Three locals earn WGU scholarships

SALT LAKE CITY — Three local residents have received scholarships from Western Governors University. As a nonprofit, online university that is committed to making higher education more affordable and accessible for nontraditional students, WGU typically awards scholarships based on the applicant's academic record, readiness for online study, financial need and other considerations.

Alexa Knutsen, head of the Capt. Robert Gray Alternative High School, received the Teacher Appreciation Scholarship.

Rosemary Geraghty, a Youth Transition Program specialist with Astoria School District, received the 50K scholarship.

Michele Matz of Seaside received the WGU Lifesaver Transfer Scholarship.

These scholarships help further offset the tuition of about $3,000 per six-month term for most WGU programs. A flat rate that covers all the courses a student is able to complete. Tuition has not increased since 2008.

Now with more than 56,000 students nationwide, WGU was established in 1997 by a bipartisan group of U.S. governors with a mission to expand access to high-quality, affordable higher education. WGU is accredited by the Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities, has been named one of Fast Company's Most Innovative Companies, and was featured on NPR, NBC Nightly News, CNN, and in The New York Times.

More information is available at www.wgu.edu or by calling 866-225-5948.

CCC mailer earns a Pollie

Elevated Campaigns, the direct-mail consultants Clatsop Community College worked with on the pro Measure 4-176 publicity, have received a national award, a Pollie, for their "Friends of Patriot Hall 'yes' introductory" brochure/mailer. Pollie Awards are given by the American Association of Political Consultants for excellence in the political communications and public affairs industries.

The CCC mailer garnered a bronze Pollie in the B58/For Local Campaigns section of the Direct Mail — Ballot Initiative Division. There were more than 2,400 entries; the winners were announced at the AAPC 2015 Pollie Awards Conference, held March 17-19 in New Orleans.
