—Albany Herald: W. Lair Thompson returned Sunday night from Newport after a short stay at the seaside. On the way over, while passing through from one coach to another, the wind took his fine Panama hat, and a section hand near Summit is now believed to be the proud wearer of it.

—Albany Democrat: Mr. and Mrs. Bert Bryant, of Prescott, Wash., who have been in the city while on their bridal trip, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Rose, left this morning for Astoria and other points before returning home. Bert Bryant will be remembered as one of O. A. C.'s brightest and handsomest students during the years of 1901-2.

—An exchange tells the following: A very poor man applied for membership in a very exclusive church. They hardly liked to turn him down so requested him to take the matter to the Lord and come again. In about two months he showed up. They questioned him as to what reply, if any, he had received, and he said: "The Lord told me not to be discouraged. He said he had been trying to get into that church for seven years, but had not succeeded."

—Millinery at cost for the next 30 days at Barclay & Barclay's 12

—Mr. Henning, the father of Albin J. Henning, the latter of whom was a promising O. A. C. graduate who died at Eugene a few months ago, was in town yesterday. He is out on the coast settling up the estate of his son. In the estate is 320 acres of land in Lane county. Another son is lawyer Henning, who was prosecutor of the Wisconsin millionaire speculators who were engaged in the land frauds in Oregon, and who escaped on the first count but have since been arrested. The elder Henning says they ought all be sent to the penitentiary, because they are all guilty. He adds that they are all millionaires and had no need to be out stealing timber lands from the Oregon people.

Death and Funeral of Mrs. Zelie Guyot Dodele of Wells.

The funeral of Mrs. Zelie Guyot Dodele, mother of Paul, Felix, and Eugene Dodele, and Mrs. Columbus Read, occurred from North Palestine church Sunday. The service was widely attended, the entire north end of the county having turned out to pay a last tribute of respect to the memory of the deceased. The interment was in the churchyard burial ground. Mrs. Dodele died Saturday morning after an illness of only a few days.

Zelie Guyot was born in Belgium July 2, 1822, and at the time of her death was aged 84 years and 12 days. With her husband and family she came to Benton county in 1868, and settled on the old Dodele homestead in the north end of the county, which has continued in the Dodele family ever since. The husband was Gustave Dodele, a highly respected and thrifty farmer who died ten years ago. They were married in Belgium 1846, and came to the United States in the latter part of 1854, settling in Illinois. Mrs. Dodele was highly esteemed by all who knew her.

them to me. I have money enough to buy another."

The revolver with which the killing was done was bought with part of the witness fees paid Esther Mitchell and Creffield's widow as witnesses at George Mitchell's trial.

No one who heard those Mitchell girls testify as they did before me at the time Creffield was convicted here could possibly think they were insane," said District Attorney Manning this morning. "If Esther Mitchell is tried, the jury would undoubtedly find her guilty of murder, and I think such a verdict would be a just one."

"George Mitchell went up to Seattle and killed Creffield, who should have been killed, as any other decent man anywhere would have killed him. He did it for his sisters. Now this girl shoots him down as he is ready to start home. My opinion is that no girl who is not utterly depraved could do such a thing, especially in view of what her brother did for her."

"Mitchell was a nice, steady young fellow and I am very sorry to learn of his death. I believe that Maud Hurt Creffield ought to be punished just as severely as Esther Mitchell, for Mrs. Creffield put the girl up to shooting her brother."

When Mr. Manning was seen this morning a rumor was being circulated on the street that Esther Mitchell had committed suicide.

"It is a good thing," said he when he heard it. "Mrs. Creffield ought also to commit suicide."

"I am very sorry that King county, Washington, has been put to so much expense over this affair when all the parties concerned are transients and properly belonged down here," continued the district attorney.

"I regret very much that young Mitchell died and I want to see his sister justly punished for her crime."

LINES.

I pity the man, I'll not tell his name,
Who fought in his state, for a man of shame.

A man that pretended to be all good,
Only to draw away souls from their God.

A man that would enter another's door,
To betray the wife and teach to "roll on the floor."

One with teachings that are a shame to repeat,
A man that for there was shot in the street.

Too bad that a man in this land of light,
Should plead for man with teachings as dark as night,

And tarnish his name for money or fame,
By pleading for him of blackest shame.

THE LAUE PRIZE

For Pharmacy Students at the State College—Awarded Annually.

A cash prize of $50 is hereafter to be competed for each year by students of the pharmacy department at the college. The founder of the prize is John M. A. Laue of Portland, who is owner of five fine drug stores in that city, president of the Oregon Pharmaceutical Association, chairman of the State Board of pharmacy, and who is one of the leading pharmacists of the state. He made his purpose known to Prof. Clarence McKellips at a banquet given by the latter last Friday at Hotel Corvallis to the members of the Pharmaceutical Association, then enroute home from their annual meeting at Newport.

Mr. Laue was a member of the state board that conducted the examination of pharmacy graduates at the college last June, and he was so well pleased with his observations of the department and its work at the time that the new prize was founded by way of approval and encouragement. It will be awarded at commencement time on terms and conditions to be fixed by Prof. McKellips, and will be open to all pharmacy students. It has been christened the Laue prize.
