—An example of the trend of sentiment with reference to Mike Kline's shebang is a document that reached the Times office. It comes from Philomath and is signed by 60 citizens of that town and vicinity. It commends the action of Judge Holgate, Deputy Attorney Bryson and other officers in the efforts to uphold the law and approves the verdict of the jury, consisting of O. V. Hurt, J. R. Smith, W. T. Small, William Bogue, G. H. Carl and A. W. Herbert. Incidentally the Times is given kindly mention. It all showed that people are worked up over the Kline attempt to drag down a law that has been put in force by a vote of nearly two to one.

—Speaking of the Willamette-Berkeley game the Salem Journal says: "At no time was the Willamette goal in danger, and the end of each half found the ball in the possession of the representatives of the cardinal and old gold. The local men carried the ball much nearer the Berkeley goal than the latter did to the Willamette goal line, and it is thought that a misplay, due to the changing of the players to new positions, was all that prevented the Willamette team from winning a victory. The men returned with the expectation, and the avowed intention of winning the Northwest championship. Never before has so much interest been taken in football in the Capital City and the unparalleled record of the southern trip has fully convinced Salem people that she is to be the home of the 1905 champions of the Northwest."

—Another first class game of football occurs on college field next Saturday. Besides it, there will be only two more first team games on the local field this season. All the other games will be on distant fields. Saturday's game will be with Whitworth college of Tacoma, a team which played the University of Washington last Saturday, the score of both being small. A feature of the game was that the left guard of the Whitworth team made a place kick from the 45 yard line. From present indications the field next Saturday will be dry, and especially favorable for place kicking, a fact that makes a deal of wonderment on the campus of what kind of place kicking may be expected by this notable Washington player.

—A place kick from the 45 yard line is a remarkable feat in a football game. Many and many a time kickers fail to make it from the 15 yard line. In next Saturday's game there will be a player on OAC field that made such a kick over the University of Washington team last Saturday from the 45 yard line, sending the ball with great power and accuracy.

When students matriculate at the college, they pay $1 incidental fee to Clerk Crawford. While the clerk was out the other day, two new students came in to register and paid the fee to President Gatch. When they came later to Clerk Crawford for their receipts to satisfy himself that it was all right, he asked them who they paid their dollars to. The reply was, pointing to the president's room, "To that fellow in there."

—The Pullman eleven, which O. A. C. plays at Corvallis a week from next Saturday beat the Lewiston High School team Saturday 52 to 0. What makes the showing the more remarkable is that Pullman loaned the Lewiston team two big tackles for the game, one weighing 200 pounds. The center of the Pullman team stands six feet four in his stockings, and all the men in the line are giants. The stripped weight of the ends is 170 pounds.
