

—Mohair 28.

—Mr. and Mrs. Leeso were passengers via the Westside this noon for Portland.

—President Gath went to Portland today.

—Sheriff Burnett left this noon for Portland.

—Waitress—Roast beef mutton, lamb, turnips, beets, potatoes, fried olives, steak, nonions.—Boarder—Are they in hash form as you announce them, or separate?

—In a sharply contested election in Brownville yesterday, J. D. Irvine, formerly of Corvallis, was elected mayor of Brownville by a majority of 26. Taxation for public improvements was the issue, and the progressive ticket won.

—There is beginning to be some talk about the city election. It happens to be quiet, as there seems to be no issue. Candidates are understood to be scarce. The officers to be elected are a mayor, chief of police, police judge, treasurer and four councilmen.

—This is the best town in the valley," remarked a drummer on the street yesterday afternoon. Half a dozen people were standing by. "There are more people on the street in this town than in many towns in Eastern Oregon double its size, and all of them seem to have something to do. I always do a good business in this town, and we always get our money. Corvallis is one of the best towns I know of." It sounded good, for the man spoke with great earnestness and meant what he said. He travels for a well-known Portland establishment. Pretty much the same story is said to be told by all of the commercial men.

—E. E. Wilson was to have been a member of the "Leans" in the basket ball game at the college Friday night. He was depended on as one of the star players and his absence in the struggle probably accounts for the victory of the "fats." No blame attaches, however, and his partners in the team have forgiven his absence. He sent instead a certificate signed by Dr. Jackson, stating that Mr. Wilson was physically incapacitated from playing. Dr. Jackson is a veterinary surgeon, and the certificate was perfectly satisfying to Mr. Wilson's team mates and many friends, who, however, wonder whether it is a case of spavin, broken wind or stringhalt.

—The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Rice of Corvallis, and Frank L. Robinson of Lisbon, North Dakota, was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Rice, at noon, Saturday. The knot was tied by Rev. G. C. Hurd in the presence of the family and 35 guests. The wedding march was played by Miss Elsie Rice and little Miss Mildred Hall was flower girl. Frank White was best man and Miss Lulu Rice bridesmaid. The ceremony was very impressive, and when congratulations were over the bridal party and guests partook of a delicious wedding luncheon. The home, which shelters one of the best families in the county was beautifully decorated for the occasion. The bride is a favorite with many friends, and has been for several years organist at the Methodist church. The groom is employed in a bank at Lisbon, North Dakota, which place Mr. and Mrs. Robinson are to depart in three weeks, to reside.

—A pretty incident happened in G. A. R. Hall Saturday night. It was at the meeting of the Old Soldiers Monument association. Among the guests was Dr. J. R. N. Bell, a man who wore the Gray for four years and one month. At the suggestion of a veteran who wore the Blue almost as long, Dr. Bell was called on for an address. He was at Winchester. Curiously enough, in the hall was D. C. Rose, who, too, was at Winchester. Mr. Rose fought on one side of the river, and Dr. Bell on the other. The fact gave a touch of extreme interest to the remarks of Dr. Bell, and in a short address full of patriotism, reminiscence and good feeling, the scenes of Winchester were lived over again. Dr. Bell saw Sheridan come riding on to the field when his lines were in full flight before the confederate advance, saw him turn defeat into victory. When asked the color of Sheridan's horse, Dr. Bell replied, "White,—white with foam." How the pickets of the two lines chewed each other's tobacco and spent the night in conversation and mutual friendship only to become hostiles when daybreak came, was one of the interesting episodes the speaker related.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a Favorite.

"We prefer Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to any other for our children," says Dr. J. Woodbury, of Twinning, Mich. "It has also done the work for us in hard colds and croup, and we take pleasure in recommending it." For sale by Graham & Wortham.

Neglected Colds Threaten Life.
[From the Chicago Tribune.]
"Don't trifle with a cold," is good advice for prudent men and women. It may be vital in the case of a child. Proper food, good ventilation, and dry, warm clothing are the proper safeguards against colds. If they are maintained through the changeable weather of autumn, winter and spring, the chances of a surprise from ordinary colds will be slight. But the ordinary light cold will become severe if neglected, and a well established ripe cold is to the germs of diphtheria what honey is to the bee. The greatest menace to child life at this season of the year is the neglected cold. Whether it is a child or adult, the cold slight or severe, the very best treatment that can be adopted is to give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is safe and sure. The great popularity and immense sale of this preparation has been attained by its remarkable cures of this ailment. A cold never results in pneumonia when it is given. For sale by Graham & Wortham.
