A DOCTOR IS CAUGHT

LEADING PHYSICIAN OF BOSTON INVOLVED IN CRIME.

Performed Second Operation to Save Girl's Life and, Failing, Cut Up Her Body and Cast it Into Boston Harbor—Other News.

Boston, Nov. 3.—Following a brief conversation by officers over the long distance telephone, the scene of developments in the famous suitcase mystery has shifted from New York back to Boston. Dr. D. Percy McLeod, a reputable physician of the Back Bay district, was arrested today on the charge of performing an illegal operation on Susan Geary, the Cambridge chorus girl whose remains were found in two suit cases in the waters of Boston harbor. Through the confession of Lewis Crawford and William Howard, the two men arrested in New York yesterday, the authorities received evidence, which in their opinion, warranted the arrest.

It is alleged that Dr. McLeod was called into the case after the first operation was performed in the Tremont street office, and that he performed a second operation of a desperate nature in a vain attempt to save the life of the young woman. After Miss Geary failed to recover, it is alleged, Dr. McLeod in an effort to conceal the crime dismembered the body.

Dr. McLeod will be arraigned in court tomorrow. No sum has been set to night as the amount of his bail bond, but District Attorney M. J. Soghrue stated that, owing to the gravity of the charge, it would be large.

Morris Nathan, the lover of Miss Geary, who was arrested in Pittsburg last Saturday night and brought to this city in a state of collapse, is gradually recovering at the city hospital, where he was taken on his arrival here, and will probably be arraigned in court Monday.

While at first the police were of the opinion that Nathan was not directly connected with the case, they now say that he conducted the negotiations with the proprietors of the Tremont street establishment, with which Crawford was connected, and that he was fully aware of the result of the operation.

Following the arrest of Dr. McLeod, Captain Dugan sent out inspectors in search of a woman who, according to the police, had been employed as a nurse at a house in Roxbury, where Miss Geary was sent to recover after the operation. It is claimed that the nurse was present at the second operation alleged to have been performed by Dr. McLeod and knows the relations the Dr. bore to the office where the dead girl underwent the original operation.

On the strength of the alleged statement by Timothy Howard, one of the New York suspects, that the head of the suitcase victim had been thrown from a ferryboat into the Boston Harbor in a weighted handbag, the police today began dragging the bottom of the harbor.

Police Captain Dugan today obtained warrants for the arrest of Crawford and Howard on the charge of committing an illegal operation on Susan Geary. A warrant was also issued against Howard, charging him with being an accessory to the fact.

New York, Nov. 3.—Supt. Pierce of the Boston police, and Chief Watts, of the Massachusetts state police arrived today, accompanied by the witness in the suitcase mystery. They left Boston at midnight.

When the Boston party arrived at police headquarters today, the prisoners were brought out for inspection. Chief Watts recognized Watson and said:

"I feel sure Crawford is the headman in this case. He was the principal at the house of Dr. Bishop, and it was through him, I believe, that Howard, or Hunt, as he calls himself, was brought into the case."

Chief Watts said that the case against those who caused the death of Miss Geary was practically complete now, but there probably would be other arrests in a few days.

Crawford was dressed by order of the New York police in gray clothing, which was first seen by the Boston police officials and their witnesses. He had on the same clothing which he is believed to have worn in Boston while making his alleged trip with the suitcases to Boston harbor. In his room at 72 West Eighty-ninth street the police found a gray suit and a long slate-colored raincoat, both of which resembled the clothing that Cabman Howard said the man wore when he drove from Boston to Chelsea.

When the cab driver saw Crawford he immediately identified him as one of the two men who were in his cab with suitcases on the night when the girl's body was thrown into the harbor. He also identified the prisoner Howard as Crawford's companion that night.

Later the two pawnbrokers and one of the pawnbrokers' clerks identified the prisoners.

The New York police announced after this identification, that Crawford, who was reticent when arrested last night, said that he was one of the men who helped dispose of the body. The prisoners were arraigned in the Tombs court, but were remanded to the police without examination.

Portland, Nov. 3.—Nellie Winzenried of 408 Hall street this morning escaped a serious accident and what might have been death. She had come out from the Portland Business college, where she is a student, and started across Washington street at Park street. A covered delivery wagon hid an approaching car from view and she stepped into the middle of the track just as the Willamette Heights car came up.

The bolts above the fender caught her up by the skirt and held her about the waist, pushing her along before the car for several feet. Motorman Christensen stopped the car as quickly as possible and the girl was dragged out unharmed but shrieking with terror. Her body had been pressed against the front of the wheel but the bolt that held her kept her from being dragged under by pushing her forward.

Mountain View, O. T., Nov. 4.—At 5:45 this afternoon a terrible tornado visited this city on the southwest and plowed its way through to the northeast, totally destroying everything in its path. Seven were killed and 15 injured. The Manhattan hotel has been converted into a morgue. This catastrophe is second only to the great Snider disaster last spring.

More than a dozen buildings were wrecked, but the business district was not in the path of the cyclone and sustained but slight damage. Streets were flooded like rivers. There were trees uprooted and buildings wrecked.

