SUMMER EXCURSION

Special Rates and Train Service to Newport for Reason of 1907 via Corvallis & Eastern Railroad.

Hotels, resorts and attractions at Newport are now open for the season, and indications all point to this famous "Oregon Coast Resort" being more popular this season than ever before.

A decided innovation, bound to be a source of great satisfaction to visitors and add greatly to the popularity of this fast coming only "Oregon Coast Resort," will be the opening on July 3rd of the "Newport Theatre," for the summer season by a "High class Stock Company," made up of some of the best Stock actors on the Coast, to include various members of the well known "Baker Theatre Stock Company" of Portland. A series of the best stock plays available will be produced during the season with frequent change of bill.

About July 1st there will be opened to the public one of the largest and best equipped Skating Rinks in the Northwest, containing 12000 square feet of floor space. The rink will be open continuously day and evening except during bathing hours.

These two attractions will divide honors with visitors in filling a long felt want for some place to while away the evenings after the close of outdoor attractions.

This Company, as well as the Southern Pacific Company and Oregon Railroad & Navigation Co., have now on sale season tickets to Newport from all points in Oregon at greatly reduced rates. These tickets can be purchased daily and are good for return until October 10th, 1907.

In addition to season tickets, this Company and Southern Pacific Company have placed on sale at reduced rates popular week-end three day tickets, good from Saturday to Monday, for the benefit of those who cannot advantageously use season tickets, but who desire to make frequent short interval trips to the "Beach" during the season.

This Company will also, commencing Sunday, June 16, provide special "Sunday Excursion" train from Albany to Newport and return, and have on sale one day excursion tickets at reduced rates for this train.

Passengers holding season or three day tickets mentioned, can travel going or returning on Sunday Excursion trains.

For information relative to rates, trains, etc., see tariffs on file at stations for public inspection, or refer to any Agent of Corvallis and Eastern R. R. Co., Southern Pacific Company, or Oregon Railroad & Navigation Co.

A HOWL

AGAINST THE COUNTY COURT OF BENTON.

By a Citizen of Benton—W. D. Prettyman, of Oak Grove, Writes His Views to the Albany Herald—O.h-er News.

EDITOR HERALD:

"In last week's Herald, there appeared an item in reference to the Corvallis road leading to the steel bridge, and the rumor as stated is the correct solution of the county court's failure to repair the road.

Corvallis is opposed to Albany sharing the trade from that part of the country, and has always treated us with contempt when we desired any improvements. We get no recognition from the county only what the law compels the court to allow in the matter of bridge repairs and other small items, and then the work is patch work as in the case of the case of the Thornton Lake bridge after the high water, and the result is that the county is threatened with a suit for damages that will cost the county more than a new bridge. I submitted a written proposition to the county court a few years ago, agreeing to make a fill across Thornton Lake, twelve feet wide on top of grade and rip rap the sides of fill with stone for $247.00, but no, the court next week let a contract for the bridge that had just fallen down, paying therefor $2500.00. I would state that in my offer the county was to furnish the tilling for the flow of water, costing probably $20. In a matter of damages to property the court graciously requested the petitioners to go down in their pockets and pay the small sum of $25, as the county was so poor she could not afford to pay it, but after a hard struggle did consent to pay it, but it almost bankrupted the county. At the same time the county was spending $1000 on the road leading from Corvallis to Monroe. We have been trying for two years to get tilling for three culverts on the road in this precinct, but all in vain; no money for us. Consequently no tilling. Poor Benton county, I am sorry for you are almost bankrupt. There was some new lumber hauled on the ground for building the new bridge a few weeks ago and as they used most of the old lumber, the supervisor informed me that he requested the court to allow him a part of the lumber for culverts. Oh, yes, all right, but when he sent a team after it there was no lumber in sight, all hauled away, no lumber for us.

Now, Mr. Editor, some may say that I am a chronic growler. All right, say what you like, as every resident in this neck of the woods opposite Albany knows that everything that I have written is the truth, and this state of affairs has existed for the last twenty years to my personal knowledge. We do not expect any change, until we are cut loose from Benton and attached to Linn. It is an old saying and true it is, "A long lane that never turns." The only time that Corvallis recognizes us is in tax time. More soon.

W. D. PRETTYMAN.

M'Keever, N. Y., June 15.—Horace Mann, a trapper of this place, has struck up an odd friendship with an old female wildcat, or more properly speaking, the cat has struck up a close friendship with him. The companionship grew out of a chance acquaintance which seems to show that even a wildcat has a streak of gratitude buried way down in the region next the heart.

Mann was gathering some traps about a fortnight ago when he was attracted by the snarls of a wildcat at the base of a tree a little distance in front of him. As the feline didn't run the trapper rightly concluded that her young were near. After a few moments he caught sight on one kitten in the top of a small popple sappling where it balanced and mewed because it was afraid to come down. One foot had been injured in a steel trap and once having climbed the tree it feared to descend. It was thin and weak and Mann's practiced eyes told him that the little animal had been perched in the popple for several days.

For the very good reason that the old cat's fur wasn't worth anything so late in the spring he let it live. Because he didn't like to see the kitten suffer he climbed up and got it. As it was too far gone to stand he took it home and nursed it. Next morning the mother cat sat on the stoop until Mann came out, when she darted up a tree. For several days she hung around and finally got to paying visits to her offspring in the woodshed. Since then she has been exceedingly friendly and the trapper says he will be able to pet her before long. When the kitten has thoroughly recovered it will be turned loose. At present it is docile, but Mann keeps a few heads and he hasn't unlimited faith in wildcats.

Wilmington, Del., June 15.—From five to 40 lashes each were publicly administered to nine persons. A nine-year-old white boy, Adam Ward, convicted of highway robbery, received the larger number. Both whites and blacks were whipped.

Many of the spectators left after the first whipping. The one that touched the hearts of all was the child, who was among the first victims.

After the first fall of the cat's nine-tails the little managed to slip one hand from his bonds and tried to reach around to save his back. "Please let me go; I'll be good," he pleaded. But there was no cessation. The lash continued to fall till the allotted number had been tolled off.
