Warrenton alumna joins scholars group

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Madison Smotherman of Warrenton has accepted membership in the National Society of Collegiate Scholars (NSCS). She attends Oregon State University, majoring in accounting and finance, and plays volleyball for the OSU Women's Club team. Her parents are Danene and David Lethin of Rosburg, Wash., and Kelly Smotherman of Warrenton.

A member of the Association of College Honor Societies, NSCS is an interdisciplinary honors organization for first-year and second-year college students. Membership is by invitation only, based on grade point average and class standing.

"NSCS is more than just a symbol of academic achievement," said Stephen E. Loflin, NSCS founder and chief executive officer. "Membership gives students access to a number of amazing benefits, including career and networking resources, scholarships, travel, and service projects both on campus and in the community."

For information, call 202-265-9000, go to www.nscs.org

Downtown group celebrates volunteers

On Jan. 29, members and volunteers of the Astoria Downtown Historic District Association (ADHDA) met at Buoy Beer Co. to honor and celebrate the volunteer spirit of downtown Astoria with its third annual Volunteer Appreciation Night and Awards Ceremony.

ADHDA's awards and accomplishments of 2014 were made possible by the dedication of its volunteers, particularly the 45 volunteers who give monthly as members on the board and committees. Numerous volunteers collectively gave more than 4,500 hours to ADHDA last year.

Special recognition was given to: Felicia Struve for her attention to detail and for reviewing the annual budget; Brad Johnston for his continued support of ADHDA and its events; Brett Estes for his guidance and support throughout the years; Linda Dugan for generating ideas; Becky Johnson for her ideas; City

Lumber for their continuous support during the Pacific Northwest Brew Cup; and Merianne Myers for her community service.

"The Pat Award," which recognizes an individual with outstanding volunteer spirit, was awarded to Katie Murray for her social media savvy and contagious energy. The award was first given to Pat Saunders in 2011 to honor her dedicated community spirit and enthusiasm for ADHDA. Past recipients have included Mary Ritter and Dan Bartlett.

To get involved with, or learn about ADHDA, go to www.astoriadowntown.com or call 503-791-7940.

Native American carving class starts Tuesday

A Northwest Coast Native American carving class is being offered from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Tuesdays, starting Feb. 24, at the Barbey Maritime Center, east of the Columbia River Maritime Museum at 1792 Marine Drive.

The instructor is Jim Bergeron. Students will learn about Northwest Coast Native American designs, and can then create their own design or use provided patterns to transfer onto wood. The designs will then be carved and stained or painted.

The cost is $50 for members, or $75 for non-members, and the class size is limited to 14 people. For information, call the CRMM at 503-325-2323.

HONOR ROLL

This student has earned a 3.5 grade point average or higher at her school, qualifying her for the honor roll.
