

THE BOGUS PRINCE.

Wednesday Night.

This entertaining musical comedy which comes to the opera house May 29, is a very merry affair, and one of the hits of the season. A large chorus of singing and dancing girls insures an unusually clever performance. The music is delightfully catchy, the humor laugh provoking, and the singing above the average. The costuming and scenery are in keeping with the production. Reserved seats now selling. Prices 35, 50 and 75.

—Miss Gertrude Nolan gave a party Friday evening for the 9th grade class of the public schools.

—Miss Lillian Ranney returned Sunday evening from attendance at the grand lodge of Rebekahs at La Grange.

—P. M. Zierolf is at his post of duty again after a week's confinement to his room with rheumatism.

—The next annual meeting of the Boys' Conference is to occur in Corvallis in May 1908. At the Salem meeting just concluded, there was an attendance of 161.

—Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Barnough of Enterprise, have arrived for a Commencement visit with Corvallis relatives.

—Mr. and Mrs. Logan Hays left today for Portland, after a visit of several days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Horning.

—Mrs. A. Hays, who has been a Corvallis visitor for some time, left today for Spokane, Washington, where she is to make her home, after a short visit at Independence.

—Brady Burnett is to retire as superintendent of the mountain water works the first of the month, and is to be succeeded by Frank Aldrich.

—Jasper Newton, a former Benton county man, has sold his farm at Thornton, Washington, and with his son has taken up a homestead at Chesaw, the same state.

—Fred Porter arrived Saturday for a sabbath at home. He has been traveling for the past three months in Montana, Idaho and other states in the employ of a Portland electrical house.

—Forty-five dollars is applicable to the debt on the W. C. T. U. building as a result of the entertainment recently given. To all who assisted, the ladies are profoundly grateful. The average weekly attendance at the reading room is 120.

—C. A. Dobell, wife and children, and his father and mother arrived yesterday, and occupies the house formerly owned by Prof. McKillips on College hill. Mr. Dobell is to be assistant cashier in the Johnson bank, when it opens July 1st.

—In the matter of fancy stock it is doubtful if any county in Oregon can beat Benton in competitive exhibits. Benton farmers are progressive and have been improving their herds for a long time. The array of fancy stock that should be seen at the live stock show on Friday and Saturday will be worth traveling many a mile to see.

—The team of the Philmath mail carrier took a spin Saturday that cleared the streets of Corvallis for a minute or two. Starting at the Kaupisch creamery they raced up past the postoffice and out toward the Methodist church. The driver clung to the reins desperately however, and after steering his horse between several trucks he managed finally to stop them after passing Fourth street. The only damage was the wear and tear on the nerves of passing pedestrians and truck owners.

—The fifty prizes to be awarded in the big live stock show on Friday and Saturday of next week should attract a great many exhibitors. They should, in fact, attract to Corvallis all the fancy stock in the county, as well as much from abroad. The occasion will be taken advantage of by many to make purchases, and for this and other reasons there should be a great crowd in attendance. The committee has arranged to supply pens free of charge to exhibitors of sheep, goats and hogs.

—The excursion annually run to Newport by the seniors at the college transpired Saturday, and in point of numbers was the most successful one that has yet taken place. About 700 students and others participated, leaving Corvallis early in the morning, and arriving on the return trip after eleven p. m. There were eight coaches, but even this was not sufficient car accommodation and many had to stand throughout the journey. The day at the seaside was pleasant and the seaside and the trip was much enjoyed. A number of the excursionists failed to make connections for the return trip, and had to remain over until yesterday.

At Kings Valley.

There is an over supply of work in the Valley and a very short supply of laborers. Fourteen-year-old boys are doing men's work and getting better wages than men could a few years ago. John Price has found it necessary to increase the wages of the road workers with teams. We don't know whether the county court will increase the supervisor's pay or not, but if it don't he is liable to jump the job and take to the camps where they pay better wages.

The rain has been of great benefit to grain and gardens.

John McCullum has a large stock of farm machinery arriving from Portland.

Walter Winford's school closed in the valley district last Friday.

Herman Selfert has sold a part of his farm and given a 30 days option on the balance of it. He says he expects to leave the Valley for another location whether he sells the remainder or not.

John Price has erected a fine monument on his lot in the Valley cemetery.

Walter Winford believes a good buggy to be one of the equipments of a successful school teacher.

The boys are all feeling bad because they were not S. Selfert Ram-dell when he got his leg broke.

Company, of San Francisco. President Patrick Calhoun and Assistant President Thornwell Mullally, of the United Railroad, and General Counsel Tiery L. Ford and Assistant General Counsel William Abbott, of that corporation, appeared in company with A. A. Moore and Stanley Moore, of the United Railroad; Merritt Regentha, of Chicago, and Earl Rogers, of Los Angeles, all of whom will take an active part in their defense. Will H. Crocker, president of the Crocker National Bank of this city, and recognized as the foremost capitalist of San Francisco, and president Henry T. Scott of the Pacific States Telephone & Telegraph Co., entered the courtroom and remained for some time. Earl Rogers stated that they were there to make good an offer to furnish personal bail, cash or bonds in the sum of $560,000 for Calhoun, Mullally, Ford and Abbott.
