Official Paper of Benton County.

CORVALLIS, OREGON,
FRIDAY EVENING OCT. 27, 1905.

PUBLISHER'S NOTICE.

Hereafter the publication day of the TIMES will be Tuesday evening and Friday evening, instead of Wednesday and Saturday mornings. For 11 years the paper has been actually appearing in the evening, though the following morning was given out as publication day. The change now announced ought to have been made 11 years ago.

LEADS TO ANARCHY.

Portland Oregonian.

At Corvallis, Forest Grove and other places where attempts are being made to sell liquor in defiance of law and public opinion, it will be found that such a course only serves to strengthen the anti-saloon forces and increase their determination to win. The local option law is now the law of the state and should be obeyed. The man who openly defies the law is walking the high road that leads to anarchy.

WITH YELLS AND MUSIC.

Great Crowd of Students Started Football Eleven off for California.

Mid the college yells of half a thousand students, the strains of music by the Cadet Regiment band and the farewells and good wishes of a big crowd of spectators, the O. A. C. football men pulled out of the C. & E. station on the six o'clock train Wednesday evening and left for California. President Gatch and many members of the faculty were at the station to see the boys off. Dr. Steckle and Manager Stimson accompanied the team, as did also, Sam Damon, "Shorty" Wade and Henry Wortham. Besides the regular eleven, Porterfield, Little and Cherry went as reserves. At Albany a private car was in waiting for the boys, and it was switched on to the Overland when the latter arrived about eleven o'clock.

The game with California is to be played at three o'clock Saturday afternoon. The lineup of the Oregon men will be changed somewhat as a result of the absence of Laurence from the team. The change will necessarily reduce the precision and speed of the team work and somewhat weaken the offense. To what extent this will be the case cannot be estimated, because the team has never been seen under fire with the lineup that will probably prevail. The general impression is that Dow Walker will play tackle, mostly, and that Cherry will go to center. Another possible arrangement is with Walker as usual at center and Abraham at tackle. The only trouble with the latter plan is that though four years a tackle, Abraham has always played on the right side of the line and his form would be bad for holding down left tackle. A great deal of confidence is felt in the team, and in Dr. Steckle whose masterful strategy and detail will be great factors in the play, but it is, at the same time realized that the California team will be at its very best when the game is played, and the many interested are meantime in great suspense.

Bulletins from the game are expected by the Times by four o'clock. Complete arrangements have been made for bulletins during, between and after each half, and a brief story giving details, the latter of which should arrive shortly after six o'clock. The final score should be had by five or five-thirty o'clock.

—Miss Daisy Brown is to arrive tomorrow from Albany, to attend the re-opening of the M. E. church and spend a few days with friends.

—Services at the Congregational church next Sunday are, Sunday school at 10, worship and sermon at 11. In the evening there will be a Union meeting with the M. E. church.

—Measles have been prevalent for several days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eli Spencer.

—There is a case of mumps at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Smith. The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Smith is the victim.

—Joseph Abbott, of Portland, was the guest Wednesday of his cousin, James McKenzie, in this city.

ARRIVED AT OAKLAND.

O. A. C. Football men—All are in Good Condition.

Oakland, October 27.—The Oregon Agricultural College team arrived here at eight o'clock this morning, and is quartered at Hotel Touraine. All the men are well, and but little fatigued by the journey. They are to turn out for practice on Berkeley field this afternoon, the California management having given them exclusive use of the field. The question of the lineup is still unknown, but the impression is general among the boys that the game will open with Walker at tackle, and Cherry at center. The sore spots from last Saturday's game have mostly disappeared, and by tomorrow afternoon, every man in the bunch will be in excellent condition for the game. The kickoff is to be at 3 o'clock. The weather here is beautiful, with a chance that it will be quite warm for tomorrow afternoon's game. The boys all send greetings.

There is no newspaper talk here about the game. The team went through a light signal practice this morning, in which everything moved off satisfactorily to Dr. Steckle. A stranger at our hotel told us of his dream that Berkeley found the horseshoe but not until after we had won it. Tell Bill Laurence to take complete care of that bullet hole in his leg.

FOURTEEN DIED.

Cattle that ate Well Known Weed—Discovery at the College.

An explanation has been found at the college for the death of 14 head of cattle recently on the farm of a Mr. Brown near Gervais, Marion county. Samples of the intestines and stomach of the dead animals were sent by the Marion county stock inspector to Prof. Pernot for examination, and along with them a statement of the mortality among Mr. Brown's cattle. After a long search with the microscope, the case was about to be abandoned when an inflamed condition was finally found in a section of the intestines. This led to renewed study of the parts, and it was at length discovered that the fecal matter in the intestines was studded with seeds from Pig Weed or Red Root, a weed that is very common in the Willamette valley. Then it developed that in the mucous membrane of the intestines were great numbers of the minute spines or stickers that abound on the pods which contain the seeds of the plant. These spines are composed mainly of silica and are insoluble in the juices of the stomach, and in fact are not even softened by their contact with the juices of the organs into which they pass. From the mucous membrane they pass into the intestinal wall, causing a high state of inflammation and the animal dies of acute gastritis.

The discovery leads to the announcement that the well known weed should be removed from pastures frequented by cattle. Livestock, it is said, will not eat it until the weed goes to seed, and until other forage is exhausted. Then, however, they eat it for the small nourishment contained in the seed, and along with it take into their intestines the destructive spines found on the pods. Always, late in the summer or early in the autumn, before fall rains start the grass, there is more or less trouble of the kind suffered by Mr. Brown, and pathological specimens find their way to the college. For years past these specimens have been studied, but it was not until the instance above related that the secret of the trouble was actually unraveled.

Pig Weed is well known, and stockmen will have no trouble in the future in avoiding loss by resort to ordinary prudence.

FARMER SAYS IT.

Indignation in the Country Against Mike Kline and His Flunkies.

A well known anti-option farmer in town the other day, gave it as his opinion that Mike Kline and his satellites are doing more to make local option sentiment in Benton county than all other influences combined. In his neighborhood, this farmer says, many pronounced anti-optionists are declaring that when it comes up again, they intend to vote for local option.

"If by a vote of nearly two to one," he said, "old residents of Benton county declare intoxicants shall not be sold, and a total stranger comes in here and by his act declares liquors shall be sold, and proceeds to sell them, it is no surprise that there is general indignation. As it appears to most people the situation is,—the people of Benton county say 'nay'; Mike Kline comes in, a stranger, and says 'yea' and he proceeds to turn the people down and to do as he pleases. The fact that he has supporters, proves that some of the liquor interests, like Broders, are behind him. That is what is making sentiment for local option, and if the present status of things continues the next time the question is voted on, the vote will be a protest against Mike Kline and his methods, and the majority will be 1,000."

SENT TO CALIFORNIA.

The Destitute Family—Sheriff Took Them to Albany and put Them on the Train.

The Turpin family, whose woes were mentioned in Tuesday's TIMES are in California. Twenty-five dollars was their all, and there were eight in the family, including an aged grandmother with a mangled foot, and a little boy with a broken back. Their horizon had more clouds on it than commonly falls to mortals. They applied to the county court for assistance, and after full investigation of the case by Sheriff Burnett and County Judge Waiters, it was deemed best as well as cheaper to help them along their way to where there was promise of assistance for them in California. Near Montague, they claimed an old friend had a farm that was at their disposal if they could once reach the place. After thorough investigation $45 was appropriated and Sheriff Burnett took the family to Albany, where with what money they had, tickets were purchased and they were put on board the train and sent to the California destination.

It was the best, in fact the only thing to be done under the circumstances; for if they had remained in town most of the family would have been on the county long before the end of the winter. On the contrary when they reach their destination, they will probably become self-supporting.

BROUGHT TEN CENTS.

Last Year's lot of Whitaker Hops—The Crop was Shipped Yesterday.

Yesterday morning a famous lot of hops was shipped out of Corvallis. It was 156 bales of last year's crop on the Whitaker farm, made more than usually notable by reason of the litigation of which they have been the subject. Indeed, the case indirectly involving the question of who has title to them, is pending in the supreme court on an appeal from Benton county. Fabre & Neis of Albany claimed the lot under an extended hop contract. The Whitakers, Frank and John, claimed there was no contract. The case was tried at the November term of the circuit court a year ago, and a jury found for the Whitakers. The case was appealed by Fabre & Neis, and will soon reach final determination.

Meantime, sale of the hops was more difficult because of the litigation in which they were involved. Prices for a time were at thirty cents and better, but no sale was made. The decline in prices of course struck them, and the account is that they went to a San Francisco buyer at 10 cents per pound. They have been stored for a long time in the warehouse of Mr. Bodine.

SELLING BONDS.

Bids are to be Opened Next Monday Night—Local Bids Expected.

Next Monday night is the time for opening bids for the proposed issue of $75,000 in Corvallis water bonds. Three weeks ago bids were opened on the same proposition, but all were turned down. The call was on a four per cent bond, and all the bids were on a five per cent basis. Many letters were before the Water Board, the same being from banking houses and bond buyers all over the country, in which it was made manifest that a call for bids at a higher interest rate would bring forth many bids. The result was that the interest rate was made five per cent, and a new call issued. There is every reason to expect that many bids will be received, and that the bonds will go at a good premium. One of the bids opened on the former call offered a premium of about $900. That is, the purchasers offered $75,900 for the entire issue of $75,000. It is regarded as certain that even a better premium will be realized in the bid as a result of next Monday night's bidding.

It is known that several local capitalists intend to be bidders for small amounts of the bonds. The fact is that with the large amount of money lying unused in the banks the whole issue ought to be taken in Benton county. There is no safer, better, or more convenient or satisfactory investment in the world. The fact that banking houses in Chicago recently offered a premium of $900 on the issue, shows how financiers regard the securities. It is probable that in order to get what they want of the bonds, local bidders may have to pay a slight premium. Several local holders of money have made inquiry and signified an intention of getting hold of some of the bonds if possible. The way to do in order to get some idea of the premium that might have to be paid is for these local buyers to seek information of local bankers.

The bids are required to be in the hands of the clerk of the Water Board at five o'clock Monday afternoon. They are to be opened in the council chamber at 7:30 o'clock.

Two Quaint Characters.

Sleeker and Toby are two of the quaint characters in "A Human Slave" which comes to the Opera House next Tuesday night, which will be at once popular with the audience. This young man and woman are two diamonds in the rough. They are a bit uncultured it is true, but under a rough and rugged exterior they are as true as steel, and as warm hearted and sympathetic as the most refined woman. It is the very poor who know how to be kind, to be generous, and a telling picture of genuine sacrifice is shown by the roles of Sleeker and Toby in this fine production.

One Dollar Saved Represents Ten Dollars Earned.

The average man does not save to exceed ten per cent. of his earnings. He must spend nine dollars in living expenses for every dollar saved. That being the case he cannot be too careful about unnecessary expenses. Very often a few cents properly invested, like buying seeds for his garden, will save several dollars outlay later on. It is the same in buying Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It costs but a few cents, and a bottle of it in the house often saves a doctor's bill of several dollars.
