

CORBETT LOST.

JEFFRIES WON OVER HIM IN THE SAN FRANCISCO FIGHT.

Biggest Crowd That Ever Witnessed a Prize Fight in This Country—Receipts Were Over Fifty-Four Thousand Dollars.

San Francisco, Aug. 14.—James J. Jeffries, champion heavy-weight of the world, played with Jim Corbett for nine rounds and a half tonight, and then Corbett's seconds motioned to Referee Granev to stop the fight in order to save their man from needless punishment. The end came shortly after the beginning of the 10th round, when Jeffries planted one of his terrific left swings on Corbett's stomach. The man who conquered John L. Sullivan dropped to the floor in agony, and the memorable scene at Carson, when Bob Fitzsimmons landed his solar-plexus blow, was almost duplicated. This time, however, Corbett struggled to his feet and again faced his gigantic adversary. With hardly a moment's hesitation, Jeffries swung his right and again landed on Corbett's stomach. Jim dropped to the floor, and then it was that Tommy Ryan, seeing that it was all over, motioned to Referee Granev to stop the punishment.

Ten thousand men were seated around the arena at Mechanics' Pavilion at 9 o'clock tonight, representing an expenditure for seating accommodations of $54,000. This is the largest crowd that ever assembled at a ringside in this country, and the third largest sum in dollars and cents ever contributed. The two that exceeded it in receipts were the Corbett-Jeffries fight at Coney Island, $66,000, and the Corbett-McCoy fight at Madison Square Garden, New York, $63,000.

At 9:33 the men came to the center of the ring and shook hands perfunctorily. The fight by rounds follows:

Round 1—They came to the center, Jeffries fainting and Corbett stepping lively. Jeffries swung left over Corbett's head, Jim came in quickly to a clinch and they were very slow about breaking. Jeffries put light left to Corbett's ribs, and they refuse to break, Corbett trying to get in right in the break. Corbett put in right over the heart and clinched. Corbett stayed close in and put hard short arm right on the body. They were very careful in the break. Jeffries forced his man across the ring and put left light on the body. It was noticed that Corbett did very little foot, but stayed close in and put two rights solidly over the heart. Jeffries missed left for the body, but put it in on the chest lightly. As they broke Corbett quickly stepped in and sent right to the heart. Jeffries blocked a left and laughingly remarked: "Ah, ha!" The round indicated that Jeffries is very fast, and Corbett did not do any fancy work.

Round 2—Jeffries came up quickly, missed left for the head, and they came to a clinch. They would not break, Corbett claiming Jeffries was holding on. In the break Jeffries swung left on the back of the head lightly. Corbett failed thus far to land a single left-hand blow. He attempted at this stage, but was too close in. Jeffries forced him to the ropes, coming dangerously near the jaw with a left hook. They immediately came into a clinch, in the break of which Corbett hooked a smashing left to the jaw. Corbett sent in left and right to the body; but got left hook on the head. Jeffries came on quickly but Corbett clinched. Corbett sent in a peculiar right-hand half upper cut for the jaw, but was a trifle low. They fought carefully to the end. Corbett showed very little speed so far, while Jeffries showed improvement in speed and cleverness.

Round 3—Both came to the center, Jeffries missing a left and Corbett clinching. Jeffries hooked left to the neck, and Corbett jolted him over the ribs with short right. Corbett increased in speed and had to run to avoid a rush. He turned quickly and put a right hard over the heart. There was a lot of clinching, neither man taking a chance in the break. Jeffries barely missed right for Corbett's jaw and roughed him in the clinch. There was a lot of hooting in the galleries. Jeffries forced him, fighting fiercely. Corbett began using left hook on the jaw, landing three times and a left in the stomach. The blows did not hurt Jeffries, and he only smiled and forced his man about the ring. It was a rough round, with honors even as to the matter of blows landed, but Jeffries gave indications of forcing matters at infighting.

Round 4—Jeffries went after Corbett, but clever clinching and blocking prevented damage. Referee Granev stopped the fighting to look at Jeffries' glove, which was burst; but told them to go on with the round. Jeffries fought hard, but Corbett got in too close to get in any damage. Jeffries swung hard left on the chest, and got left on the mouth and right over the heart. There were calls that Jeffries was fighting foul, but the proceedings did not warrant any such claim. Corbett got in close, jabbing Jeffries with left several times, but the blows were so light that Jeffries laughed and came back. Corbett slipped to his knees from a left in the stomach. Jeffries came back with another one, but Corbett blocked it. Corbett was strong and ran to his corner at the close.

