The Story of Presidents Day

Presidents Day is an American holiday celebrated every February.

Established in 1885, it was the first federal holiday to honor an American citizen and was celebrated on President George Washington's birthday, February 22. In the 1880s, many states declared February 12, Abraham Lincoln's birthday, as a holiday.

In 1971, Presidents Day was declared a national holiday to honor all presidents. It was set for the third Monday in February.

Standards Link: History: Identify the people honored in commemorative holidays.
