—James Flett arrived yesterday from a business trip to Roseburg.

—Victor Moses is on a business trip to Portland today.

—E. R. Bryson has been in Toledo since Saturday. He arrived from there at noon.

—E. E. Wilson has been in Portland since Sunday morning. He returns tonight.

—Prof. Taillandier and Miss Edna Sheehy are to appear in a program at the Catholic Fair tomorrow evening.

—J. H. Roberts chief dispatcher of the C. & E. at Albany passed through town yesterday on his way to Toledo, where he went on business.

—Snook the contractor for the Woman's building at the college has received two carloads of cement. The cars were placed on the switch to the building yesterday.

—The cement walk which is being put in front of the new Post-office building will be completed in a few days.

—Eat your supper with the Catholic ladies at the Opera House tomorrow, Wednesday evening. Tamales, baked beans, pickles, salad ham, bread and butter, fruit, cake and coffee—all for 25 cents.

—There are changes going on in the barber shop of Pat Stewart in the Occidental building. Monday the shop fixtures which had previously been in use at the shop, were shipped to Guy Frink, the Philomath barber. Pat's shop is to be supplied completely with new fixtures, including cases and mirrors of latest design, and chairs of the type known as hydraulic.

—Mrs. John Young was Hostess at an afternoon, Friday, at her home to the members and friends of the Woman's Relief Corps. There were 40 ladies present, the rooms were tastefully decorated with plants and flowers. A recess leading from the reception hall was banked to the ceiling with asparagus ferns and white and gold chrysanthemums. At 4 o'clock a bountiful luncheon was served, which was well relished with chatting and merry-making. It was one of the most delightful affairs of the season.

—A later date has been set for opening the new postoffice. Originally the 10th inst was fixed for the purpose. Delay in building operations however caused a postponement. Arrival of the equipment also figured in the change. The equipment was made to order in the East, and was shipped several weeks ago and was expected here yesterday, but did not come. The safe so far is the only item of the inside finishings that has put in an appearance. The date now fixed for the opening is December 29th, and the event will be pretty sure to take place on schedule time.

—Of the seven coaches of the Northwest, three put Pendergrass of O. A. C. at left guard on the all northwest team, one put Bennett at tackle and one Wolf at half back. Coach Bezdek, whose team was outplayed by O. A. C. in the second half in a scoreless game, put eight U. of O. men on the team and no O. A. C. men. Coach Norcross named four University men for places on the team. Cherrv, who is the best center in the Northwest, though honorably mentioned, got no position even on the third team. Though playing the season through without having their goal line crossed, the O. A. C. men got spare mention for all Northwest honors. Their honors come in the scores which tell the real story after all, and for the O. A. C. lads is enough.

—An event of more than ordinary interest in a musical way was the Taillandier-Sheehy concert at the Congregational church Friday evening. Because of numerous social functions the audience was not large. Mr. Taillandier won great favor as organ soloist last evening and added to it by his performance Friday evening. His program was a varied one of eleven numbers and each was loudly applauded. The occasion was the first public appearance of Miss Sheehy, who came from Washington City a few weeks ago to become instructor in vocal music at the college. Much was expected and there was no disappointment. She has a dramatic soprano voice of great power and sweetness and she uses it with infinite skill. She pleased all so thoroughly that she was obliged on each appearance to respond to an encore. Salve Regina by Dar a gave her opportunity for full display of her powers, and the effect was an inspiration. The proceeds went to the church, both artists having given their services gratis.

IN OTHER FIELDS NOW.

Who was the Stranger—N. A. Fisher, the Music Dealer and his Going.

N. A. Fisher, the music dealer, is in new fields. He left this town Friday night, and the account is that he went hastily. He arrived in the evening from Junction, and took a sudden notion to leave here. Connected with his going is a well authenticated story that a stranger was looking for him, and with an apparent air that meant trouble. In any event, Fisher went after dark to a Job's addition man and offered him $25 to get him to Albany in time to catch the overland. The Job's Additioner did not undertake the job, and another man in that vicinity was accosted on the subject with the same outcome. Finally Mr. Bowser undertook the trip and carried Fisher to his destination.

The urgency of his going was explained by Fisher to the Jobs Addition men, but in each case with the qualification that no warrant was out for his arrest. It is supposed that he did not go to the livery stables, because he feared the strange man might be lurking thereabouts. The man haunted the music store for some time, and finally disappeared. He is described as being very nervous as though laboring under tense mental excitement during the time. Officer Osburn was in conversation with him for a short time.

ARE LODGING COMPLAINTS.

About the Condition of a Well Known Road—Bottom Will Drop out of it, They say.

People who come to town from the south end of the county are loud in their complaints of the roads for several miles south of the J. O. Wilson home. Two or three citizens from that section have requested the TIMES to call attention to the matter, and to urge the importance of bettering conditions. One man said yesterday that on account of the mud and mudholes it is impossible to haul a good load of products to town. Even with a light buggy, he says, it is difficult to travel faster than a walk for a considerable distance. With conditions so unfavorable so early in the winter, people are wondering what will be the situation by the time spring is here.

A few years ago the State road at this end was so nearly impassable that the south end of the county was shut off most of the winter. At that time the TIMES agitated the subject long and earnestly with the result that a movement was inaugurated in which a road was built that has since been a credit to any community. That was several years ago and the road is still one of the best in the county. It is beyond this stretch of road that the conditions are met which are the subject of present complaints. It is said to extend as far southward as the Buttes.

The citizens of the district according to this account, are discussing the question of a good round levy for putting work on the road next summer. The time for reporting such levies expires January 1st.

LAI D TO REST.

From the Church his Labor and Means Went far to Build--A Presbyterian Family.

The funeral of the late Joseph Hanna occurred yesterday from the Presbyterian church. By his own days labor and by contribution of his resources, Mr. Hanna did more than any other man to build the structure, and his burial from the place was fitting. The service was conducted by Rev. Bush and the sermon was by Dr. Thompson. Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Hovenden of Portland, Norris Humphrey and Calvi Hanna of Eugene, and H. E. Shaw of Long Beach, California were relatives who attended the obsequies. There were many followers, and many old neighbors and friends. The interment was in Odd Fellows cemetery. Mrs. Grace Humphrey was too ill to be at the funeral, as was Mrs. Hanna the widow, who is dangerously ill in California.

Mr. Hanna was the son of a Presbyterian minister. There were 12 children of whom all grew to maturity. Nine were boys of whom one was killed in the civil war. Three of the others were Presbyterian ministers, and the other five Presbyteria elders. Of the three daughters, one was the wife of a Presbyterian clergyman and the other two wives of Presbyterian elders.

WOULD IT ALLOW IT.

Court Room to be Used for All-Benton School Fair—Committee at Sea for a Building.

An incident of last week's session of the county court was the refusal to allow the use of the circuit court room for exhibit purposes for the All-Benton School Fair to be held next year. It had been planned to use all vacant rooms for the displays, for which purpose the building is better suited by far than any other edifice in the county. The attorney's room, the circuit court room, the jury rooms, all commodious and airy, together with other large rooms on the third floor would have made room for an exhibit to have been arranged that would have been very fine in its effects. Of course the purpose of the fair is to give children and older people too, practical experience in growing the finest possible productions, competitive influences entering into the idea and furnishing a motive to do superior work. The experience gained naturally becomes of great value afterward to those who struggle for the prizes. At the same time a great assembling of products of a superior character is provided for, and these it was proposed to donate to the county for use at the state fair, or for other purposes. Besides asking for use of the court room which was denied, the committee requested a contribution of $200 in cash, in return for which the exhibit was to be placed at the county court's disposal. The county appropriated $100, but this the committee has declined to accept. The reason for denying the use of the circuit court room, Judge Woodward says, is that the children might scratch the furniture, and that it is not good for too many of them to be passing through the place. The committee agreed to remove all the furniture, and to not only see that the rooms are not damaged, but to make them as good as they were before in case any damage is done. The committee is at sea for a building as there is no other one with so great floor space and so peculiarly fitted for the requirements of the big fair.

A citizen discussing the matter said: "The Fair is the most meritorious proposition that has ever been proposed in Benton county. It is in line with what they are doing in many other counties. It is educational. It gives the school population something to strive for and that brings out the best that is in them. It means three days of a huge crowd for Corvallis. Our business men have endorsed the plan by contribution of more than $1,400. The sum will doubtless be still more increased. Everybody in Benton county wants this Fair. No obstacle ought to be thrown in its way. Its av all-Benton county proposition. The court house is the peoples. If the display of articles on exhibit will injure it, especially when the committee offers to make everything good as it was before, then how about political conventions held there? How about football rallies where everything is bedlam and disorder? "I have observed that the candidates for office go into the country and hold political meetings in the school houses without removing the furniture. It is my opinion that the court decided without fully considering and that the members will yet reverse their action."
