TODAYS CONVENTION.

Men who Will sit as Delegates Convenes in Court House at Eleven.

The county convention of Benton democrats is to convene in the court house at 11 today. It promises to be one of the old time gatherings of the untrifled. The list of delegates includes names of men of business who have not been prominent in party councils for years. Some of them are in a Benton convention for the first time. All were elected at primaries held throughout the county last Tuesday.

The attendance of voters in the four Corvallis precincts was very light, due to the fact that there is no rivalry so far as known for places on the ticket. The pre-eminent fitness of some of the men now in office for re-election for the places they are filling, and the well known custom of Benton county people to reward faithful men by a re-election seems to make it a generally accepted belief that several present incumbents will be re-nominated. In the cases of other places on the ticket, the acknowledged majority of the opposition makes men chary of hunting a nomination and rather leads all to allow the office to seek the man. These facts led to open primaries with no contests for places as delegates interested in securing the nomination of particular candidates. It is supposed that similar conditions prevailed at all the voting places in the county. The list of delegates is as follows:

Corvallis number 1—A. B. Alexander, George Dixon, J. A. Gilkey, A. R. Locke, Charles McHenry, John Smith, V. E. Watters, and Albert Wilson.

TICKET NOMINATED.

Republicans of Benton Held County
Convention—The Candidates.

The republicans of Benton held their county convention Thursday and nominated the following ticket:

- Senator, W. E. Yates.
- Representative, V. A. Carter.
- Sheriff, J. M. Cameron.
- Clerk, R. W. Scott, of Beaver Creek.
- Commissioner, Lon Hawley of Bellfountain.
- Recorder, T. T. Vincent of Kings Valley.
- Assessor, George Cooper of Corvallis.
- Treasurer, W. P. Lafferty of Corvallis.
- School Superintendent, G. W. Denman of Corvallis.

Surveyor, T. M. Read of Wren. Coroner, S. N. Wilkins. The convention sat down, as far as it could on the effort of Binger Hermann for a renomination to congress, and sent a delegation hostile to him to the congressional convention. The congressional delegates are understood to be for L. R. Harris of Lane, and are, W. S. Tomlinson, E. R. Bryson, Geo. Lilly, Marion Hayden, J. R. Smith, C. V. Johnson, and Ed Williams. A list of delegates in the interest of Hermann was placed before the convention, but the vote against them was decisive. There were contests for the offices of senator, representative and assessor, but all the other places were filled by acclamation. The delegates to the state convention, offered on a list already prepared, were voted for by acclamation. Resolutions, offered by the committee on resolutions, commended the administration of President Roosevelt, took the county court to task with reference to road building and denounced that body for dispensing with the services of a road master. The convention was called to order at 11 o'clock by Chairman Denman, and E. R. Lake was made temporary chairman, and S. L. Kline, secretary. Committees were appointed as follows:

Credentials—Colbert, Loggan and Cameron.

Permanent organization—R. W. Scott, T. H. Cooper, and A. Luther.

Order of business—E. R. Bryson C. V. Johnson and O. V. Hurt.

Resolutions—J. B. Irvine, M. S. Woodcock, T. B. Williamson, J. R. Smith, W. T. Bristow.

After the appointment of the committees, the convention took a recess until one o'clock.

The delegates were called to order for the afternoon session at 1:30. The committee on credentials reported 78 delegates as entitled to seats in the convention. The committee on permanent organization recommended that the temporary officers be made permanent, and the report was adopted. Virgil Carter was chosen assistant secretary. The following order of business was reported by the committee, and adopted: election of delegates to congressional convention; election of delegates to state convention; nomination of county ticket in following order, senator, representative, sheriff, clerk, recorder, assessor, treasurer, school superintendent, commissioner, surveyor, coroner.

After electing the delegates to the congressional convention a list of seven delegates to the state convention was placed in nomination and elected by acclamation. They are, W. S. Humphrey, M. Burnap, O. V. Hurt, J. B. Irvine, T. J. Risley, G. H. Wamsley and J. O. Wilson.

Nominations for senator were declared in order, and J. B. Irvine named W. E. Yates, and Mr. Bristow named Waggoner. E. R. Bryson seconded the nomination of Yates, and Dr. Loggan spoke in behalf of Waggoner. The ballot resulted, Yates, 57; Waggoner, 20.

For representative, M. S. Woodcock named J. H. Edwards, and W. S. Tomlinson nominated V. A.

A COMEDY JAIL.

Elizabethtown, the county seat of Essex, in the Adirondacks, possesses a comedy jail, according to the Philadelphia Ledger. It is small, having windows secured by wooden bars and a jailyard enclosed by a solid fence of three-quarter-inch boards, which a healthy male could push over with his shoulder. But the prisoners rarely, if ever, attempt to escape. Some good stories are told by Judge Kellogg, Judge Hand and other residents. It is a custom to allow the prisoners out on parole, so that they may cut the grass on neighboring lawns, do garden work, or repair roads for the village or county. Recently one prisoner, who should have returned at eight o'clock, did not apply for admission until nearly an hour later. The warden angrily demanded to know the reason, and added: "Don't let this occur again, or I will not allow you to come in. I lock the door at eight o'clock, and won't open it in the future for you." Another accused of and awaiting trial for manslaughter, overstayed his parole and pleaded as an excuse that as it was Saturday he thought he would go and spend Sunday with his wife, returning to the jail on Monday morning.

Grant's Pass, Or., March 29.—William Buchholz, deputy sheriff at Yakima county, Washington, started for home today with a valuable team of driving horses, which had been stolen from him last September. The horses had been driven nearly seven hundred miles to Grant's Pass and sold to Ed Lister, livervyman, and ex-shepherd of Josephine county. As a result of the stealing, two men, Jim Gingles and Leo Macey, are in jail in Washington, while Jack Gingles lost his life two weeks ago in resisting arrest. It was through one of the men turning states evidence that the horses were located.

For sheriff, M. S. Woodcock said that for a long time his party had been leading a forlorn hope and that J. M. Cameron seemed to be the logical candidate for the place. Carter of Soap Creek seconded the nomination and Mr. Cameron was placed on the ticket by acclamation.

For clerk, E. R. Bryson named R. W. Scott of Beaver Creek, and G. A. Waggoner seconded the nomination, moving that the vote be taken by acclamation, which was agreed to. Mr. Waggoner took occasion while the clerkship was under consideration to declare his indorsement of the nomination of Yates.

Art Miller named T. T. Vincent, the present incumbent for recorder, and C. V. Johnson seconded the nomination. The selection was made by acclamation.

For assessor, Mayberry named E. C. Wyatt, of Fairmount and in one of the most graceful speeches made during the proceedings, Williamson of Fairmount seconded the nomination. A delegate named George Cooper, and another spoke in the latter's behalf. The vote resulted, Cooper, 59; Wyatt, 18.

For superintendent, J. H. Simpson placed the name of G. W. Denman before the convention, and Hayden moved that Mr. Denman be nominated by acclamation, which was agreed to.

For commissioner, Lon Hawley of Bellfountain was named by acclamation, and T. M. Read and S. N. Wilkins of Corvallis were named in the same way for surveyor and coroner. The convention adjourned sine die at four o'clock.
