—There will be a social dance and basket supper at the Willamette Grange Hall Friday Oct. 27th. A general good time to everybody who will come.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. H. College, who have been residents of Corvallis for the past two years, left yesterday for their old home at Mapleton, Iowa, to reside.

—Work began Monday on a modern two story, seven room house that J. L. Lewis is to have built on the Cameron property. The structure will be 22 x 28, with a 12 x 16 ell. Norton Adams has the contract.

—Old Mr. Brownson (reading the paper)—I see that in the recent storm at sea a ship loaded with passengers went ashore. Old Mrs. Brownson (placidly)—How fortunate! I can imagine how glad those passengers were to get on dry land.

—Albany Herald.—It is thought the Corvallis team stands a show of scoring against the University of California, their record being much better than Salem, and the latter held Berkeley down to a scoreless game.

—T. R. McGinnis, ex-sheriff of Sherman county, has arrived to join his family who have been in Corvallis since June. They occupy the Ben Woldt house. Two are students at the college, and two are in the public schools. They are estimable people, and are in Corvallis to take advantage of educational facilities.

—Coaches Steckle and Sweeley, Mr. Sapp of the Pullman team and Sam Damon of O. A. C. were guests at a dinner party Saturday at the home of Lieutenant Quinlan. The first named two are University of Michigan men, and so is Lieutenant Quinlan. Mr. Sapp was with Lieut. Quinlan in the Philippines.

—Mr. Fouts, the Portland lawyer who defends the Club cases soldiered with the late Pat Kelsay in the Philippines, both being members of the same company. He believes that if Kelsay had received better attention, he would have survived. Even the nurse was not present when the Corvallis soldier died.

—The Washington State College football men left for home by the 1.20 train Sunday. They had along their mascots, a bulldog and the bear they purchased of the Club people. At the station both the dog and the bear seemed anxious to scrap each other, with the net result that bystanders had much to be amused over. At one time the bear got loose and the chase for his recapture was lively, involving all the members of the team, the coach and other folks. The start was finally made in safety, but either the dog or the bear will have come out of a scrap duly licked, before the town of Pullman is reached.

—Wife—Why, John, I didn't know that you liked cats. John (in surprise)—Why, how's that? Wife—I heard you say in your sleep last night, "Feed the kitty."

—Jesse Gilbert of Rockford, Wash., an old-time resident of the Bellefontain neighborhood in southern Benton, is the guest of friends. This is his first visit to this section in 25 years.

—Among those who attended the funeral of the late Mrs. E. Woodward, Monday, were three sisters of deceased, Mrs. N. A. Thompson of Seattle, Mrs. Jerry Nunan of Portland and Mrs. Al Matherly of Oregon City.

—Moses Brothers are still busily engaged in moving into their new quarters in the Fisher brick. The building vacated by them is to be occupied by Con Gerhard with his bookstore, and Milton P. Morgan, with his job printing office. The change takes place the first of the coming month.

—Eugene Register.—The second team is a fast bunch and will show some veteran stunts that were overlooked in the California trip when they get to bucking again. The coach will give the team a great deal of his time to get it in shape for the game with the O. A. C. second eleven which is played this year at Corvallis on November 4.

—Eugene Register.—The student's executive committee of the University is breathing normally for the first time in years. Debts of long standing and aggregating nearly $1,200 have been a heavy handicap on all student enterprises for several years. A firm determination to meet these obligations has resulted in a payment of $1,000 on this account. The balance will be carried till the fall of 1906, at which time the Associated Students hope to clear up all indebtedness. This $1,000 payment will throw the various departments of student undertakings upon what is practically a self-sustaining basis. Among other things necessary is the suspension of the "Oregon Monthly."

—The temperance meeting Sunday evening in the Congregational church was a very pleasant gathering. One of the unique features was the singing of the united male quartettes of the M. E. and Congregational choirs. The double quartette sang four thrilling selections that harmonized splendidly with the subject of the discourse. Mr. Colvin, Intercollegiate Secretary of the temperance societies, in a forceful manner presented the claims of the temperance crusade upon the young men and women of our land. The meeting was held under the auspices of the temperance club of the college.

HE SWORE FALSELY.

On the Witness Stand—Mike Kline Asked Him to—Then he Confessed.

There was an incident involving more or less pathos, in one of the late trials. It is worth mention here because of the value it may be to future witnesses in Corvallis courts. A mere boy in years, and equally boyish otherwise, was the prosecuting witness. He went on the stand and told the story of how he went to the club, and of how he was there served with beer. On cross examination the defense got the witness to say that the beer he drank at the club was beer that he had Kline to order for him from Portland, and that it was his own and not club beer that he was drinking.

Taking up the matter on re-direct examination the prosecution soon sprung a surprise on the witness and created a sensation in the court room. First, the witness was made to admit that the beer was not as he testified, bottle beer, but draught beer. Then he was driven into a tangle, and forced to acknowledge that Kline had not ordered any beer for him from Portland, but that the beer he drank was purchased from the club authorities. Terrible as was the situation of the witness, he was next forced to acknowledge on re-direct examination "yes; I perjured myself when I said I got Kline to order that beer from Portland." Worse still was the effect, when in answer to a final question from the district attorney, the witness acknowledged that Mike Kline had come to him before the trial and requested him to swear in court that instead of buying the beer at the club as was actually the case, he had ordered it brought from Portland.

As stated above, the witness is only a boy in years as well as in mind, and when he left the witness stand a flood of tears streamed from his eyes. Mike Kline's rascality in inducing him to swear to a lie in court was painfully manifest.

The boy, however is not the only person Kline has tried to prevail upon to perjure himself. When Kline labored with another person on the same errand the answer was, "I won't swear to a lie."

Thus, it appears that the master of the "moral welfare and intellectual culture" club does not hesitate to resort even to the procuring of perjury, not only of men but of boys.

THEY LEAVE TOMORROW.

Steckle and his men—Play Berkeley Next Saturday—The List.

The OAC football men are to leave tomorrow evening for California to play the University of California team at Berkeley. They will reach Berkeley Friday morning, and play the game Saturday afternoon. It is probable that they will leave Sunday evening for the trip home. Their headquarters during their stay in the Golden State will be in Oakland.

It is expected now that the party will number 19 men. The regular team will be, Emily, Griffith, Dunlap, Walker, Bundy, Dolan, Captain Root, Cooper, Williams, Rinehart and Abraham. The subs are to be Porterfield, quarter and half-back; McKinnon, tackle, Little, guard, and possibly Cherry. With the extra men taken along, two substitutions are possible for any position. If the emergency should arise, Coach Steckle and Manager Stimson, Henry Wortham, and probably Mr. Williams, father of Floyd, will complete the party. They will go to Albany on the six o'clock train tomorrow evening, and leave via the overland at night probably in a private sleeping car. If the program as at present planned is carried out, they will reach home next Tuesday morning.
