

Photo by Dwight Caswell

Michelle Svendsen, who co-owns North Jetty Brewing with her husband, Erik, in Seaview, Washington, cleans a tank in the brewery. The brewery's taproom will celebrate its one-year anniversary April 10 to 12.

Anniversary celebration on tap for North Jetty Brewing

SEAVIEW, Wash. — North Jetty Brewing's brewhouse expansion will be complete by mid April. This upgrade from a 1.5-barrel system to a 10-barrel system will more than triple the brewery's production and help with distribution. Currently, North Jetty Brewing is available in 10 counties in Washington and Oregon. Distribution consists of Kendall's Pioneer Distributing, Fort George Brewery, and self distribution on the Long Beach Peninsula.

While North Jetty has been brewing at its location at 4200 Pacific Way for over 2.5 years, the taproom is coming up on its first anniversary. The anniversary weekend will kick off Friday, April 10 with alternative country and Americana Portland band Thin Rail playing live music. The celebration weekend will continue through Sunday with tours, specials and giveaways.

Taproom hours for this event are from 2 to 10 p.m. Friday and Saturday and from 2 to 7 p.m. Sunday.

This family-owned and operated brewery and taproom has 18 taps, allows outside food in and will be gaining a food cart in May. Street Side Tacos 2.0 will open in mid May, and the taproom will expand its hours to include lunch. Find more information on the North Jetty Brewing Facebook page or call 360-642-4234.

Taproom anniversary

2 to 10 p.m. Friday and Saturday, April 10 and 11

2 to 7 p.m. Sunday, April 12

North Jetty Brewing

4200 Pacific Way, Seaview, Wash.

Free

Meet artists of many mediums during ninth Tokeland Northcove Studio Tour

TOKELAND, Wash. — In the tradition of Laguna Beach and Big Sur, California, Tokeland is becoming known as a grass-roots arts colony. For decades, artists of all ages have chosen to live and work in Tokeland, with a concentrated increase in recent years, creating a vibrant arts community.

The ninth annual Tokeland Northcove Studio Tour will take place from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, April 18. Twenty-two local artists will present new work in many different art mediums, including painting, ceramics, jewelry, sculpture, wood carving, photography and glass at four Tokeland locations and four studios. Follow the signage to each art location, or start at the Tokeland Hotel to pick up a map.

The Tokeland Hotel will host watercolorist Barbara Sampson, fused glass artist Marsha Gonzales, beach designer Jackie McGraw and Kennedy Creek Pottery. Across the road from the hotel, the Bayshore RV Park presents silkscreen artist Peter Andriesen, oil painter Melody Gerber, Elements Glass Art and driftwood sculpture artist Rick Wilcox.

At the Shoalwater Bay

Submitted photo

Sea glass "Siren Rings" by Judith Altruda.

Tribal Center, view the wood turnings of John Hampton, the glass mosaics of Tina Dierkes, the polymer jewelry of Connie Newton, the ceramic sculptures of Sue Raymond, the wildlife photography of Ann Marie Riding and the pottery of Marie Wetzel. A short walk from the tribal center, the Shoalwater Bay Carving Apprentice program, spearheaded by Earl Davis, will offer a rare glimpse into tribal carving in all facets, from raw logs to finished pieces at their carving shed.

Within walking distance of the hotel and each other, the working studios of pastel artist Wally Mann, jewelry maker Judith Altruda, and Knock on Wood artist Jeffro Uitto will be open and displaying recent works. In nearby Northcove there will be glass blowing demonstrations at Elements Glass Studio, located across from the old Mini Mart.

Submitted photo

A driftwood sculpture by Jeffro Uitto.

Nelson Crab and Gift Gallery will have handmade original art in its new display area. There will be food available at the tribe's Sand Verbena Restaurant, the Tokeland Hotel, and "The Porch" at Nelson Crab.

The tour is free, and free maps with all locations and artist information will be available before the event at the Tokeland Hotel. For more information, call 360-267-7006. This event is sponsored by the Tokeland Northcove Chamber of Commerce.

Submitted photo

During the Tokeland Studio Tour, you'll be able to see cedar carving projects from raw logs to finished pieces at the Shoalwater Bay Tribal Center and Shoalwater Bay Carving Apprentice program.

Submitted photo

"Lone Pine," a watercolor by Barbara Sampson.

Astoria Art Loft holds spring art workshops

ASTORIA — The Astoria Art Loft will hold several spring workshops this month.

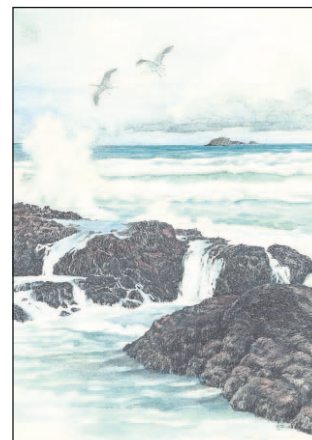

Corrine Loomis Dietz, resident artist for Golden Paints, will teach Foundations in Acrylics from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, April 11. Then, on Sunday, April 12, Dietz will teach Glazing, Layering and Blending with Open Acrylics. Each class is $95, which includes materials. Students can take both classes for $180.

Author and artist Claudia Nice will present a two-day workshop in Watercolor, Pen and Ink Design from 9:30 a.m.

to 4 p.m. April 24 and 25.

On April 24 she will teach pen, ink and watercolor techniques as students paint a sea scene. The next day, students will paint a rabbit. Nice has authored or contributed to over 30 books, including "Creating Texture in Pen & Ink with Watercolor." The fee for the two-day workshop is $225 for both days.

The Astoria Art Loft is located at 105 Third St. above Dots 'N Doodles Art Supply. For more information or to register, visit www.astoriaart-loft.com or call 503-325-4442.

Submitted photo

Students will learn to paint a sea scene, like this one, during a workshop April 24 with Claudia Nice.

Submitted photo

Students will paint a rabbit, like this one, in the second day of a two-day workshop with Claudia Nice on April 25.