Round 5—Police Captain Meoney entered the ring to look at Jeffries' glove. Fitzsimmons and Ryan went to Jeffries' corner and cut the glove off. Another was immediately substituted, but not until 30 seconds of the fifth round had expired. Jeffries fought for the body continuously, Corbett doing some side-stepping to keep away. Corbett did not seem to have a bit of force behind his left-hand hooks, and alternated with a short right over the heart, which seemed to be the best he had. Jeffries stood up straight and hooked Jim twice in the stomach. Corbett sent right to the ribs but without force. Corbett put the best blow thus far on Jeffries ribs, but got a left on the neck in return. Jeffries put a hard left hook on Corbett's jaw, following it up with left and right for the body. Corbett held on, and the gong rang. Corbett seemed tired. He did not appear to have any force behind his blows. His old, cutting left stabs were not in evidence.

Round 6—Jeffries took his crouching position for an instant, and put left on the head. He then stood straight and put left on the chin. Corbett went down for nine seconds. He got up and stalled for a moment, then clinched. He took left on the body and another on the head, but fought back gamely. He crossed Jeffries with right to the jaw, but without damage. They fought at close quarters, Corbett uppercutting with right to the chin from a clinch. The round ended with Corbett weak, but smiling.

Round 7—Jeffries went after Corbett fiercely. Corbett used his feet to good advantage at this stage. He tried to use his once lightning left, but it was a lame excuse. He came in quickly, and sent his right to the heart, but Jeffries came back with left on the body. Corbett was holding on saying, "he can't knock me out, he can't knock me out. Go on, Jim, see if you can knock me out." They clinched repeatedly. Corbett landed several short arm lefts and rights on the head. As quickly as they came out of one break, Jeffries was on top of him forcing him to clinch. Corbett took a left on the head and uppercut Jeffries with right to the chin. Corbett fighting faster on his feet at this stage, using his fancy boxing tactics, but they were of no use against his burly opponent.

Round 8—Corbett stabbed Jeffries with left to nose and ducked Jeffries' left. Jeffries hooked right to the body, Corbett sending in half dozen lefts and rights on Jeffries face, which he shed with the facility with which a duck's back sheds water. Jeffries was coming toward his man all the time, and in a breakthrough almost landed right on the jaw. Jeffries put hard left to the body, got two lefts on the face and came back with left on the head. Corbett endeavored to stab Jeffries in the eye but thus far his blows have not raised a bump. Corbett fought cleverly at this stage, sending in half a dozen lefts and rights on the jaw. He seemed to improve 100 per cent., and the great crowd was in a state of wild excitement. They cheered him to the echo. This was Corbett's round. He has changed his style, and is using some of his old-time cleverness in ducking and blocking.

Round 9—Jeffries came at Corbett with a rush like that of a mad bull. Corbett put left on the face and avoided a right. Jeffries leaned heavily on Corbett in the clinch. Corbett seemed as strong as ever, and there was one long series of clinches. Corbett put three rights on the body at close quarters. He hooked Jeffries on the jaw three times with left and crossed with right. He blocked Jeffries' efforts, and, at close quarters, put three rights on the body and one on the jaw. He repeatedly stabbed Jeffries on the mouth with lefts. Corbett's left cheek showed a lump from one of Jeffries' close-arm blows. Jeffries had a similar mark. Jeffries hooked left to the body, and the Referee had trouble in separating them. At the close Corbett stabbed Jeffries mouth three times with his left but they were weak efforts.

Round 10—Jeffries stood straight up, and came after his man without hesitation. Corbett seemed to be making a waiting fight. They exchanged lefts to the face and Jeffries made a vicious effort. Corbett went down from a left hook to the stomach, and remained down for nine seconds. He got up and received a left on the stomach and a right on the jaw. He went down and after the count of seven Tommy Ryan threw up the sponge. Corbett was suffering pain, and a chair was brought for him. After a minute's rest he recovered, got up and shook hands with Jeffries.

Not Over Wise.
There is an old allegorical picture of a girl sacred as a grasshopper, but in the act of heedlessly treading on a snake. This is paralleled by the man who spends a large sum of money building a cyclone cellar, but neglects to provide his family with a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy as a safeguard against bowel complaints, whose victims outnumber those of the cyclone a hundred to one. This remedy is recognized as the most prompt and reliable medicine in use for these diseases. For sale by Allen & Woodward.

A Lecture on Electricity.

(Albany Democrat.)
Electricity commenced its career at the breaking morn of creation, with few passengers on board and has continued its course with increasing speed and growing glory down to the present moment. It now travels with the brilliancy and rapidity of the lightning's blaze, and even compels the very lightning to speak in a familiar voice to man. The chariot of science is destined to continue its majestic course, in duration coeval with our globe. Genius is supremely higher than talents, and no man of genius had ever opposed electricity in its workings. This shows that if it was considered unworthy of doing all that is claimed for it that it would be discarded the same as all worthless things that are cast aside. Dr. Darrin, at Hotel Revere, is an advanced thinker on the applications of electricity for the cure of disease and to prove his skill we enumerate many cures performed by him, and would suggest to the thinking minds that today cures are being performed by this subtle agency, that seemed impossible ten years ago.

Among the many successfully treated may be mentioned ex Senator George Chandler's son of Baker City, who had trouble and general debility; cured and gained 30 pounds.
F. H. Hohn, 247 Commercial street, Salem, catarrh, cured.
J. W. Pate, Jefferson, Or., rheumatism and diabetes, cured.
Reuben Lee and wife, Turner, Or., sciatic rheumatism and cough, restored.
Mrs. C. Pfend, Salem, varicose ulcers on both limbs, cured.
A. Baxter, Ferry street, Salem, tumor, cured.
Mrs. Irene Ashford, Albany, Or., discharging ear, cured.
J. S. Hesten, Salem, liver complaint and dyspepsia, cured.
Mrs. Beulah Ross, of Salem, was in Albany last week visiting friends. She formerly lived near here. Mrs. Ross is very enthusiastic over her recovered health. She was cured by Dr. Darrin last summer, in Salem, her afflictions being chronic dyspepsia, liver and kidney troubles, thought to be incurable.

DR. DARRIN'S PLACE OF BUSINESS.
Dr. Darrin is located at the Revere Hotel until October 1st, and will give free examination to all from 10 to 5 or 7 to 8 daily. The poor free except medicines, 10 to 11 daily, and those able to pay at the rate of $5 a week or in what proportion of time the case may require. All curable chronic diseases of men and women a specialty. Eyes tested and glasses fitted at reasonable prices.

Convicts Passed Over the Summit of the Series on the Road to Nevada—Other News.
Placerville, Aug. 15.—The sheriff's officers have all returned, thus giving up trying to overtake the escaped Folsom convicts, who are now in Pacific county, on the border of Nevada. While three deputies are still out in the mountains, organized pursuit has ceased. There is a contest in the courts of Sacramento between Sheriff Rees and Deputy Sheriff Hinters over the reward offered for the capture of James Roberts, the first Folsom escape to be taken alive.

Placerville, Aug. 15.—Charles Rupley, who drives the stage running between Placerville and Tallac, reported to Sheriff Bosquit last night that Convict Theron and his party have passed over the summit of the Series, and are now on the down grade and traveling the state road into Nevada. At Phillips station, a stopping place on this highway, the five convicts took breakfast yesterday morning. The convicts seemed to know they were not being pursued, and conversed in a jocular strain while breakfast was being cooked for them. They made remarks to each other to the effect that it would be fun to proceed to the Tallac tavern and cause a scattering of the guests. The cook found them so agreeable that he asked them how they managed to keep out of the way of the blood hounds and the men that were hunting them. "We did not have to dodge them, they dodged us," Theron replied.

Sheriff Bosquit is sure the convicts were keeping a watch on the men who were after them and knew when the deputies left the field. The band intends to take the shortest route to the railroad. Their coming out in the most-used road in these parts clearly defines their intention. Around Tallac are numerous summer camps. These are at the mercy of the convicts.

Boy Cured of Colic After Physician's Treatment Had Failed.
My boy when four years old was taken with colic and cramps in his stomach. I sent for the doctor and he injected morphine, but the child kept getting worse. I then gave him half a teaspoonful of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and in half an hour he was sleeping and soon recovered.—F. L. WILKINS, Shell Lake, Wis.

Popular Sunday Excursions.
In order to meet the wants of the traveling public and give practically daily service to the beach during the summer season, the Corvallis & Eastern Railroad will run an excursion train from Albany and Corvallis and all points west to Newport every Sunday, leaving Albany at 7:30 a. m. and Corvallis at 7:30 a. m. returning leave Newport at 5:30 p. m. Three day and season tickets will be good going and returning on these trains. This should prove popular with the traveling public and a liberal patronage will be the best appreciation.

Exhibits Shipped Free.
In order to encourage exhibitors and attendance at the state fair, the Southern Pacific Company will transport all exhibits, including live stock to and from Oregon state fair free of charge. Exhibitors should ship direct to Fair Grounds, where they will find ample facilities for unloading all exhibits.
