CORVALLIS, OREGON, OCT 26, 1904.

HIS GRIEVANCE.

Mr. Ingle Tells About it—Also an Explanation of his Attitude.

Editor TIMES:—In the issue of the Gazette of October 18th appeared an article from me regarding the manner in which a church in Eugene mulcted J. Q. Rodgers and myself of $1,237 in cash, in answer to which an editorial appeared in the same paper in the next number. The editorial criticized what I had said, and generally misrepresented me. I prepared a reply and offered it to the editor of the Gazette, requesting its publication: As I had been misquoted and the purport of my former article misstated it would only have been an act of simple justice for me to have been given opportunity to reply. The editor of the paper, however, informed me that the editorial had been written by Mr. Phillips, and that before my article could be accepted, I would have to have the consent of Mr. Phillips. It is perhaps the first time on record in which a newspaper refuses a man misrepresented and criticized opportunity to be heard in his own defense. It is perhaps the first time on record in which a man has been asked to see "Mr. Phillips" about admission of an article to a newspaper with which the public does not know "Mr. Phillips" to be connected. My only recourse is to request the Times to print the article which I have not yet had time to show "Mr. Phillips." Here is the article, as it was offered to the Gazette:

"Editor Gazette:—In your issue of the 18th inst, you say that 'whatever personal grievance Mr. Ingle may have against certain church members at Eugene or elsewhere is a matter of no public interest.' This seems strange! If I had been met on the highway, knocked down and robbed, would it not be a matter of public interest? Surely you will not deny that myself and my co-sufferer are a part of the public, and surely you will not deny that the public is interested in its own welfare. And if on one of us two there has been committed a robbery, ethically and morally, so just as much as if we had been knocked down in the dark on the highway, it seems to me that a statement of the facts is of public interest, not only as a warning to others and as a partial punishment of the offender, but even as a matter of public news.

"As to the Portland woman, my knowledge of the case has been obtained from reading the Portland papers, and I believe my statement of the facts was substantially correct.

"I have not stated that all men and women are dishonest and hypocritical, or even many of the church members; and in intimating as much you are simply knocking at a man of straw. My particular grievance is against a church at Eugene, Oregon, which as a wolf in sheep's clothing has morally and materially injured innocent men. Just put yourself in my place for a moment. If those whom you had all your life aided and implicitly trusted as your religious brethren should deliberately weave a net around you and after finding you helpless, put their hands in your pockets and rob you of what they knew did not belong to them—would you feel like concealing the facts entirely from the public in order that the same robbery might be more easily committed on others?

Yours, for the searchlight of truth,
J. W. INGLE

SAVED HIS LIFE.

J. W. Davenport, Wingo, Ky., writes, June 14, 1902: "I want to tell you I believe Ballard's Snow Lintiment saved my life. I was under the treatment of two doctors, and they told me one of my lungs was entirely gone, and the other badly affected. I also had a lump in my side. I don't think I could have lived over two months longer. I was induced by a friend to try Ballard's Snow Lintiment. The first application gave me great relief; two fifty cent bottles cured me sound and well. It is a wonderful medicine and I recommend it to suffering humanity. 25c, 50c, $1.00. Sold by Graham & Wortham."

THE BEST DOCTOR.

Rev. B. C. Horton, Sulphur Springs, Texas, writes, July 19, 1899. "I have used in my family Ballard's Snow Lintiment and Horehound Syrup, and they have proved certainly satisfactory. The lintiment is the best we have ever used for headache and pains. The cough syrup has been our doctor for the last eight years." 25c, 50c, $1.00. Sold by Graham & Wortham.

ELECTION TICKETS.

What They Contain—How to Vote on Prohibition.

An order for the printing of four thousand official ballots and a like number of sample ballots for Benton county for use on the eighth day of November is a reminder of the approach of the presidential election. In this state there is so little interest manifested in the election that there is likely to be a light vote unless the populace is urged to action by some very forcible means. How many voters know the names of all the candidates for president and for vice-president? Who knows all the candidates for presidential electors? The ticket for the election is a neat little document six and a half by eleven inches in dimensions. It contains the usual heading, the names of five candidates for president and five for vice-president, and twenty names of persons who are candidates for presidential electors. Upon the ticket the voter is instructed to "vote for or against prohibition of the sale of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes for the entire county of Benton." The voter does not vote upon this question, as usual, by writing "yes" or "no" after the question. The question is now presented in this manner:

- 32 For Prohibition,
- 33 Against Prohibition.

At the approaching election the voter marks a cross or an X between the number and the question which expresses his wishes.

The Roosevelt and Fairbanks electors are first on the ticket. They are: G. B. Dimick, of Clackamas County, James A. Fee, of Umatilla County, J. N. Hart, of Polk County, A. C. Hough, of Josephine County.

Parker and Davis are represented by Thomas H. Crawford, of Union County, W. B. Dillard, of Columbia County, Walter S. Hamilton, of Douglas County, J. A. Jeffrey, of Marion County. Mr. Crawford is a graduate of OAC.

The prohibition candidates for president and vice-president are: Silas C. Swallow and George W. Carroll. Their electors are: I. H. Amos, of Multnomah County, Leslie Butler, of Wasco County, W. P. Elmore, of Linn County, T. S. McDaniel, of Multnomah County.

