TROOPS TO GO TO CUBA

ORDERS ISSUED BY PRESIDENT FOR ARMY TO PREPARE TO SAIL TO ISLAND AND AT ONCE.

Cuban Government Resigns Office—All Cabinet Members Quit—and Palma Leaves Presidency Tomorrow, For American Occupation.

Havana, Sept. 26.—This afternoon Secretary Taft said: "I have talked with representatives of both parties and I still see light." An official call for a special session of congress has been issued. There is still hope that the moderates will attend the session and allow action to maintain the republic. Senator Dolz, moderate leader, this afternoon intimated that in case the Americans establish government without Palma's party leaders, there will be rebellion against the United States' authority.

Washington, Sept. 26.—The war department received orders from Oyster Bay this morning to have the army ready to go to Cuba on the shortest possible notice.

It is stated that the war department this morning that in the event of armed intervention in Cuba probably every soldier stationed in the United States will have to be sent. In the opinion of the officers of the general staff successive expeditions are necessary until 40,000 men are on Cuban soil. It will be at least seven days before the whole army could be embarked, owing to lack of transportation facilities.

The developments of today have demonstrated that the crisis has arrived. Secretary Taft has not yet thrown up his hands, but his dispatches have convinced officials here that he has little hope of peacefully reconciling the differences of the government and insurgents.

The Cuban moderates have determined to abandon all offices and resign. All members of the cabinet and heads of departments presented to Palma their resignations today, which have been accepted, though the incumbents will retain their positions until the president's resignation is presented to congress, probably tomorrow. The government thus seeks intervention from the United States rather than to submit to a liberal government.

Liberal leader Zayas charges Palma and the administration with treason in delivering the government to the Americans. The moderates accuse the Taft commission with favoring the rebels. The commission criticizes the government for its conciliatory attitude. There is likely to be a quorum in congress Friday. Moderates will urge absenteeism, suspend the government in order to force Americans to seize it. Liberal leaders are either in the woods or in the jail, so they cannot attend.

A conflict between the insurgents and the American forces would be a match which would set the whole island aflame. The authorities here are not waiting for such a catastrophe before completing their preparations for the invasion of the island.

The army does not propose to make two bites of the Cuban cherry. Brigadier General Bell, chief of staff, with a praiseworthy desire to pacify the island in the smallest possible time, proposes to send a big army to Cuba.

Arrangements are being made to send 20,000 men to Cuba. Later on reinforcements of 20,000 men will be transported to the island.

The American army now consists of 65,000 men, 15,000 of whom are in the Philippines and 15,000 are seeking as coast artillerymen, and therefore unavailable for service over the sea. In order to get a large enough army for the occupation of Cuba it will be necessary to increase the army to the full limit authorized by law—100,000 men.

The plan of campaign which the army will follow will be this: garrisons will be established in every city, town and hamlet, and upon large estates. These garrisons will be required to maintain the peace within a certain zone. Expeditions will penetrate the mountains and jungles and destroy the bands, or keep them on the move.

It may become necessary to establish reconcentration camps after all. The authorities here realize that this will cause some harsh criticism, because the American people will remember the awful consequences of the reconcentration policy of General Weiler when he was acting as governor-general of Cuba. But American military experts have come to the conclusion from their experience in the Philippines that General Weiler knew his business. General Bell was compelled to adopt this same policy in South-eastern Luzon.

Washington, Sept. 26.—Upon the request of Secretary Taft, the president has ordered more ships and 1,000 more marines to be sent to Cuba.

All marines now aboard the North Atlantic fleet of battleships numbering 450, are ordered to leave for Cuba immediately. Six hundred from the Atlantic coast stations will follow in a few days. It is intimated that Secretary Taft has warned the president that his mission is likely to fail. Small ships are scarce, so it is likely the battle ships will have to go.

The war department was in close communication with Oyster Bay this morning, and it is believed the president has ordered the department to have the troops ready for emergency.

The battleship Texas and cruiser Brooklyn and Prairie will go to Cuba and the Columbia will also probably go upon her return from Panama with Secretary Root.

Reports from Havana state that Taft is discouraged owing to the reported refusal of President Palma to agree upon the terms that Taft arranged yesterday with the rebels. There is trouble in Havana over the calling of new elections, to which Palma refuses to agree in any measure, especially declining Taft's proposition to submit the question to a commission of government, insurgent and neutral men. Colwell, commander of the Denver, has been invited to review the rebel army tomorrow.

Colonel Duboy, leader of the insurrection in Santiago, died today from lung trouble.

Greenwich, Conn., Sept. 18.—Henry J. Strothkamp owner of a lunacy wagon in Harrison, N. Y., engaged in a prize fight with Phil Ryan, of Port Chester, N. Y., on Monday night and was knocked out in the eighth round, in the presence of about 150 "sports." An hour afterward he was taken ill and died. Ryan gave himself up to the police as soon as he heard of the fatal outcome, and was held in the sum of $4,000 bail by Coroner Van Patton.

The fight took place in Pasquale Turo's hall, on Crotona avenue, on the outskirts of the town of Harrison. The blow that put Strothkamp out occurred about 15 seconds before the end of the round; and after he had been counted out by referee Mike Moylan, of Stamford, Conn., Strothkamp went to the dressing room unassisted and lay down for a rest.

About half an hour afterward, after congratulating Ryan on his victory and saying "So long, old pal!" Strothkamp complained of shortness of breath. Within another half an hour he expired, before any of the half dozen friends present realized his serious condition. He was dead when one of his brothers, Justice of the Peace Strothkamp, and Dr. Leon E. Peeler arrived.

Ryan and the large number of Westchester county "sports" who witnessed the encounter, did not hear of Strothkamp's death until after they arrived home. Ryan was notified by a friend when in bed, and he immediately went to Harrison and gave himself up to the Harrison authorities.

The relatives and friends of the dead man do not harbor any feeling against Ryan. He is grief stricken over the terrible ending of the bout.

Ryan did not know Strothkamp's physical condition on entering the ring. Strothkamp has been suffering from malaria for two weeks. He leaves a wife and three little children.

Folsom, Cal., Sept. 27.—Confident that the governor would interfere to prevent his execution, Adolph Weber maintained a noted indifference up to this morning. Then he showed signs of weakening. His belief that the governor would stay his execution, and not his courage, is what held him up so

THE RACE WAR

MORE NEGROES SHOT DOWN IN ATLANTA, GEORGIA.

Over a Thousand Colored Men Under Arrest—30 Lashes and 50 Years in Prison Is a Sentence Given to a Negro by a Delaware Court.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 25.—The situation at Brownsville seems to be growing worse. It was expected that martial law would be proclaimed before night. The governor has been petitioned to order out additional troops to assist in maintaining order. He will send more troops but will not declare martial law.

The negro prisoners at Brownsville while trying to escape this morning were killed. An hour later a bicycle patrolman was attacked by negroes, who were barricaded. The officer killed two of them and the rest fled.

All students of the Cammon negro seminary at Brownsville were arrested this morning charged with complicity in the attacks on the officers in South Atlanta, last night when patrolman James L. Heard was killed and half a dozen other officers wounded. A number of negroes were killed in the midnight battle with policemen.

Sheriff Nalms, realizing that the troops here are insufficient to preserve order, has sworn in 250 deputies and ask the government for arms and equipment.

Soldiers stationed at Brownsville, near the negro seminary, are arresting every armed negro found. Two hundred and seventy-five were taken early this morning and the police quarters are packed. Over 1,000 are under arrest. Troops stationed at the hardware stores with instructions to kill any one attempting to break in and steal arms. Women have been provided with arms and are determined to protect themselves.

The governor says that he won't declare martial law and says that he will send enough troops to prevent further trouble as fast as they can be mobilized, but the civil authorities can and must control. He refused arms to deputies and said that after he had stopped the lynching he would punish the lynchers. Solicitor General Hill said he would prosecute the lynchers to the full extent of the law.

Wilmington, Del., Sept. 25.—Charles Conley has paid partially the swiftest sentence ever given in a Delaware court. The part he has not fulfilled he will have 50 years to think about, for Conley, a big burly negro, was sentenced by Chief Justice Lore not only to 50 years imprisonment, but was given an additional sentence of 30 lashes on the bare back with a cat-o-nine-tails.

Conley's capture and sentence will go on record as the swiftest administration of Delaware justice. As Mrs. Albert Frankish, a white woman, and her daughter were returning from a farmer's plantation here they were attacked by Conley. The negro attempted a felonious assault on Mrs. Frankish, but before accomplishing his foul design he was alarmed by the daughter's cries and fled.

The assault happened about 8 o'clock at night. Before morning Conley was captured by State Detectives Gray and Hawkins. Before daylight he had confessed. At ten o'clock he was indicted. Twenty minutes later he was tried and before noon was convicted and sentenced to 50 years in the state workhouse and 30 lashes.

He was removed to the workhouse to commence his imprisonment, and on the regular day he received the 30 lashes on the bare back. The whipping attracted an enormous crowd, over 2,500 persons seeking admission to see the negro brute punished, but only a few were admitted by the warden, and among these were some women, Mrs. Frankish and her daughter being among them. Conley took his 30 lashes harder than most prisoners but possibly the warden, who is a friend and neighbor of Mrs. Frankish, took special delight in making every one of the thongs of the cat-o-nine tails cut deep into the flesh.
