LOCAL LORE.

For advertisements in this column the rate of 15 cents per line will be charged.

—Merle Hammond went to the bay Saturday for a few days outing.

—Ed Hufford passed through Corvallis Saturday enroute to Newport for a month.

—Ray Goodrich, of Eugene, was a passenger on Saturday's C. & E. train for Newport.

—J. D. Irvine was over from Brownsville on a business trip the first of the week.

—For sale. All kinds household goods. J. H. Price, corner Monroe and 9th sts. Phone 183.

—Frank Gray and Louis Hollenberg are to leave Saturday for Stirling, a town in Northern California, where they have mining interests. They are to be absent a week.

—W. F. Whitney has arrived from Colorado, and is looking for a farm to purchase. He formerly lived at Indianola, Nebraska, where he was the neighbor of O. F. Gray.

—Thos. Whitehorn, Henry Gerhard and William Broders left Monday by team for the Coos bay country. The party will be absent about two months.

—Kline's base ball team defeated a picked nine at Newport Sunday by a score of seven to eight. Bayne and Cooper were the battery for the local men. Their opponents included four Siletz braves and first class players from Eugene, Forest Grove, Portland, Astoria and elsewhere.

—A Eugene man was in town the other day, looking for a location and a dwelling house. He lost a son in the late typhoid fever epidemic at Eugene, and volunteered the information to the owner of a Corvallis house which he inspected, that he wanted to get to a place where there is a proper water supply.

—Thomas Leese came out Sunday night from Newport, where he has recently established a new banking house, making a chain of three banks of which he is the head, one at Corvallis, one at Toledo and the new one at Newport. Mr. Leese has been kept at Newport for several weeks during the process of getting the new establishment in running order, and his presence will continue to be required there more or less during the present busy season. The business of the establishment is opening up in much greater volume than was originally expected by its promoters.

—Mr. Ogg, an Iowa lawyer who was out here three years ago, is shortly to start from his Iowa home for Corvallis on a hunting expedition. He will be accompanied by his wife and two sons. On a former visit he spent a month with O. J. Blackledge at Yachats, and the pleasure derived on that occasion brings Mr. Ogg west for a repetition of it. Mr. Blackledge has engaged rigs for the trip from Corvallis, and if details are carried out according to schedule the expedition will start from here for Yachats about August 1st, which will be within a short time after Mr. Ogg's arrival from Iowa.

—The aisles and platforms of the coaches on Sunday's excursion to Newport were crowded with passengers, unable to find seats. Something like 400 people made the trip, and there were but four coaches for their use. One hundred and thirty people went from Corvallis, many of them going on season tickets. Six coaches were on the train on the return trip, but even then a few were compelled to stand. The C. & E. has only about one-half enough coaches to accommodate its summer business. It is a traffic that is growing immensely, and the company will evidently have to buy more rolling stock in order to handle it.

—Talk around town is to the effect that another hose cart ought to be bought, and that one ought to be stationed in the northwest and one in the southwest part of town, with two at the city hall. There are now three on hand. An additional 500 feet of hose and a new hose cart with a nozzle would be all that would have to be bought by the city the total cost not exceeding $450. It is said that citizens have offered to supply places for the carts to be kept if the city would provide such an arrangement as is above proposed. "What the city ought to do is to sell the fire engine and apply the proceeds to the purpose," is what Fire Chief Berry said about it. The proposed distribution of the carts would give Corvallis, with its present fire alarm system, excellent water pressure and many fire plugs one of the most effective systems of fire protection in the country.

—Miss Birdie Fletcher left Monday for Newport for an outing.

—Travis McDewitt went to Newport Sunday for a week's rest.

—Mrs. M. L. Ireland went to Newport Monday for a ten days' stay.

—Miss Marie Groves left Sunday for a visit with McMinnville relatives.

—Mrs. Ed Andrews was the guest over Sunday of Portland relatives.

—Mrs. J. R. Smith and daughter Grace, were guests over Sunday of Independence friends.

—Kline's base ball team is to play another game with the Newport team next Sunday.

—Miss Mary Sutherland returned Saturday to her home at Shedd's. She was accompanied by Miss Mabel Keady.

—The electric light company is setting 19 new poles from the old plant to the new one. They expect to have day service about the first of August.

—Miss Margaret McCormack leaves in the morning for her home at Lebanon, after a two weeks' visit with Miss Mary Elgin.

—W. S. Linville left Sunday to spend a week at his old home at Parker. A large family reunion occurred there yesterday.

—Misses Lillian Ranney and Iva Barclay spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Barclay.

—Excursion to Newport leaves Corvallis at eight o'clock tomorrow morning.

—Miss Louise Webber of Portland passed through this city yesterday enroute to Newport for a week's stay.

—Mr. and Mrs. Irving M. Glen of Eugene spent Saturday in this city. They were enroute to Dallas where they expect to spend a month with relatives.

—Miss Bertha Thrasher is expected to arrive tomorrow for a visit of a month with her parents.

—Mrs. Ed Andrews returned Monday from a visit of a few days in Portland. She was accompanied home by her brother.

—Mrs. Sarah Elgin and children left today for Newport where they will camp for a month.

—Sheriff Stevens of Portland was a Corvallis visitor Saturday. While in the city he was a guest at the Jacobs home.

—Mort Abbey of Condon passed through this city Saturday. He was on his way to Newport to visit his parents.

—The peaches in the John Kiger orchard will be ready for picking the last days of this week. The crop of Hales Early and Charlottes is very fair, and there will be a small yield of Early Crawfords with a better crop of late Crawfords. Those who wish to do their own picking will be allowed to do so at a dollar a bushel. The orchard is located on Kiger Island south of town. In most orchards in this vicinity, the peaches are almost a total failure.

—There is, if a promise is worth anything, to be an end of the blocking of streets by the Southern Pacific railroad trains. The matter has been the subject of complaint for a long time. Last Friday, after an unusually aggravating case of it, J. B. Irvine, superintendent of streets wrote Superintendent Fields concerning the matter. In a letter received by Mr. Irvine this morning, Superintendent Fields expresses thanks for the fact that his attention has been called to the condition, and adds, that measures will be taken to prevent further occurrences of the sort. Teams, pedestrians, women, baby carriages and everything else were held up for full fifteen minutes by a long train Friday, the incident being but one of hundreds of the kind that have happened.

—The barn and contents, the house and contents, and a stack containing 16 tons of hay owned by Haman Lewis, a few miles north of Corvallis was burned last week. The house caught fire at six o'clock Friday night, and was totally destroyed, involving a loss of about $200. At the same time the following evening, the barn took fire and burned to the ground, including about 30 tons of hay and a stack containing 16 tons of hay that stood near. The barn was valued at $400, which with the hay makes a loss of $600, or a total loss, including the house of $800. The house was unoccupied, but Mr. Lewis had been there during the day, putting up hay, and had left but a short time before the fire broke out. The property is located half a mile north of the Ireland hop yard.

—Mrs. Kohn and Miss Florence Kohn returned to Portland Monday after a visit at the Jacobs home.

—The city council deliberated last night on the subject of Mountain water, and what figure the city government is to pay for fire protection. It is said to be the sentiment of the council that the water consumers ought not to be made to bear the whole burden of furnishing fire protection for the city, especially for such as are not patrons of Mountain water, as would be the case if the city paid nothing for fire protection. The idea that the large property owners should pay more for fire protection because they have more property to be protected, was held out by one councilman, and he urged that a tax is only equitable method of reaching it. It is said that about $1,200 per year for water for city uses is the figure most often mentioned as fair.

COMING BACK.

To Birth Place—Big Increase in Salmon Expected at Yaquina.

Ten million salmon eggs were taken last season at the hatchery, three miles above Elk City on the Elk river. The coming season, the result of the hatchery operations on Elk river are expected to be manifest in an increased run of salmon. It is the theory, that, for spawning purposes, the salmon return to the waters in which they were hatched. Two million of them were turned loose the first season the Elk river hatchery was established, and these are due to return this autumn. A still greater increase should be manifest next season, as 6,000,000 young salmon were turned loose the second year of the hatchery. The third year the number was 8,000,000 and last year it was rolled up to 10,000,000. A large number of the young fish from the last two years' run were placed in the waters of the Alsea, mostly in Drift Creek, because of lack of food supply for such a swarm of youngsters in the waters of Yaquina and Elk rivers.

FLOYD WILLIAMS.

Now A-Field in Philippines—Was he in Sunday's Fight?

A lieutenant of constabulary was killed in the Philippine Islands Sunday. Six hundred hostile natives attacked a small detachment of the constabulary on the island of Leyte, and in addition to the lieutenant, killed 13 privates. What makes the fact of extreme interest here is that the officer in charge of the constabulary was Lieut. Williams, and he is supposed to be Lieut. Floyd Williams, the well known O. A. C student and athlete. The dispatch giving details of the engagement is to be found in another column. Clyde Williams, a brother at Independence, when asked by phone this morning, declared it to be the belief of the family that the Williams referred to, in the dispatch is Floyd. A letter from Floyd received not long ago announced that he was to leave Manila July 1st and go into the field. That he should have been placed in charge of the detachment is not unlikely, as Floyd had written that he expected promotion, having already been shown favors from superior officers in the way of a clerkship from which he received extra emolument and privilege. The officer who was killed was Lieut. Worswick, a graduate of the University of Kansas. He received his appointment last February, and went to Manila on the same transport with Lieut. Williams. News from the scene is awaited here with extreme interest, in the belief that the Lieut. Williams who participated in the fight was none other than the ever popular Oregon boy.

WAS NEWPORT LOVE

And had no lid on it—A Train

That had the Infection—

Some Incidents.

Love was smeared all over the car on the return trip of the Newport excursion Sunday evening. About half a dozen couples of 16 to 18 summers forgot all about the presence of other passengers and yearned for each other with a yearning that was positively pathetic. One maiden and her beau of not more than 19 summers each took turns about sitting on the others lap and leaning on each other, passing a swift kiss back and forth when they thought the rest of the car was not looking. Another fair-haired damsel made the journey of 60 odd miles to Corvallis on the lap and bosom of her youthful beau of not more than 17. Still another with all the symptoms of a sick kitty, and in utter abandon as to appearances, sat with her arms around the neck of her beau, while he, with an air of complacency, sat through the ordeal wholly undisturbed and apparently unaware of the vulgar gaze of passengers accustomed to such affectionate exhibitions. In one seat he and she got to talking baby talk to each other which seemed to be a sort of mixture of humming bird courtship and the wail of two dying calves. An old codger stuck his head in the rear door of the car and, after catching a glimpse of the situation, remarked, "Everybody sleeps but father." Just then the train plunged into a tunnel and after giving vent to a sound like a cow drawing her foot out of the mud, he shut the door and disappeared, much to the disgust of those in love and the amusement of those out of love.

The occurrences are alluded to here, not in criticism for it would be wrong to attempt to put any lid down on true love, but just to show that the new generation courts a little different to what the old one did, especially when the weird effects of the sad sea waves at the Newport beaches are brought into the case. The things told of above are merely what happened outside the tunnels.