Eugene V. Debs and Ben Hanford stand for the Socialists, and their electors are: C. W. Barzee, of Wasco County, William Beard of Clackamas County, J. C. Herrington of Multnomah County, and S. H. Holt, of Jackson County.

Watson and Tibles are the standard bearers of the Peoples party. Their initials do not appear on the ticket. Why they are not given cannot be explained by Clerk Moses who had their names printed on the ticket as they were certified to him by the secretary of state. The Peoples electors are: J. L. Hill, of Linn County, L. H. McMahan, of Marion County, P. E. Phelps, of Malheur County, and G. F. Schmitlein, of Jackson County.

THEIR LINES CROSSED.

And What Happened to Telephone Girls Because of it—A Local Incident.

Things were a doing in the local telephone offices Monday, for a few minutes. A Bell line and an Independent line got crossed and it was some time before the operatives in either office knew it. The Independent operator wanted a country subscriber whose call was one long and five short rings. Every time she pressed the button the six rings rattled in the ear of the Bell girl, and she rang pretty often and pretty vigorously. After the tympanum of her ear had been busted in three or four places, a Bell girl finally snapped out, "You stop that." "I won't," shouted the Independent operator, indignantly. "Yes, you will; you stop it, right off," hissed the Bell through her teeth. The Independent responded with a savage ring for her country subscriber, and the Bell went into the air. "You fiend; I'll pull your hair if you don't stop that," she shrieked. "I tell you I won't stop it; this is my line, and I'll ring it when I please, —" and "buzz-z-z-z" went a ring into the Bell girl's ear. Buzz-z-z-z buzz-z-z-z-z, it went again, and then the Bell girl managed to shriek back between rings, "It ain't your line; this is the Bell line, and I am 'It' on this line." "I say it isn't a Bell line," and the Independent again perforated the Bell girl's tympanum with a ring. "You stop that. It is a Bell line." "It isn't." "Tis." "Faint." Finally, somebody says, the telephone wire got so heated under the discussion that it wouldn't work good any more, and then the girls got time to breathe and in the silence that followed, learned of the crossing of the lines.

MAY COME HERE.

National Grange Expected to Visit Corvallis—Holds Session in Portland Soon.

There is a prospect that the National Grange, which is to be in session in Portland the latter part of November, will visit Corvallis. The particular object of the visit will be to get a glimpse of the college. Mr. Leedy, master of the State Grange of Oregon has written to Corvallis, inquiring into the feasibility of the plan. The suggestion is that a special train, carrying the national organization make the trip up the Eastside and down the Westside divisions of the Southern Pacific in order to get a view of the Willamette Valley, stopping enroute at Corvallis for an inspection of the college. It has also been suggested, that for the occasion, some sort of a function be held at the college.

The National Grange consists of about 100 delegates, and it is related that about 100 Oregon delegates will attend the meetings of the organization, so that the proposed excursion would number all told, about 200. If the trip is made, it will probably occur on Tuesday, November 22nd. It is an opportunity for Corvallis to be made notable in the eyes, not only of Oregon, but of every state in the Union. There are few spots in the country that a National Grange takes occasion to visit, and it will be no disadvantage to her, if Corvallis turns out to be one of them.

JUNIORS WON.

Over Portlanders at Football in Corvallis—The Score.

An exciting game of football was played before a good crowd of spectators on college field Saturday. It was the Junior OAC team against the first eleven of the Portland High School, and victory rested with the Collegians in a score of 22 to a goose egg. The second teamers, among whom there is star material for the coming years, played ragged sometimes, and profited several times by fumbles of their opponent, but were nevertheless much the stronger of the two teams. The game was opened with the Graham kickoff to the five yard line. A Portland runner brought it back to the 25 yard line, and after making yardage twice, the High School fumbled to Emily. The Juniors then proceeded to rush the ball with Graham, Powell, Little, and Smithson making two to five yards at a clip, and then Graham went over for a touchdown.

In the next kickoff, Goodell for the High School sent the sphere spinning over the goal line and Graham from the 25 yard line sent it far back into High School territory. The High School men soon lost the ball on downs, and Finn, Powell and Graham rushed the oval to a few feet of the High School goal, and Powell went over for another touchdown.

In the second half, the Portlanders kicked off and got the ball on the Junior's 35 yard line. OAC took the ball on downs and Finn, Powell, Sweek, and Graham each tore off ten yards. High School got the ball on a fumble and for the only time in the game began a persistent rush of the OAC line that carried the ball within twenty yards of the Orange goal. There they fumbled and Sweek got away for a 90 yard run and a touchdown.

The last touchdown of the game was made by a series of alternate bucks and end dashes until Powell finally went over. Two goals were kicked by Graham, and the score was 22 to 0.

Some of the best playing of the day was by Captain Ray Walker at guard who with Little at tackle, invariably had a hole in the opposing line for the runner to go through.

Best of all the game, were the expressions by the Portlanders of thankfulness for the courteous and cordial treatment accorded them by the Juniors and management. They declared they had never lost to more gentlemanly boys, and that was as good to hear as was the story of the victory.
