KILLED BY A TIGER

BEAST BREAKS DOOR OF CAGE AND RUSHES AT THE CROWD.

Ferocious Animal, on Gaining His Freedom, Slays Girl and Pony and Sends the Crowd in All Directions—Other News.

Twin Falls, Idaho, May 25.—During the afternoon performance of the Sells-Floto circus in Twin Falls today, a huge Bengal tiger broke from his cage in the menagerie tent and charged into the crowd killing a four-year-old girl, Shetland pony and mauling several other spectators and penies before it was shot and killed by a man in the audience. For a few moments a panic was threatened in the menagerie. Women screamed and fainted, the elephants tugged at their chains and trumpeted wildly and there was great commotion until the tiger rolled over dead in front of the main entrance.

"Markel," the tiger, and his mate "Agnes," had been restless for some time before the accident. They were about to be fed, and at the sight of the meat, "Markel" beat furiously with his paws on the door of the cage. The door gave way and the tiger sprang from his cage to the neck of a Shetland Pony 15 feet away. The animal's keeper seized an iron bar and struck the tiger between the eyes.

"Markel" released his grip on the pony's neck and leaped upon the back of another pony. Again the keeper fell him with the iron, and he relinquished his hold on the second pony, only to seize a third. Another stiff blow from the iron drove the tiger from his prey and he leaped into the crowd.

The tent was well filled and the people fled in all directions, most of them crowding out under the canvas. One woman scrambled to the top of an animal cage and refused to come down until long after the tiger was killed. Shrieking trumpets from the frightened elephants aroused the keepers to renewed activity. The guns kept by the keepers for emergencies were 75 feet away, and had they been available they could not have been used on account of danger to spectators.

Women grasped their children and dragged them from the path of the maddened tiger. Hundreds of little children clung to the skirts of their terrified mothers, and "Markel" headed for the main entrance, 40 feet away. In his rush he struck several people with his shoulders, knocking them down.

Mrs. S. E. Rozell, of Twin Falls, and her little daughter, Ruth, could not escape the tiger's rush and were borne to the ground. The tiger held Mrs. Rozell with his paws while his fangs sank into the neck of the child. J. W. Bell, a Twin Falls blacksmith, was standing beside Mrs. Rozell when she was attacked. His wife and children were with him and at the mercy of the beast.

Thrusting his family aside Bell drew a 32-caliber revolver and opened fire on the tiger at a distance of three feet. When the first bullet struck "Markel" behind the shoulder he winced and opened his jaws, growling viciously and lashing his tail against the wall of spectators. The second bullet caused him to release Mrs. Rozell and her daughter from the grasp of his paws and the third put him on the run. Bell followed heroically firing three more bullets into the fleeing tiger as it ran outside the tent.

"Markel" was sorely hit but he managed to crawl some distance before he collapsed. Recovering his strength for an instant, the tiger turned and started back toward the spectators, fell and expired.

San Francisco, May 24.—The people of San Francisco want acts not words. I will only say that we will make good wherever we accuse," was the brief of William A. Burns tonight, and it was the only statement made for publication by the prosecution after it had accomplished what half of the citizenship of San Francisco declared to be impossible—the indictment of one of the most powerful magistrates known Wall Street in the person of Pa-rick C. Lohr. Although 19 indictments were placed on file, the grand jury has 14 more on its secret file, which it will shortly make public. The case against the United Railroads has been one of the most baffling in the battle against the grafters, but it has been worked up with an exactness that has startled the entire city. It was the tightening web of evidence in this case that drove Abe Ruef to a confession and with the testimony of Ruef the indictment of Calhoun came as a matter of course.

The prosecution has traced the $200,000 with which the United Railroad secured its franchise from Wall street to the San Francisco Mint immediately after the big fire in April, 1906, when the Mint was used for banking purposes. There the money remained for a few days, when it was drawn out in piece meal in lots of $50,000 converted into currency and paid over to Ruef and by him passed on to the mayor and supervisors. The evidence is strengthened by bits of conversation, records of conferences at the office of Trep L. Ford, attorney for the United Railroads. The fact that the mayor received $50,000 for signing the ordinance granting the overhead-trolley permit was learned through the testimony of Ruef.

Fourteen indictments were returned charging Calhoun, Mullally, Ford, Abbott, Schultz and Ruef jointly with the bribery of the supervisors. Seventeen supervisors were bribed, so it may therefore be seen that three of the indictments will act as a sort of advance guard to draw the fire of the defense.

If the defense succeeds in shooting any holes in them, the three in reserve will be altered to make them impregnable, taking advantage of the facts brought out. However, all of the indictments filed today show a most careful attention to all the details, and leading lawyers tonight pronounced them perfect.

The brunt of the fight of the defense will fall upon Calhoun, who has already enlisted the services of Moritz Rosenthal, the St. Paul attorney of Chicago and Earl Rogers, the best-known attorney of Los Angeles. Calhoun is prepared to spend the last cent of his vast fortune to defeat the prosecution.

California is looking ahead to one of the greatest legal battles in the history of the nation.

Chicago, May 24.—Baron von Schlippenbach, Russian consul in Chicago, will leave for Phoenix, Ariz., tomorrow to identify the remains of Nikolai Konstantinovich De Raylan, as those of the clerk formerly employed in the office of the Russian consulate in this city. The body was exhumed today for this purpose.

A deputy from the office of Gardner, Stern & Anderson, representing Public Administrator Reddick, is already in Phoenix for the purpose of taking depositions to establish the sex of De Raylan and the hearing will be held in Phoenix Tuesday. The death of De Raylan and the efforts of his alleged widow to recover $8,000, the estate left by the mysterious clerk has opened the most perplexing problem the public administrator's office ever has been called upon to solve. Mrs. E. P. Bruchhills, of Chicago, who was married to De Raylan for nine years, and Anna De Raylan, who claims his estate, each declare that he was a man.

Information to the effect that De Raylan was a woman, masquerading as a man, led the public administrator into an investigation to determine sex of the deceased.

"If De Raylan was a woman," said Attorney Anderson today, "there could have been no marriage between her and Anna De Raylan, who claims to be the widow. In this event the alleged widow is not entitled to any part of the estate. If De Raylan was a man, Anna De Raylan will come in for her share of the estate. The evidence so far forwarded to the public administrator by the coroner in Phoenix tends to confirm the report that De Raylan was a woman who had masqueraded successfully as a man for years.

De Raylan first came to Chicago with a representative of the Russian government at the time of the World's Fair, and had lived here almost all the time since. Last year De Raylan became ill with consumption and went to Arizona in search of health, dying in Phoenix, December 18, 1906.

A Complete Line of Spaulding base ball goods at popular prices.

The conflict between the evidence to be given by De Raylan's wives and of that begun by officials and physicians from Phoenix promises to bring about an unparalleled issue in the local probate court. The case is mysterious from any standpoint. Men who belonged to the same athletic club with De Raylan insist he was a man. His physicians who cared for him during his illness at Phoenix and attendants who prepared the body for burial insist he was a woman. The burial was secret and hasty, no one from Chicago being present.

San Francisco, May 25.—Millionaires and multi-millionaires, presidents and vice-presidents and lesser officials of great corporations thronged Judge Coffee's court room this morning with their attorneys and attendants, whether they had been summoned to give bail to insure their personal liberty pending their trials on felony indictments returned against them yesterday by the Oliver grand jury.

First came Louis Glass, vice-president of the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Company, to give bonds in the sum of $2,000. Mr. Glass was represented by Attorney Cogan, who handed to Judge Coffee for his approval two bonds for $10,000 each, given by the Pacific Sure-
