Superintendent Denman is sending out circular letters to all the schools in the county asking for a report of progress as to what is being done in each district with reference to preparation of products for competitive exhibits for the big All-Benton-School-Fair. These reports will be received from time to time, signed by the teacher, and publicity will be given to them through the county press. Every child in the county stands a chance to win a valuable prize and the opportunity should not be lost.

There is no doubt that his mental condition had most to do with the suicide of Alfred Denny. There is an unconfirmed story that he couldn't sleep satisfactorily when it rained. The patter of the raindrops so soothing to most people seemed to affect him peculiarly. An R. F. D. man once met him, and as he approached Denny jumped at him from behind a tree and exclaimed, 'I'm having a h— of a time.' 'What is the matter?' enquired the mail carrier, 'Oh, its raining!' was illuminative response.

Another OAC boy has won distinction. He is E. A. Hinrichs of the graduating class of 1904. In a recent letter to a friend in this city, Bert Bower says Hinrichs has been promoted to the office of the General Electric at Schenectady as a first class engineer and where he has his own stenographer, and receives a greatly augmented salary. Of him, Mr. Bower says, 'He is the star output of OAC, few can compete with him, and the General Electric has found it out.'

Orders are coming in thick and fast for seeds to be used in growing products for the All-Benton-School-Fair. Orders were sent off yesterday by Superintendent Denman for 5,000 packages that are required to fill requests for seeds, already received at the superintendent's office. The extraordinary and unexpectedly large number gives an idea of the extreme interest that is being taken all over the county in the coming big show. It is expected that seeds so far ordered will be ready for distribution among those who have ordered them by the latter part of next week or early in the week following. In all cases of free seeds, there will be no cost for mailing. The cost of mailing only applies to paid packages.

Benton and Polk county people hope that the governor's blood-stained veto axe will fall on the senatorial apportionment bill, and some agitation has been carried on in that direction. Today is the last chance and if the famous weapon doesn't swing before night Benton's hope for senator in the future will have gone glimmering.

A debate between teams representing Willamette University and OAC takes place in college chapel tonight. The question is the Monroe Doctrine against continuance of which the Willamette orators will speak, and in defense of which the OAC men will contend. The Willamettes have the affirmative side of the question as it is stated. The OAC speakers are Weatherford, Selleck and Brownell.

Harry has spent the winter with an engineering party on the Nevada deserts and has been in improved health. Martin of Seattle. Dr. Martin is a man of national reputation, recognized as one of the ablest preachers in the Christian church.

At the college armory Monday night, the biggest basket ball game of the season will occur. It will be one in which OAC will face danger of defeat. The Chicago Crescents who to be the opposing players, have been defeated only on rare occasions on their present tour. They claim to be world champions. The OAC men have been practicing with great diligence for the contest.

Small boys about town look at each other and wink when a brace of citizens, after passing into the alley back of Harris' store, go south a short distance and disappear. And when the procession reappears in the alley, looks north and south and then heads in the direction in which the coast is the clearest, the small boys grin and wink again. Its so plain that every body in town knows all about it.

A city council has responsibilities it cannot escape. It has the oversight of all public affairs within the corporate limits, the proper enforcement of laws among them. It is not the private citizens but the council's duty to see that no conditions are tolerated that are forbidden by law. Gentlemen who accept election as councilmen should be prepared to meet every responsibility, and be alert in ascertaining what those responsibilities are. A little inquiry might convince members of the council that there are conditions now in this city that ought to be abated, conditions which it is the council's duty to see are abated.

David Hirstel and Thomas Bilyeu, both graduates of the Oregon Agricultural College, are now patent attorneys in Portland. They also own and operate the largest supply factory on the Pacific Coast and they have the only exclusive manufacturing plant in Oregon. They are running two separate establishments under the head of 'Bilyeu & Hirstel', which is a mechanical engineering establishment and 'The American Tool Works', which is a manufacturing plant. Considering the fact that it is less than a year since these OAC graduates opened up an office in Portland, their many friends in Corvallis who have always expected much of them, will have ample reasons for congratulations.

A Cowboy's Girl.

A complete production with highest form of dramatic perfection will appear at the opera house tomorrow night. Seats now selling.
