A POISONOUS ACT

TRYED TO KILL INMATES OF HEPPNER BOARDING HOUSE.

Number of Boarders Ill, but Early Discovery Prevents Fatal Results—Man Accused Had Quarrelled With Land-lady.

Heppner, Or., April 6.—A mysterious attempt at wholesale poisoning, resulting in the illness of several persons, through the placing of oxalic acid in the coffee served the boarders at the boarding house conducted by Miss Mary Behrns, has caused great excitement here. Early discovery of the presence of the poison alone prevented more serious consequences. J. H. Bode, stepfather of Miss Behrns, has been arrested for the crime, though he strenuously denies his guilt.

The poison was discovered by T. R. Gaynor, W. S. Wharton, and one or two other boarders who were the first in to breakfast. They started to drink their coffee and noticed the peculiar taste it had. Mr. Gaynor, who had drunk part of his cup began to feel sick. It was noted that the cream as soon as put in the coffee curdled, and thinking it might be sour, the landlady's attention was called, but investigation showed it to be all right.

The coffee pot and teakettle were then examined and the inside of these vessels were found to be black, particularly the teakettle. The boarders, thinking something must be wrong, had the contents of both coffee pot and teakettle analyzed which disclosed the fact that they both contained a large dose of oxalic acid which might have caused serious results had it not been discovered in time.

J. H. Bode, a tailor, who is Miss Behrns' stepfather, is under arrest accused of the crime, although there is only circumstantial evidence against him.

In a recent altercation with Miss Behrns he is said to have threatened to get even with her, and it is alleged he also has a grudge against her boarders, claiming they broke up his home. His wife, Miss Behrns' mother, recently secured a divorce from him on the grounds of cruel treatment, and charged that he repeatedly pointed a revolver at her and threatened to kill her. In a fit of rage yesterday afternoon he went into Miss Behrns' house and smashed dishes, broke up furniture and poured carbolic acid on the piano, ruining the instrument. Bode is a German and has been in the tailoring business here for five or six years. He uses oxalic acid to clean clothes.

It is thought the poison was put in the teakettle Wednesday night while Miss Behrns and her brother were at the theatre. The rear entrance to the house could not be locked and it would have been an easy matter to get in undetected. A neighbor who lives across the alley says she saw some one come out of the back door of the boarding house between 10 and 11 o'clock but was not able to tell who it was.

The doctors who analyzed the water in the teakettle say there was enough oxalic acid in it to kill 30 persons. Bode declares that he is innocent and can prove it. T. R. Gaynor, who got the worst dose, is the chief mover in the prosecution.

New York, April 7.—Two weeks ago Miss Johnstone Bennett, a short time since the idol of the Rialto and the star in a dozen high-class theatrical productions, was an emaciated, dying consumptive, despaired of by many eminent physicians and hopelessly resigned to death.

Today she was seen at her country home near Bloomfield, New Jersey, lying in her bed reading a novel, her face of regular contour, her eyes bright and apparently speedily recovering from the dread disease, all through the wonderful discovery and application of the curative properties of the Bermuda onion by Mark Golinsky, a scientist who has made an exhaustive study of tuberculosis.

"I have decided to live," said Miss Bennett. "For a while I prepared myself to die. It seemed inevitable. Doctors gave me no hope, my temperature was enormous and I could not speak a word. Today I believe I could walk with a little effort. And it is only six weeks since I was taken from a train in a semi-conscious condition to die in my old home."

Dr. Golinsky speaks with confidence of one that has tested his own theory in practice. He avers that he can cure tuberculosis in the first stage by the end of four weeks and any case within six weeks.

"My results in the treatment of consumption are only forthcoming after 20 years of study and research," said Golinsky at the bedside of his patient. "I began first with yellow fever in Cuba and found that onions were a positive preventive if not a cure. I found that no germ could live near an onion, that the fumes of an onion would spell death to the most virulent of the poisonous germs."

"I gradually evolved my theory so as to effect the treatment of tuberculosis and success has crowned my labors."

Dr. Golinsky declares that within the short time that he has been practicing onion treatment he has not had a patient die, and he has taken them in every stage of the disease, even when death seemed to have claimed the victim.

IMPORTANT TO CORVALLIS.

Profit by This and Find Safeguard Against Many Ills.

Nothing is more important to Corvallis than the good health of her people. How can they fill their place in this town unless they are well?

No one trouble is responsible for more nervous ills, sleeplessness, general debility, weakness, back-aches, rheumatic pains, even ill-temper and peevishness, than indigestion.

Fortunately a combination of remedies, called Mi-o-na stomach tablets, has been discovered that absolutely cures indigestion and restores to health and strength the whole digestive system. The use of Mi-o-na is a safeguard against many ills; it acts directly upon the gastric glands, restores perfect action to the digestive organs, aids the assimilation of food, and strengthens the whole digestive system that you can eat anything at any time without fear of indigestion.

Just one little tablet out of a 50 cent box of Mi-o-na before meals for a few days, and you will soon regain perfect health and strength, and be able to eat anything digestible without fear of stomach difficulties.

So reliable is Mi-o-na in curing all forms of stomach weakness and troubles that Graham & Wells give a signed guarantee that the remedy will cost nothing unless it cures. Mi-o-na sells for 50 cents and is invaluable to any one who suffers with indigestion, nervousness or weak stomach.

Philomath Items.

People are taking advantage of the fine weather to plant gardens and finish spring sowing. Crops are in a flourishing condition.

Two buggy loads of students with one of the teachers of the Agricultural College, attended the medical contest, held under the auspices of the local prohibition alliance, in the chapel, Thursday evening. In the company were Miss Mary Sutherland, and John Withycombe, a student of the college, who served as judges in the contest.

The Benton County Lumber Co., employing about 50 men, is turning out a vast quantity of lumber for the market. As the weather becomes settled so that building can progress orders for lumber are beginning to come in about as fast as they can be conveniently filled.

The doctors who analyzed the water in the teakettle say there was enough oxalic acid in it to kill 30 persons.

Bode declares that he is innocent and can prove it. T. R. Gaynor, who got the worst dose, is the chief mover in the prosecution.

FINALLY CAUGHT

JACK MITCHELL CHARGED WITH TWO MURDERS, ARRESTED AT EUGENE.

Local Detectives Nearly Had Him, But he Escaped, Only to Be Captured by Southern Sheriff Before Leaving Train.

Dodged Officers of Three States.

Portland, Or., April 7.—Portland Journal.—Jack Mitchell, accused in five states of horse stealing, train robbery and the murder of two sheriffs' deputies, has been repeatedly declared that he would never be taken alive, was captured at Eugene yesterday afternoon through the efforts of the local police department. Detectives Vaughn and Hellyer had the man almost within their grasp at Montavilla Thursday, where they went disguised as members of a surveying party, but he gave them the slip that night. He will be sent to Idaho for trial for the murder of a deputy sheriff who tried to arrest him as a horse thief.

For more than two years the authorities of Montana and Idaho have been searching for Mitchell. Three other states took part in the man hunt at different times, but all finally gave up the chase except the Idaho authorities and railroad detectives. Mitchell was trailed into Canada by a railway detective and a short time ago to Portland. The aid of the local department was asked and by instructions of chief Gritsmacher Inspector Bruin detailed detectives Vaughn and Hellier to assist in capturing the noted desperado.

"I will never be taken alive." That is the sentence repeatedly uttered by Mitchell, and the two detectives were made acquainted with the murderous nature, courage and indomitable will of the man with whom they were dealing. It was ascertained that Mitchell's wife, whose maiden name was Colwell, lives at Montavilla with her brother and sister. The detectives watched the home for two or three days and were finally rewarded by catching sight of Mitchell. Knowing him to be armed, Vaughn and Hellyer, and the railway detective attired themselves as members of a surveying party and pretended to work in the vicinity of the house.

Mitchell became suspicious of their actions, kept close to the house and after dark Thursday night made his escape.

The detectives next learned that he applied several days ago at a local employment office for work and was promised it at Drain, Oregon.

They then discovered that he took the train from here for Drain. Word was telephoned the Eugene authorities and yesterday afternoon Sheriff Fisk and Chief of Police Farrington boarded the train from Portland and arrested him on description.

Detective Vaughn was sent after him and arrived in the city with his prisoner this morning. Mitchell is still ignorant that the authorities know who he is and that he is to be sent to Idaho for trial for murder.

More than two years ago Mitchell is said to have helped rob a Northern Pacific train in Montana. He was trailed by a posse to an Indian reservation and escaped, after killing one of the posses. He was next hunted for horse stealing and in Idaho killed a deputy sheriff in a posse searching for him in the hills. His trail was taken up there by the railway detective, who has followed him pertinaciously for months.

Sheriff Fisk and Chief of Police Farrington knew the character of the man and were told of his declaration that he never would be taken alive. Yet they took the chance of a revolver duel with him rather than have a number of deputies after him, as they believed that too many men might cause confusion and give the man an opportunity to escape.

Good for Stomach Trouble and Constipation.

"Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets have done me a great deal of good," says C. Towns, of Rat Portage, Ontario, Canada. "Being a mild physic the after effects are not unpleasant, and I can recommend them to all who suffer from stomach disorder." For sale by Graham & Wortham.

BUYING HORSES.

And Shipping Them out of Benton—

Surplus is Nearly Exhausted.

Benton county is almost in the throes of a horse famine. Sales of equines have proceeded so freely that the surplus is about exhausted. Another shipment of eight head left for Portland by last Friday's boat. They were picked up by Mr. Murphy, a well known buyer. Three came from the farm of the late C. M. Smith, and others from Jesse Wiley. Buyers are paying far less attention to ages, size and other points now. As the supply lessens they become less particular. Old horses of a dozen years and upwards have been recently sold at sky prices. The statement is that buyers are frequently in the country precincts, picking up animals wherever and whenever it is possible.

Peter Bilyeu recently sold his black team for $125. The buyer took the span to Portland and chanced to be passing along the street where a team and wagon was stuck in the mud. He hitched on his span and pulled them out, and, on the spot, sold the Corvallis team for $275.

It is understood that many of the horses being shipped out are being sent forward to work on the various railroad lines that are under construction in the Northwest.
