MORE DOTAGE WANTED.

If, as Senator Fulton says, Secretary Hitchcock is in his "dotage" Dr. Osler is a badly mistaken man. With Hitchcock as the test, it is not old men "in their dotage" that ought to be chloroformed, but rather some of the young men like Puter, McKinley, and kindred ilk. What the layman knows of Secretary Hitchcock is, that the limit of his offending seems to have been the prosecution of certain persons who vast tracts of the public domain. they reared and plunged, seeming-The scandal of this robbery and against the possion over the largest type and horizon for some strong arm that however, to the reins, and between would put an end to it.