The 6 months-old child was found dead at 6:30. Its head was crushed almost beyond recognition.

Washington, Nov. 4.—The minister of foreign affairs at Peking has requested the American minister to inform this government that the Chinese government is profoundly humiliated and distressed at the massacre of five American missionaries at Lienchow and has promised prompt and vigorous action.

London, Nov. 6.—The Odessa correspondent of the Standard under date of Nov. 5, sends further sensational accounts of the riots here. He says:

"There have been more horrifying massacres and fiendish cruelties, but the districts where these took place are now cordoned by troops. Probably the total killed will number 3500 and the wounded 12,000.

In the suburb of Moldovanka alone 1,000 victims remained in the streets from midnight until noon, when the authorities hastened to collect and bury the bodies in great pits in order to conceal their numbers. Two private doctors attended more than 300 children of both sexes who had been horribly gashed about the head and soldiers with sabres.

"Heaping insult on injury the civil governor today, when the butchers had ended, asked the householders to subscribe $100,000 to pay the police increased wages."

MOB BURNS KISHINEFF

WHOLE CITY IS DESTROYED BY THE REVOLUTIONISTS.

All of Southern Russia convulsed by Furious Outbreak Against Persecuted Race—Ten Thousands Killed—Soldiers Join With People.

Kishineff, Nov. 4.—Kishineff's streets run red with blood. Jews are being slaughtered by scores; homes pillaged, women despoiled. Never before has such a violent anti-Semitic outbreak been known, even here, where slaughters of Jews only recently horrified the world.

London, Nov. 4.—The Odessa correspondents of the London Daily Mail and Daily Telegraph this morning wired their papers that Kishineff is in flames and absolutely destroyed. They also add that three suburbs of Odessa have been devastated by mobs.

It will be a week before all the horrible tale of Jewish massacres throughout Russia comes to light and then, when the full number of dead is known, its appalling total will be so heavy it will practically be beyond belief.

Odessa, Nov. 3.—A dispatch from Kishineff says: A horrible massacre has occurred here. Hundreds have been killed. All the hospitals, pharmacies and hotels are full of wounded and mutilated persons.

A telegram from Nicolaieff says the whole town is in the hands of bandits who are devastating houses and shops, and beating people to death without the slightest hindrance. The authorities hear similar news from other southern cities.

London, Nov. 3.—A special to the Standard from Odessa, says:

Three railway stations have been burned between Odessa and Shmerinka, and the postal service has been suspended. Collisions between armed forces continued until late at night in three districts. Today's casualties are believed to have numbered about 500.

Among the incidents I witnessed today was the following. A student and a girl were driving in a droshky, the girl wearing a red cross armband. Six Cossacks were quietly passing, when suddenly the girl fired, wounding one of them in the leg. The Cossacks replied, shooting the student dead. The student attempted to flee, but was shot, and as she fell it could be seen that the feminine dress masked a student.

The Chief correspondent of Reuter's Telegram Company, under date of November 3, says:

"The Jewish quarter has been given over to plunder, raids and murder ever since the emperor announced the granting of a constitution. On that day during a monster demonstration in front of the town hall, a shot suddenly was heard. The Cossacks and dragoons immediately charged into the crowd, firing right and left, and the police and others dragged away the dead and wounded, numbering more than 130, into the neighboring court yards, while the terror-stricken demonstrators fled, pursued by a mob of ruffians, who attacked them as they ran.

"At 7 o'clock in the evening an organized attack on the Jewish quarter began, on the pretext that during the week a portrait of the emperor had been insulted in the town hall. The lower quarter of the town, Podlik, was sacked, and, although the authorities promised a Jewish deputation protection, the pillage lasted all night long. Warehouses were looted and people robbed; incendiarism was indulged in, and many were killed.

Warsaw, Russian Poland, Nov. 3.—A remarkable feature of the demonstrations here was the fraternizing of the people of the soldiers. The latter were carried about on the shoulders of the crowd, and were furnished with champagne and cigarettes. All classes of the population participated in the demonstrations. The orchestra of the Court Theatre led a crowd singing "The Marseillaise." All the stores were closed.

The greatest rage is felt against the Cossacks, whose attack on the crowd before the City Hall was unprovoked. Many were killed or wounded.

At a socialist mass meeting this afternoon two infantry soldiers in full uniform delivered revolutionary addresses, assuring their hearers that the revolutionary propaganda was growing in the army, and that the time was not far remote when the army would join in a revolution to overthrow a despotic throne. The meeting resolved to exclude newspapers, bakers and butchers, and cafes and restaurants from the general strike.

A bomb was thrown into the telegraph office at Odessa today, and 12 telegraphers were killed or wounded.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 3.—It is semi-officially calculated that in the rioting since Wednesday fully 10,000 have been killed and as many more seriously wounded in 50 leading provincial towns.

Berlin, Nov. 4.—The Tageblatt prints the following dispatch from the Jewish owner of three houses in Kieff:
