Are you going on a vacation, a trip to the mines, the woods or to the sea-shore. Yes? Then you need a time-piece, but can you afford to carry that valuable watch to such a place as that? Certainly not! Why risk the loss of the watch or the chance of a costly smash-up when you can get comparatively accurate time with one of those DOLLAR watches that Pratt the Jeweler & Optician sells? A Parker "Lucky Curve" fountain pen is just the thing for these occasions too.

—The W. C. T. U. will hold but one meeting in July and that will be on the third Thursday as the Fourth falls on the first Thursday.

—Mrs. S. L. Kline has returned from the Department Convention held last week at Newberg with honors for her corps having been elected delegate at large alternate to the National convention, W. R. C., which meets in Saratoga, N. Y., in September. She leaves soon for her annual Eastern trip.

—Judge Woodward says the statements of Mr. Prettyman in which it is alleged that Fairmount precinct is discriminated against by the Benton county court, which statements appeared in Friday's TIMES, are not true. He says lumber and other materials for public uses in that precinct have been uniformly supplied as required. With reference to tiling that was not furnished, Judge Woodward says that it is impossible to get tiling at any price on account of the scarcity, but that when a supply is available Fairmount precinct as well as all other localities will be amply provided for.

—There is a Corvallis girl who is happy. She is Miss Anna Maxfield, who has been employed for several years in the home of Walter Taylor. Out of her earnings she saved enough to buy a handsome gold watch, which she highly prized. She rode on her wheel to Kings Valley and lost the watch. It was restored to her Saturday, by J. L. Govier, a farmer living near Wells. He read of the loss in a copy of the TIMES which he saw at Independence. He had found the watch, and Saturday afternoon, he mounted his horse and rode to Corvallis, and delivered the trinket to the owner. His only charge was one dollar, for the trouble of the 20 mile ride he made to deliver the watch.

—The dispatches relate that a cow ate a lot of dynamite, the other day, and died from the poisonous effects. Her owner didn't want to lose her altogether, and fed her carcass to the hogs. Fourteen of the latter died. That reminded a local citizen of another dynamite case, and he told this one. A goat on his father's home came across a stick of dynamite in the yard and ate it, paper and all. Heretofore, it had been in the habit of coming on the family porch and always at such times "mother would drive the goat off with a broom." But after that she didn't do it any more, no matter how many times the goat came on the porch. She realized that the billy was loaded with dynamite, and did not strike him with the broom for fear there would be an explosion.

—Ballooning has become popular in town. Toy affairs six to ten feet high are on sale and it has become an interesting diversion in the evening to load one with gas and send it on a journey into the sky. One sent up Saturday night interested a large crowd on Main street. It sailed gracefully upward until at a height of half a mile, perhaps, it struck a current of air and was diverted swiftly to the northeast, where, as a star hardly visible to the naked eye, it finally disappeared. One sent up a few nights ago rose almost straight up to a height of what seemed to be about a mile and a half and disappeared. A bunch of excelsior as big as a biscuit below the aperture at the bottom of the balloon, furnishes the gas. It is saturated with a chemical and when the excelsior is lighted, the device is in complete working order. When turned adrift it does the rest.

—The graduation exercises for the class of 1907 for Northern Benton, were held last Friday evening, at the Palestine church. The exercises were pronounced the best yet held in this part of the county. The church was unable to accommodate those attending. The church had been beautifully decorated with flags and bunting by Sup't. Denman, and the ladies of the church served ice cream and cake before and immediately after the exercises. The following is the program and the members of the class: Salutatory, Lucy Allen; recitation, Gordon Ryalls; class history, Alice Thurston; recitation, Anna Peacock; music, Bertha Allen; recitation, Edward Leibner; recitation, Ross Lewis; class prophecy, Cory Curry; recitation, Fred Curry; Valedictory, Russel McHargue; presentation of diplomas, Supt. G. W. Denman; music, "America." Members of class: District No. 1, Ross Lewis, Oscar Williams, Bertha Allen, Alice Thurston, Lucy Allen; district No. 6, Gordon Ryalls, Fred M. Curry, Russel R. McHargue, Cory M. Curry, Edward Leibner; district No. 43, Anna M. Peacock; district No. 4, James Mayberry.

—Miss Laura Hill of the college has gone to Nashville for a week's visit. She left Saturday.

—Prof. Horner and family returned yesterday from a brief visit to Newport.

—Dr. Bell returned yesterday from Monmouth where he delivered the Baccalaureate address Sunday before the graduating class of the state normal school.

—Dr. Kerr is at Salem where tomorrow afternoon, he delivers an address before the state teachers' association on the subject, "The Modern Trend of Education." He left yesterday morning.

—Miss Lena Wilson who was relieved for Miss Sutherland in the dressmaking department at the college during the Spring term, left Saturday for a visit with her father a Kansas man, who has just purchased a farm near Brownsville.

—Important Patron (after describing the great advantages now enjoyed by children)—I wish I were you children at school. (Pause; then, ingratiatingly)—Why do I wish that? Boy—Please sir, 'cos you've forgot all you ever knew!

—"I know a most improvident fellow down in Tennessee," says a native of that state. "One day his wife asked him to buy some flour, of which they had none. 'I can't,' he told her; 'I haven't a cent.' 'But we can't starve,' she expostulated, tearfully. 'I'm glad to hear it,' he replied. 'I was afraid maybe we could.'"

—Dr. Kerr has bought the John Simpson residence on Fifth street, and is to have possession as soon as Mr. Simpson can find a suitable residence in Albany, which is expected to be within a few days. The price paid for the property has not been made public but is supposed to be about $5,500. The property comprises the residence and four lots, and is one of the best homes in town.

—Four sales of real property made by Ambler & Watters during the past few days are: Texas Cline lots on the corner across the street from Grant Elgin's on Sixth street to Martin Butler, $800; Martin Butler to Mrs. Wessell, lately arrived from North Dakota, dwelling and lot on Ninth street formerly owned by Victor Moses, $1,000; A. M. Smith to Mr. O'Neil of Ashland, 62 acre farm three miles east of Corvallis, $3,800; Mrs. Adams to Prof. Fulkerson, house and lot corner Ninth and Madison, $1,000.

—Opening of the A. J. Johnson bank is delayed by the non-arrival of the safe, furniture and fixtures. The latter were all made to order in Cincinnati, Ohio, and were shipped from there May 23. The failure to arrive on schedule time led to the sending of telegraphic tracers after it, but at last accounts it had not been located. It is, however, expected any day. It was all set up and taken down again before leaving the factory and after arrival there will be but small delay in putting it in position. The tiling for the lobby arrived Friday, and is being put in place.

—There is great joy in a certain town over in Ireland. J. M. Nolan has found many relatives, and the reunion after 35 years of separation is more than felicitous. "Did you used to be Miss Nolan?" he asked of a sister when they met, and before recognition had taken place. "Yes," she replied. "And did you have a brother?" "Yes," was the reply. "Do you know where he is?" she was asked. "No, we don't know; but we have long thought he was in a monastery." That is supposed by his Corvallis friends to have flooded J. M., who hasn't many of the earmarks of a monk. "Don't you think you would recognize him?" she was asked. "Well, I don't know," she said; "perhaps we might know him by his ears." With a sudden thought she glanced at J. M.'s ears, and recognition at once followed.

—The steamer Oregon, Captain Raabe, master, continues to make regular trips to Corvallis, and unless something unexpected develops, will remain on the run for two or three weeks to come. She is doing a big freight business, having a good cargo out and in Corvallis every trip. She makes two round trips a week, departing Sundays and Wednesdays. In her cargo Sunday morning was 13 tons of wool, consigned by A. Wilhelm & Sons of Monroe, who ship considerable quantities of freight via the steamer route. The Oregon is very light draught, and at the present is carrying the traffic with the Willamette but eight inches above low water. Captain Raabe, her master, has been a Willamette river steambot man for a great many years. He is the secretary of the company that owns the Oregon.

—Miss Helen Crawford returned Sunday from Albany.

—Walter Kline returned last night from a business trip of a few days to Portland.

—Mrs. Garrow has been for several days the guest of her daughter Mrs. Metzger.

—Miss Mary Elgin has just returned home from a two week's visit at Portland.

—Miss Dorothea Nash, formerly teacher of instrumental music at O. A. C., but now of Portland, is now in London. She is to study during the summer, probably in Berlin, returning to Portland in September to resume charge of her classes in music.

—The goddess of liberty contest closed Saturday night with spirited voting. Up to that afternoon but a few hundred votes had been cast. When the voting closed at nine p. m., nearly 15,000 ballots had been cast. Miss Nellie Marvin was chosen goddess, with a vote of 8,346. Miss Barclay received 5,546.

—Mr and Mrs J. H. Moore, who have resided in Corvallis for the past eight years, are to leave Friday for Illinois, to reside. Their home in this city was recently sold to Ben Martin for $2,300. They are good people, and many friends regret their departure. They will settle either in Brimfield or Peoria, Illinois, in both of which Mr. Moore owns property.

—It is probable that many of the prizes to be contributed by local business men and to be awarded in the All Benton School Fair, the last of August, will be on exhibition in various show windows during the 4th. The general committee has requested such a step and has provided suitable window cards for the purpose.

Lieutenant Karl Steiwer, O. A. C. graduate, has completed his course in military tactics at Manila, and June 1st assumed command of a company of the Philippine constabulary. His command comprises 50 men, all Filipinos, and is stationed for the present in Manila. It will go to the front at any time and anywhere trouble may arise in the provinces. Lieutenant Scott, who went with Lieutenant Steiwer to the Philippines has been sent with his command to Luguna province. Lieutenant Van Cleve remains in the preparatory school at Manila for the present.
