The average man does not save to exceed ten per cent. of his earnings. He must spend nine dollars in living expenses for every dollar saved. That being the case he cannot be too careful about unnecessary expenses. Very often a few cents properly invested, like buying seeds for his garden, will save several dollars outlay later on. It is the same in buying Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It costs but a few cents, and a bottle of it in the house often saves a doctor's bill of several dollars. The resignation of Mr. Greffoz was received in a letter that came -Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Kline left to Councilman Avery after the former's departure from Corvallis. Connected with the resignation is the action of the council Monday night in giving the finance committee authority to employ a man to expert the books of the police judge and city treasurer. The committee, in a report stated that the books of Mr. Greffoz had been under investigation for several days, but that little progress had been made on account of the manner in which they had been kept. Further time was asked for, as well as authority to employ an expert. Councilman Lilly spoke in favor of adopting the report and stated in the progress of his remarks that there is a smal! shortage in the accounts of the police judge, but that relatives stand ready to make it good as soon as the amount can be ascertained. Those in position to know, assert that the shortage is but a few hundred, and that friends of Mr. Greffoz would have been quick to make it up if he had made it known to them. Prevailing opinion is that Mr. Greffoz brooded over his financial troubles until he has got to a point mentally where he is not responsible for his actions. Nothing is known of his whereabouts.

Emerson on Lincoln.

The president impressed me more favorably than I had hoped. A frank, sincere, well meaning man, with a lawyer's habit of mind, good, clear statement of his fact, correct enough, not vulgar, as described, but with a sort of boyish cheerfulness, or that kind of sincerity and jolly good meaning that our class meetings on commencement days show in telling our old stories over. When he has made his remark tion and shows all his white teeth and whole case of Gordon, the slave trader, point by point, and added that he was not quite satisfied yet, and meant to refresh his memory by looking again at the evidence. All this showed a fidelity and conscientiousness very honorable to him. When I was introduced to him he said, "Oh, Mr. Emerson, I once heard you say in a lecture that a Kentuckian seems to say by his air and manners, 'Here am I; if you don't like me, the worse for you.' "-Diary of R. W. Emerson in Atlantic.

In Old Stagecoach Days.

There used to be rate wars in the old stagecoach days in England. At one time, early last century, one stagecoach company not only cut the price from Lewes to London to a very low rate, but gave also other inducements. As the coach started from Lewes at a somewhat uncomfortably early hour in the morning, by way of tiding over the difficulty the proprietors allowed the more slothful of their passengers to go overnight to Brighton, where they were accommodated with good beds free of expense and could proceed comfortably to London by the company's morning coach.
