HOW WEALTH IS TO COME TO FARMERS OF WILLAMETTE VALLEY.

Cows will Bring it—But They Must be Intensified Cows—Mediocre Cows Don't pay and Must be Weeded From Dairy Herds.

Dairying, in all its phases, has been discussed in Corvallis during the past few days, as it was never discussed before. Sixty wealthy, bright and enthusiastic dairymen of the state, representing exhaustive experience and the application of brains and intelligence to the business, have been in town, and have told all they knew of the various and manifold phases of the industry in the Willamette valley.

To reach these results, it is the united belief of these dairymen, who were the delegates to the annual meeting of the Oregon Dairymen's Association, two prominent and leading factors are necessary. The first of these is the necessity, by breeding, to raise the standard of the dairy herds, and the other is the gradual transition of the autumn freshening cows to the autumn months, say August or September.

Touching the question of improving dairy herds, President Schulmerick says that it is a waste of effort to milk cows that test less than three per cent. He holds that until a cow will yield 300 pounds of butter per year, she is poorly suited to have a place in a dairy herd. It is a fact that many herds average far above 300 pounds of butter per cow, per year.

Choice cows cannot be bought. They are a source of great profit, and their owners will not part with them. It is only the poorer grade of cows that changes hands. Therefore, to the dairyman, starting out in the business, the only alternative is to improve his herd by breeding up and weeding out. The mistake of many is in the claim that it is best to keep dairy cows that can also be used in producing beef. Save one or two men, all the members of the Association declared emphatically that dairying on this plan will fail.

President Schulmerick, one of the brightest as well as one of the most successful dairymen in the state is milking 27 cows on his dairy farm in Washington county now. His sales of milk from the 27 head during November, brought him a check for $238, or not far short of $10 per head. Many a poor dairyman realizes now less than $5 per head. The fact illustrates what intensified cows mean in the way of profit. During October, the revenue from the Schulmerick herd of 27 head was but a few dollars less than that for November, or about $230. Many a dairyman thinks he is doing pretty well to get half that sum from the same number of cows. Yet he pays

WON A MEDAL IN ELOCUTIONARY CONTEST AT PHILOMATH.

They Still Talk About the Colored Minister and the Egg-throwing in Kings Valley—Other County News.

W. E. Watkins, student of COP visited school last Friday. Miss Florence a former student here has recently taken up a claim in the Alsea Valley. The fall term of College of Philomath will close Dec. 22nd. In the evening of that date an entertainment will be given under the auspices of the elocution class, which has been during the term under the direction of Miss Elna Irvine. The public may be prepared to listen to a good programme. The literary numbers will be interspersed by piano selections, to be rendered by Mordant Gooddough of OAC and Miss Hawks of the College of Philomath assisted by Miss Winnie Newth and Elna Gardner. The public is invited to a free entertainment.

A Prohibition contest was given at Philomath College on the evening of Dec 10, at which, one of Miss Irvine's students carried off the Silver medal. Miss Bessie Meats of College of Philomath received the prize. The following are the names of the participants in order of their place in the contest, Miss Bessie Meats, Oscar Weed, E. H. White, Ivy Bond Alta Wright and Edith Sneek. The judges of the contest were Prof. Baldwin College of Philomath, Prof. Emerick of Philomath College and Rev. S. M. Johnson of Corvallis.

Chicken pox has been prevalent in the valley for the last month. M. Lilly bought another drove of beavers in the valley this week. Mr. Lewis of Lewisville was in the valley the first of the week buying mutton sheep. Don't forget to tell Times readers that Frank Plunkert has a new ten pound boy. Lark Price and Lloyd Cheneweth have bought W. L. Price's timber above Hoskins and intend to start a logging camp there next summer. The colored preacher and the stale egg throwers furnish a never failing theme for discussion since those incidents happened. J. Isabel has sold his interest in the Kings Valley Flour mills to Dick Dunn. He has also sold his household furniture and left the Valley. We see by the last Times that so no one has been objecting to the bill of our Supervisor, now we don't know anything about the justice of his bill but he has a good deal of road to look after and it takes considerable time to keep culverts and bridges in repairs and ditches open and while the work does not make much of a show, if not attended to the road would soon be in a bad shape. We can say for Mr. Miller that the roads have been greatly improved under his administration and that he has made a good supervisor. But we think the county court should appoint a new man for supervisor next year as Mr. Miller has served two terms and two terms is enough for president or supervisor.

By virtue of a warrant issued out of the County Court of the State of Oregon for the County of Benton, to the Sheriff of said county, directed and delivered, commanding the said Sheriff to collect the taxes as shown to be delinquent, on the tax roll for the year 1902, charged to said delinquents, and in necessary to collect the several articles of personal or parcels of real property upon which such taxes are levied, as set forth in said tax list. Said delinquent taxpayers, the amount of taxes and the penalties, and the several parcels of real property are described as follows, to-wit:
