It was found on the state road a dozen miles south of Corvallis by James Newman, who brought it to the TIMES office yesterday. The watch is an heirloom and is highly prized by the owner.

—Jerry Henkle, of Philomath, was foreman of the Williamson-Gesner-Biggs jury in the federal court at Portland. The case went to the jury at three o'clock Tuesday and after wrestling with the verdict for two days and nights the jurors were discharged Thursday without having reached an agreement. Ten jurors were for conviction and two hung out to the end for acquittal. One was O. H. Flock, of Olalla, and the other G. O. Walker, of Eugene. The evidence against the defendants in the case was unmistakable, and in the eyes of most unbiased men, the verdict is "guilty as charged." Juror Flock and his colleagues to the contrary notwithstanding.

At Bellefountain.

Edna, the little daughter of J. R. and Fanny Buckingham was buried at Bellefountain cemetery Tuesday at 10 o'clock. The services were conducted by Rev. M. M. Waltz and a large crowd followed the little one to her resting place. She was a lovely child and will be missed by every one in the neighborhood as well as in the home.

Proclamation.

WHEREAS, The Secretary of State of the State of Oregon, has notified me in writing that pursuant to the provisions of an act entitled "An act making effective the initiative and referendum provisions of Section 1, Article IV, of the Constitution of the State of Oregon, and relating to elections thereunder and providing penalties for violations of provisions of this Act," approved February 24th, 1905, there was duly filed in his office on May 15th, 1905, a referendum petition containing 6,312 signatures properly attached thereto, and certified in accordance with law ordering that House Bill Number 370, entitled "An act to appropriate money for the payment of the expenses of the maintenance, repairs, improvements, equipment and current expenses of the Insane Asylum, Penitentiary, Reform, Deaf-mute and Blind Schools, University, Agricultural College and Normal Schools, and other current expenses of the state, and declaring an emergency" passed by the Twenty-third Legislative Assembly, shall be referred to the people of the state of Oregon for their approval or rejection at the regular general election to be held on the 4th day of June, 1906; that said 6,312 signatures to said petition are more than five per cent of the whole number of votes cast for Justice of the Supreme Court at the last regular election.

Now, therefore, I, George E. Chamberlain, governor of the State of Oregon, in obedience to the provisions of said act hereinbefore mentioned, do hereby make and issue this proclamation to the people of the state of Oregon, certifying that there has been filed with the secretary of state of the state of Oregon a referendum petition with the requisite number of signatures thereto attached ordering that House Bill Number 370 entitled "An act to appropriate money for the payment of the expenses of the maintenance, repairs, improvements, equipment and current expenses of the state, and declaring an emergency" passed by the Twenty-third Legislative Assembly of the state of Oregon at the regular session of said Legislative Assembly, be submitted to the legal electors of the State of Oregon for their approval or rejection at the regular election to be held on the 4th day of June, 1906, the same being the first Monday in June, 1906.

Done at the Capitol in the city of Salem, State of Oregon, this 31st day of May, 1905. (Signed) GEO. E. CHAMBERLAIN, Governor. By the Governor:— F. I. DEWBAR, Secretary of State.

CHOLERA INFANTUM.

Child Not Expected to Live from One Hour to Another, but Cured by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Ruth, the little daughter of E. N. Dewey of Agnewville, Va., was seriously ill of cholera infantum last summer. "We gave her up and did not expect her to live from one hour to another," he says. "I happened to think of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and got a bottle of it from the store. In five hours I saw a change for the better. We kept on giving it and before she had taken the half of one small bottle she was well." This remedy is for sale by Graham & Wortham.
