In 1893, at the age of 58, he was chosen patriarch of Venice, but the government refused its permission because of some political act. He obtained permission, however, and when given the patriarchate he was made cardinal.

The new pope had no expectation of the pontificate and bought a round trip ticket when he left Venice to attend the conclave.

Placerville, Cal., Aug. 4.—It is believed that at least five of the escaped convicts are not more than a dozen miles from this city, in hiding in the dense country this side of Grizzly Flat.

It has been verified that the five of the Folsom Prison outlaws visited Pine's ranch yesterday, and their camp has been located about a mile from the ranchman's house. There they probably spent last night. It is judged today that only five traveled in the party that held up Pine. This gang is designated as the Webber Creek party, but where the remaining seven outthroats are is only conjecture.

It is surmised that the other band is making its way along the Tuolumne River, which is in an almost untraded district. If this is so, Nevada is their object point, through Hope Valley. It is believed that the desperadoes must surely be captured if large enough forces can be induced to follow them, as the country is so sparsely settled that the convicts must appear in order to get food.

It is the purpose of Sheriff Bosquit to station sentries about farmhouses in the country ahead of where the outlaws are supposed to be, in order that when they approach a house they can be readily surrounded.

San Francisco, Aug. 5.—James Roberts, one of the 13 convicts who escaped from Folsom prison, was captured today near Davisville, about 35 miles from Folsom. It is thought that Roberts was accompanied by Convict Howard, and a detail of officers is now searching for Howard between Davisville and Sacramento.

Of the many reports that have drifted in today regarding the pursuit of the remaining convicts in the neighborhood of Placerville, the most promising is the discovery at Shingle Springs, that Case and one more of the fugitives were in that vicinity Monday night.

A telephone message was received from Lotus tonight that today's work of the posse in that neighborhood had been fruitless.

St. Louis, Aug. 5.—One of the heaviest storms of the year, but of brief duration, swept over St. Louis at 3 o'clock today, being preceded by a wind that in the western portion of the city developed into miniature twister that tore through the World's Fair Grounds, killing one man, probably fatally injuring another, and severely injuring seven others, besides causing damage to the World's Fair buildings and other property generally throughout the city to the extent of $10,000. The greatest fury of the storm was felt at the World's Fair grounds.

The day had been extremely warm, the temperature registering 94 degrees. Suddenly the sky began growing dark, and within a comparatively short time it became necessary to resort to artificial lights in the stores.

Soon after, the storm broke with the force of a gale. Pedestrians hurried for shelter, and the wind swept through the streets, causing a little damage here and there by broken windows, falling signs and shade trees.

Mrs. Mollie Allen, of South Fork, Ky., says she has prevented attacks of cholera morbus by taking Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets when she felt an attack coming on. Such an attack is usually caused by indigestion and these Tablets are just what is needed to cleanse the stomach and ward off the approaching attack. Attacks of bilious colic may be prevented in the same way. For sale by Allen & Woodward.

TO SAVE EYESIGHT.

SKIN OF FROG GRAFTED ON WOMAN'S FACE.

Fierce Encounter Between Eighteen Foot Python and India Bull—Schwab Resigns—Married Woman Elopes with Ex-Convict.

Boston, July 28.—At Massachusetts's Homeopathic hospital a woman's sight has been preserved by grafting with the skin of a frog. The flesh around the eye had become bruised and the skin became affected. Both to save the eyesight itself and to prevent the eye socket from having a pale appearance the graft had to be made. One of the ablest surgeons of the hospital says frog skin was used because no human skin was available.

The patient has fully recovered and now moves in Boston's best society, a handsome, fine-looking person.

No one but the surgeon who performed the operation knows that the skin around the eye is frog skin. The natural skin and the frog graft have coalesced, so as to be indistinguishable the one from the other.

New York, Aug. 5.—A fight to the death between a Burmah bull and an eighteen-foot python took place at Far Rockaway yesterday afternoon. Not until the lower part of the serpent's body was torn terribly did it remove its fangs and release the bull from its coils.

In the combat Mlle. Van, a snake charmer, had her arm lacerated by the serpent's fangs. The wound was cauterized by Dr. E. S. Parker, of Grand View avenue, Far Rockaway.

The fight occurred in a side-show of Welsh Brothers' circus. Both bull and snake are natives of East India. When the charmer raised the snake from its cage, it sighted the bull and wriggled from her hands. Children screamed and women fainted when the snake struck the ground. It sprang for the bull and partly coiled around him just below his hump. As if experienced in fighting reptiles, the bull lay on his side and ripped his horns under the snake's body.

Mlle. Van tried to remove the snake, but it stuck its fangs in her left arm. She dropped to the ground and fainted. She was resuscitated by Dr. Parker.

The bull sank his horns into the reptile, brought his head forward and tore the snake's body for a foot. The serpent gradually released its hold. Ten minutes afterward it was dead.

New York, Aug. 4.—The resignation of Charles E. Schwab, as president United States Steel Corporation, was tendered and accepted at a meeting of the directors today. William E. Corry was unanimously elected as his successor.

Mr. Schwab's resignation caused no surprise in financial circles, where it had for some time been foreshadowed.

The new president was for years one of Andrew Carnegie's ablest lieutenants; and is now president of the Carnegie Steel Company, one of the subsidiary concerns of the United States Steel Corporation. It is scarcely more than a month ago that Mr. Corry was made assistant to the president, because of Schwab's continued ill health.

Portland, Aug. 4.—Mrs. Elliott Parkhurst, a young wife, aged 26, eloped with Harry Riley, an ex-convict, and is believed to be in Seattle. Mrs. Parkhurst is a daughter of ex-Warden James, of the Salem penitentiary. Her mother is a sister of ex-Governor Geer. Riley served two years in San Quentin, and was again sentenced to five years in Salem. While there he met young Mrs. Parkhurst, who often visited her parents. Both are said to have fallen in love. Last Saturday Riley came here from the penitentiary, released. He was met by Mr. Parkhurst, who married Miss James seven years ago, and who did not know of the attachment. He felt a kindly interest in Riley, and took him home. Late Saturday night, while en route home, Riley assaulted Parkhurst and beat him almost to death. A hack drove up, and Mrs. Parkhurst appeared on the scene. The ex-convict and the woman got in, and that was the last seen of them. Riley had told friends that he intended going to Seattle for a few days, and then to his old home in Chicago. Parkhurst is well-to-do, an ex-deputy sheriff well-known at the Salem Penitentiary.
