

Jeter, Matsui arrive in Japan for charity baseball game

TOKYO (AP) — Former major league teammates Derek Jeter and Hideki Matsui will take part in a charity baseball game to support survivors of the 2011 earthquake and tsunami in Japan — and Jeter repeated a desire to own a team someday.

Participating in the game at Tokyo Dome Sunday will be a group of student baseball players from the Tohoku region that was devastated by the 2011 disaster that killed more than 15,000 people. Profits will go toward helping children in the region.

Jeter and Matsui will also put on a baseball clinic and take part in a home run derby. On Saturday, the pair will throw out the ceremonial first pitches at a pre-season exhibition at Tokyo Dome between Matsui's old club, the Yomiuri Giants, and the Nippon Ham Fighters.

Jeter, who retired from Major League Baseball last year after 20 years, said he's looking forward to a break from the game and reiterated a desire to become an owner.

"I need to get away from (baseball) for a little while, I've been doing it professionally for 23 years," Jeter said. "At this moment, I'm not thinking about getting back in the game. My ultimate dream is to one day own a team, but that's in the future."

Jeter is teaming up with Matsui to support the survivors of the 2011 earthquake and tsunami — and hinted he may someday get back into baseball as a team owner.

11, 2001, terrorist attacks in New York, Jeter said he was hoping to help children in Japan who are still dealing with the aftermath of the disaster. While the earthquake and tsunami struck four years ago, many of the participants from the area are still coping with the loss of family and friends and living in temporary housing.

"The kids will never forget what happened," Jeter said. "But if they can come out and have fun and enjoy themselves through the sport of baseball, that's what we're trying to do here."

Matsui, the 2009 World Series Most Valuable Player, said Jeter's presence will go a long way.

"Having Jeter here is a wonderful thing," Matsui said. "I'm happy, and the kids taking part in this event will be thrilled. We hope they have a great time, and return to Tohoku with some great memories."

Matsui was recently rehired by the New York Yankees as a special adviser to general manager Brian Cashman, and Jeter said his former teammate will have much to offer.

"Not only was he successful here in Japan, one of the biggest stars in the country, he came over the United States and did the exact same thing," Jeter said. "There aren't too many players that can say that ... so he has a lot of knowledge, and will be able to share that with as many people as he wants to do."

Iwakuma sharp as Mariners and White Sox tie

GLENDALE, Ariz. (AP) — Hisashi Iwakuma threw four scoreless innings and the Seattle Mariners and Chicago White Sox played to a 5-5 tie Tuesday.

Iwakuma, the Mariners' No. 2 starter, allowed five hits while striking out two.

"I'm not 100 percent there yet, but I feel like I'm close to getting there," Iwakuma said through a translator. "I'm in game mode now. It will pick up another notch."

Jeff Samardzija, the White Sox's likely opening day starter with Chris Sale sidelined, allowed two runs and four hits in four innings. He walked one and struck out three.

The White Sox, trailing 5-2 in the eighth, scored three to tie it, Trayce Thompson hit a two-run homer off Rafael Perez.

"He's got a ton of talent," White Sox manager Robin Ventura said of Thompson, brother of the Golden State Warriors Klay Thompson. But he said Thompson sometimes puts "a lot of pressure on himself."

"He should just go out and play with confidence that he should have. He can do everything on the field," Ventura said.

Logan Morrison hit a full-count pitch from Samardzija in the fourth over the right field fence to start the scoring.

Robinson Cano singled in a run for the Mariners.

The Sox had a chance to push across the winning run in the bottom of the ninth. But Mariners third baseman Carlos Rivero speared a hard shot by Matt Davidson down the third base line with two outs on and two on to preserve the tie.

Robinson Cano singled in a run for the Mariners.

Starting time

Mariners: Iwakuma's command "got better as the game went along," manager Lloyd McClendon said. "He threw a lot of very good two-strike strikes. He did a nice job."

Iwakuma said he felt strong at the end. "I still had some gas left in me."

Warrenton downs Nestucca for openers, 20-1

WARRENTON — The Warrenton Warriors pounded out 14 hits in their season opener Tuesday at Huddleston Field, resulting in a 20-1 non-league baseball win over Nestucca.

Three Warrenton pitchers (Brock Johnson, Hunter Michaelson and Joe Little) combined to limit the Bobcats to just two hits in their five at-bats.

The Warriors scored eight runs in the first inning, then tacked on three in the second, five in the third and four in the fourth.

Warrenton had hits from all nine spots in the lineup. Justice Watson led the way, going 4-for-4 with two doubles, seven RBIs and three runs scored.

Jake Holthusen and Little each had a double for Warrenton, which plays three games in three days later this week at the Seaside Tournament.

The Warriors face Woodburn at 1:30 p.m. Friday, followed by Hoquiam at 12:15 p.m. Saturday and Hockinson at 2:30 p.m. Sunday.

Molalla 10, Seaside 4
MOLALLA — Dylan Wallis had two doubles for Seaside, but the Gulls came up short at Molalla in a Tuesday afternoon baseball game, as the Indians won the opener 10-4.

Dawson Blanchard and Brent Walsh had the only other hits for Seaside, which hosts a three-day tournament this weekend, beginning Friday.
