FRIGHTENED BY IT.

And Easterners Dont Seek Western Homes so Much —Frisco Earthquake.

A marked decrease in the arrival of Eastern homeseekers has been noticeable since the San Francisco earthquake. Real estate agents and others in all parts have observed the difference, and called attention to it. For several weeks after the earthquake there was practically no arrivals whatever. Of late, however, a few have begun coming but not in the numbers formerly in vogue.

That the earthquake was the cause of the condition is known by reason of the fact that in several instances Eastern friends wrote persons who had come out to the Coast and urged them to return East where dreadful earthquakes never happen, but where cyclones occasionally blow up a town or city or raise the devil generally. Real estate agents also report that for a time correspondence with Easterners inquiring after Western homes, ceased altogether. Of course to people east of the Rockies, everything on the Coast is "The West" and to thousands an earthquake in California means that the whole Coast is quaky, and that settles it. In time they ought to learn that Oregon is free from the troubles that fret the rest of humankind.

Chief of Police Notice

I wish to call the attention of the public to ordinance No. 196 which was approved by the Mayor on March 26th 1906 regulating the use of barbed wire in the construction of fences and also regulating the swinging of gates, which in substance is as follows:
Sec. 1. No barbed wire fences shall be constructed or allowed to remain bordering upon or adjacent to any street within the corporate limits of the City of Corvallis.
Sec. 2. No person, firm or corporation owning or occupying any premises abutting upon any street in the City of Corvallis shall hereafter hang, construct, maintain or allow to remain any swinging gate which may swing over any part of any street or sidewalk within the corporate limits of the City of Corvallis.
If the provisions of this ordinance are not complied with by the 1st day of July 1906 it will be incumbent upon me to enforce the law.
