TEN THOUSAND ACRES OF TIMBER LAND AT ONE STROKE.

Corporation got it, and Forty Private Citizens got Left, Though They Stood in line all Night to File.

Journal says: Two score ranchers, settlers in the Deschutes country, were given an illustration of the greater skill and larger resources of the big lumber corporations, stick of dead pine wood to show for comprehension. their trouble.

The settlers are so angered at what they regard connivance on the part of the officials and the injustice of the preference of land fide settler, and they express themselves very harsbly. They even go so far as to allege that the whole transaction was a "job" put up in the interest of the Boothwields immense political power, exercise that power for the futher ance of their business interests.

Ahead of them was one settler and a representative of the Booth-Kelly people who stool in line from Saturday night.

"When the office opened Monday morning," said A. "The Booth-Kelly man had not revealed his identity, but had given the settlers to understand M Malloy, sd. that he was one of them. He was No. 2 on the list of those who were permitted to file and when he stepped up to the counter of R-gister Nolan, he laid down a roll of timber land scrip, and took every acre remaining of the 10,000. Only the first man, No. 1 on the list was sucpeseful in securing a claim.

"Another peculiar fact connected with the incident was the giving out to oertain of the settlers slips of paper written in the chirography of the register of the office advising them to abandon the idea of filing on the lands under the stone as d timber act they had seleeted, and suggested that they take other lands.

"The scene was dramatic in the extreme. Hot words were banded between eettlers and land office offieials, and at times there were even threats of calling for peace officers to quell the rising flood of protest that was caused by what the settlers believed to be an infri ngement on their rights,

ON EMPIRE CITY TRACK PUTS WORLD'S RECORD AT 1:57.

Dan Patch Held It at 1:59-Great Throng Cheers Lustily Over The Fastest Mile of the Century-Other News.

New York, Sept. 23 .- Prince Alert, the pacing hero of a hundred races, and the champion of a score of half-mile tracks, went against the world's pacing record of 1:59, held by Dan Patch, and beat it most decirively at the Empire City track today. It was the first day of the autumo meeting of the Empire City Trotting Club, and in addition to the strong card of four races, Prince Alert was billed for what looked like the impossible feat of beating the record. But Prince Alert had recently won the half-mile track championship in 2:03 1.2, which had been won only the week before by Dan Patch in 2:4, and good odges were sanguine.

The weather and track were perfect, and the wind, which was high early in the day, kindly subsided so that the conditions were favorable. Mart Demarest, the trainer and driver of the Prince, on account overweight, decided to get John Curry to drive, and Demarest drove the thoroughbred speed maker in front with the wind shield sulky. At the third time, the starter gave perfect piece of machinery, Prince Mert shot away to the quarter pole in 0:291. ### THIS SKULL WILL BE FAMOUS.

One Found in Lansing, Kansas Seems to Prove Existence of Prehistorie Man.

M. C. Long, curator of the Kansas City public museum, has photographed "Lansing skull" from different view points. The prehistoric skull is now in the possession of Mr. Long. After a thorough investigation, Mr. Long is satisfied the skull is that of a prehistoric man, who in all probability lived during the glacial period, 35,000 years ago, and this opinion is fully shared by Prof. S. W. Williston, of the Kansas university, reports the Kansas

On March 23 of this year workmen found the skull while digging a tunnel deep into the side of a hill on a farm near Lansing, Kan. Mr. Long chanced to hear of the finding of the skull and went to Lensing. If the opinion of sale cheap-Curator Long and Prof. Williston is correct, as they feel assured it is, the "lansing skull" for the first time offers tangible proof of the existence of prehistoric man in North America. In Europe several prehistoric skulls have been found, but this is the first to be found in America. The "Lansing skull" was found deep under well de fined strata of earth and rock and was imbedded in what is called river loess. This prehistoric man was probably a contemporary of the mastodon and

The photograph does not give an adequate idea of the peculiarities of the prehistoric skull. It slopes back imme diately from the eyes, and there is practically no forehead. Over the eyes, however, are well developed ridges. which are taken to denote that the perceptible faculties were considerable, The back of the skull, as seen in the illustration, is almost abnormally developed, and there the skull is very thick. Pieces of stone are attached to and imbedded in the skull, and these pieces of stone are identical with those found attached to the bones of mastodons. The cracks seen in the skull were caused by the workmen who found it, for they attached no importance to the find and allowed several heavy boxes to fall upon it, breaking it into half a dozen pieces.
