BIG EXCURSION.

Of Students and Townspeople to Accompany Football Team Today.

Preparations are all complete for The excursion to Engene today by students and others who go there to see the game of football between the O. A. C. and State University teams. The game is attracting wide attention all over the Northwest, and the prevailing opinion is that, with an even break as to the matter of chance that is always a factor in will be close and spirited. In spite gaged for the case. In the Newton every football game, the contest of the result of certain contests earlier in the season, the stock of O. A. C. eleven is at par. The breaking of a bone in Captain Pilkington's hand, the accident that kept Abraham out of all the early season games except that with attending the Philomath school Seattle, the late arrival of Bundy, all of which made a new lineup of the men a necessity is looked upon as unfortunate circumstances that served for a time to greatly weaken the strength of the aggregation. It was not until the Pullman game that all the best men were able to enter the lineup in their old positions, and the very different outrelied upon as indication that the in the home district has been placed come from that of other meets is old spirit of the men is still with to their credit in the Philomath them, and that it will be in evi-school. dence at Eugene today. Of this there is full certainty, that the men are all well rested, in perfect physical condition, with every man at his old post, and that all the strength of the resources at hand will be fully and wholly manifest. In view of this condition, the out-

Many of its men are players ong experience. Most of them, as is true of the local eleven, are the same with whom OAC played a scoreless game in Corvallis last berlain's Cough remedy to loosen year. On the other hand, Eugene was unable to score against the Pullman team, while OAC defeated the latter eleven in a score of six to naught. The latter victory was not by chance or good fortune but by straight, hard football. In any event, the college men will go against worthy foemen, the play will be clean, all the players gentlemen, and the contest the event of a lifetime to the many who love the Callahans.

The excursion train is to leave the C. & E. station at nine o'clock sharp. The start will be prompt at that hour, because Coach Mc-Fadden wants his men to arrive at Eugene at least by eleven o'clock for obvious reasons. The college band will accompany the excursion, and furnish music at the game. The indications now are that the excursionists, including the team, will number about 200. The train will 2 For Yaquina: consist of four coaches, and on the retura trip will reach Corvallis at nine o'clock p, m, not later. The start from Eugene will be at seven o'clock. Controversies Over Public School Money Continues-May Reach Court.

The mix-up between some of the school districts with reference to whether or not a child can attend school in an other than the home district and receive its allowance of apportioned money, is still on. There is a deadlock of the sort between the Philomath and Newton districts, and unless one side or the other yields, the matter is to go to court. Up to the present both parties to the controversy have remained firm, and neither seems disposed to yield.

Of interest on the subject is the action of the Independence, Bandbox and Westwood districts. Pupils from each are attending the Philomath school, and in each instance the apportioned money due them

STRAY ROWBOAT.

With Shotgun in it-Captured in Willamette and Now at Kiger Ferry.

Some mystery attaches to a dierelict rowboat that was captured in the Willamette near Booneville yescome, whatever it may be, will be terday morning. In the boat was a final, and the O. A. C. showing in single barreled shotgun and nothing the contest, the very best that can else. The gun had apparently been in the boat but a short time, as there was no rust about the metallic parts. The fear is that some hunter may, on some account have fallen from the boat and been williams, left half; Root, right half; the boatman may, when he left the Cupper, quarterback, and Captain boat have been careless in mooring Pilkington, fullback. For every it, and that the craft dropped away from the bank and left the hunter

The dierelict was captured by R. C. Kiger, who has it in custody at his ferry on Kiger Island. The Information concerning the boat tackle is needed; Hamilton, center, and of how it got estray may be left with Mr. Kiger or Chief Lane of Corvallis. It is mostly supposed that some explanation of the circumstances will develop and that the outcome will be without serious consequences to human life,

WHAT THEY SAY.

About Today's Great Game-Eugene Fred Ellsworth, Killed Recently in Newspapers Talk Football.

The Eugene newspapers are full each day now with comment on the great game of football to be played there next Saturday, between the OAC and State University teams. In a late issue, the Register says:

The game with OAC will be the last and best game to be played in Eugene during the season. It will be the game in which U. of O. will was in town yesterday to consult an have the opportunity to establish the undisputed supremacy of the state, and it will be no easy task. The 'Varsity realizes that the Farmers have taken a wonderful The Newton directors refuse to brace. Their game with Pullman was superior to that put up by the Varsity under similar conditions. The Corvallis men are exerting every energy and are sparing no ef-forts. Edwards, coach of Albany last year, is now assisting Coach McFadden. It is reported also that several other men are helping to coach the team.

The University boys will be in good shape for a hard fight, and the best game ever seen in Eugene will in all probability result.

A great deal depends upon the condition of the field. Just now it is in first rate shape, and will re main s) if the weather continues

When the Eugene people remember that on Saturday, Goodrich and Thayer will appear on the local gridiron for the last time, the game ought to assume a degree of exceptional interest, Soon the clever work of these men will be a thing of history.

Commenting along the same line,

the Guard says:
Corvallis is making great preparations for the football game to be played here Saturday. The management of the OAC team is sparing no efforts to perfect the organization and team work of his team When the Farmers appear on Kincaid field on Saturday they will be in perfect physical condi-tion and prepared to put up a fast and furious game. At no time doring the season has the Corval is team put up better ball than it is doing at present, The team has much improved since it was defeated by Albany. The fact showed up in the late game with Pullman. The Farmer boys are now under the careful coaching of several al umni members, among them Fred Edwards who is assisting Coach McFadden. The team will have seen in Eugene during the season.
The local boys are anticipating a hard fight and they are preparing themselves jor it. There will be some changes in the lineup as it has been seen during the season. Ewes and Yearlings by Barkis 130841.
