Summons.

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for Benton County.

JAMES W. MELVILLE, Plaintiff, vs. Frank Hale, William W. Hale, Leath McCorkle, Dora E. Ayers, Etta Hopper, Alfred Hale, Jennie Shivers, Frederick Elder and Cynthia J. Sherman, Defendants.

To Frank Hale, Dora E. Ayers, Alfred Hale, Jennie Shivers and Cynthia J. Sherman, the above named defendants: In the name of the state of Oregon, you and each of you are hereby summoned and required to appear and answer the complaint of the plaintiff in the above entitled suit now on file with the clerk of the above entitled court, on or before the last day of the time prescribed in the order for publication of this summons hereinafter referred to, to-wit: On or before March 8, 1907, and you are hereby notified that if you fail to appear and answer the said complaint as herein required, for want thereof the plaintiff will apply to the above entitled court for the relief demanded in his said complaint, to-wit: reforming a certain deed made by Harrison Hale and the defendant, Cynthia J. Hale (now Cynthia J. Sherman) to Theodore Hale, dated January 6, 1875, so that the description therein shall read as follows, to-wit:

Beginning at a point 32 chains east of the southwest corner of claim No. 22, being claim of John Grimsey and wife, in Township twelve, south, range six west, Willamette meridian, thence north 21 degrees 30 min. west ninety and 20.100 chains, thence east fifty-four and 07.100 chains to the west line of the tract of land sold by John Grimsey and wife to George Wilhelm on the 6th day of October, 1868, and recorded October 11, 1868, on page 148 and 149 in Book 6, of the records of deeds of Benton county, Oregon, thence south 11 degrees 15 min. east twenty and 50.100 chains along said west line to the south boundary line of said claim No. 22, thence west twenty-three and 55.100 chains, thence north two chains and thence west twenty-eight chains to the place of beginning, containing 100 acres, being and situated in Benton county, Oregon; that plaintiff do decree the owner in fee simple of the above described real property; that the defendants have no interest or estate therein and that they be barred from claiming any right, title, interest or estate in the above described land.

This summons is published in the Corvallis Times newspaper once a week, for six successive and consecutive weeks, beginning with the issue of January 25, 1907, and ending with the issue of March 8, 1907, under and in pursuance of the directions contained in an order made by the Hon. E. Woodward, judge of the county court of Benton county, state of Oregon, dated January 21, 1907. Date of first publication hereof is January 25, 1907.

E. E. WILSON, Attorney for Plaintiff.

—Through the agency of Ambler & Watters, Z. H. Spencer, of Portland, Wednesday completed the purchase of 100 acres off the north side of the B. F. Totten place at Oak Ridge, for $35 per acre. Mr. Spencer will at once erect a fine farm house on the land and extensively improve the land in other respects.

—Engene Regis'er: When the Salem Journal said there was no taste to a kiss it made the local editor of the Oregon City Star mad and he elucidated thusly: No taste to a kiss? Well, by the hen feathers in Cupid's dart, the Journal man must be blind in the palate. They tell us, those who have tried it, that it tastes like the double distilled essence of honey spread thickly on a piece of pumpkin pie. Away back in the dim and joyful years of long ago, before we lost all our teeth and the cinch on the beauty prize the prettiest girl in all the world told us with her own eyes that it felt like a covey of quails flying out of each ear and ended with a sensation like a flock of angels pouring molasses down ones back. No taste to a kiss, Great Scott! It would make a cigar Indian's hair curly and his toe nails quiver in ecstasy. The Journal man must be an ice house.

—Miss Margaret McCormack of Lebanon, was the guest of Miss Mary Elgin yesterday, returning to her home this morning.

—Miss Mary Jones who is employed as a teacher in the Silverton public school is spending a week's vacation at her home in this city. She returns tomorrow.

—Mrs. Luper, of Heppner, is the guest of her sister-in-law, Mrs. John Spangler. Mrs. Luper has a son attending college.

—Subject at the Christian church next Sunday morning: "First Things First." Evening theme, "Tenting T'ward Sodom" —Morning services at the Congregational church Sunday will be conducted by Mr. Whitehead, and Prof. Taillandier will have charge of the music.

—Miss Mabel Muldrick, who is attending O. S. N. S., arrived yesterday, and is the guest of her brother, John Muldrick, who is an OAC student.

—Archie VanCleve, of last year's graduating class, arrived yesterday from Baker City, and leaves tonight for Manila, Philippine Islands, where he takes a position in the auditing department of the government.

—Samuel Whitesides went to Portland yesterday to bury Emerson Follett, a brother-in-law. Mr. Follett had been ill at St. Vincent hospital during three years past.

—The past sun-hiny days have put the soil about town in condition for cultivation and thrifty people are doing a good deal of planting and setting out. In some localities farmers have begun plowing —The Barnacle Club meets again Saturday evening. The committee in charge is Professors McKellips, McDougal and McLouth, and as they have an enviable reputation as entertainers, more than ordinarily good time is expected.

—Rather extensive improvements have just been completed at the United Evangelical church. A 16-light chandelier is among the added improvements. The church is newly papered, the woodwork has been newly varnished and a number of minor improvements and changes have been made to render the building more attractive and convenient.

—OAC's first basket ball team goes to Eugene tomorrow morning to play a return game with the Friendly team in the evening. Next Thursday the State University team will play OAC a return game at the armory here. OAC's second team went down the road this noon to engage the Independence team to-night. Don't forget the game at the armory this evening between the Roseburg girls and the OAC girls. Admission 25 cents.

—A quiet wedding occurred last night at the home of Mrs. D. A. Hendryx in Job's addition, when her daughter Ethel, became the wife of Wm. Butolph, Rev. C. T. Hurd of the Evangelical church, officiating. The wedding occurred at 8 o'clock in the presence of the immediate relatives only and the ceremony was followed by a wedding supper. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Butolph and is a clerk in S. L. Kline's store. The newly married pair will reside for the present with the bride's mother. The young people are receiving many warm congratulations.

—Commissioners Smith and Rickard went Tuesday to the north part of the county to inquire into the damage by flood sustained by a bridge over a certain wide slough or lake. The bridge was 200 feet in length and it was found to be damaged beyond repair, considering its decayed condition. It is the present purpose of the commissioners to replace it with a new structure having at either end fills of considerable length aggregating 110 feet. The bridge proper is to be 100 feet in length. Yesterday Commissioner Smith and Surveyor Jones made a trip to the location in order to procure additional necessary details. Plans and specifications of the structure are to be made at once and bids for its construction called for.

DR. BELL PLAYED CRAZY.

How G. A. Waggoner Assigned to Him the Role of a Lunatic.

Dr. J. R. N. Bell has been traveling about the state recently more than has been his custom in some time, and the newspapers are printing stories in which he is represented as the central figure. Here is one which was brought to the attention of the TIMES a few days ago when the Doctor and G. A. Waggoner met for the first time in years.

"Well, Brother Waggoner," said Dr. Bell, "I'll never forget that joke you had on me at Salem when you put me in the role of a lunatic on the way to the asylum," and he proceeded to explain to the bystanders,

"You see" said he, "it was about my first visit to the capital after I became clerk of the old railroad commission, of which Brother Waggoner was a member. We were at the Chemeketa hotel. As usual, you understand, I was having very little to say to anyone, and Brother Waggoner gave it out quietly that I was a lunatic, whom he was conveying to the asylum."

"I remembered afterward that the people eyed me askance and learned that they expressed very much sympathy for me, since I had given very little evidence of being mentally unbalanced."

"Brother Waggoner had been prompted to his course by the fact that Rocky Earhart, then secretary of state, was to take us for a visit to the asylum. When Earhart's carriage drove up there were a good many people about who rubbed at me to an extent that was displeasing to me. I essayed to rebuke them, for their impertinence, by removing my hat and making a low salam, at the same time exclaiming, 'How do you do, gentlemen?' This act confirmed the crowd in the idea that I was really very much off, and I mistook their sympathetic mien for evidence that my remark and manner had rendered them shame-faced."

"But we had our visit to the asylum and in the meantime, I was let into the secret of the people's curiosity. We all enjoyed the joke and I decided to carry it a little farther. So when we returned to the hotel it devolved upon Brother Waggoner to explain that after a brief examination by the asylum authorities as to my sanity, the commitment papers were disregarded and that I was to be taken home. Brother Waggoner stated that perhaps it was just as well because, while at times I was very violent, ordinarily I was as harmless as a newborn babe."

"Nevertheless, I paced back and forth in the hotel lobby, with a wild-like demeanor and I shall always remember with much pleasure how a big negro fled from the room when, as he gazed at me curiously, I made a sudden dart toward him. After that I had plenty of room for exercise. The hotel proprietor was completely deceived and when he learned of the deception he wanted to buy cigars for everybody in town. I don't see how the thing worked so well."

"Oh," said Waggoner, "it isn't so strange, but I don't think the joke could have been so successful with anybody else but you."

INVESTIGATING CORVALLIS.

For a Furniture Factory—Proprietor of Establishment Here Yesterday.

Mr. Oswald, proprietor of a furniture factory at Oregon City and who talks of moving to Corvallis, was in town yesterday. His errand was to look over the situation and consult with local business men. He wants a bonus for moving his plant to the place. He employs 15 men and says if his plant was large enough to fill orders he could have worked 100 for the past six months. He wants to increase his plant to employ 30 men. He has a big demand for his goods, some of which are sold by leading furniture houses in Corvallis. Extension: dining tables are his most extensive branch. Most of his output in late months has gone to California, although he has large contracts to supply Portland wholesale jobbers.

One thing favorable in coming to Corvallis is that that this is headquarters for the maple lumber supply. But small quantities of maple are obtained in his present location. Several Corvallis people who have looked into the matter regard the man and his enterprise most favorably.
