Seaside senior Hannah Garhofer will play soccer next season for the Northwest Christian College in Eugene.

A few local senior athletes are signed up and ready to play at the next level. The latest letter-of-intent signee is Knappa's Tyson Burnard, who signed to play basketball next season at Lower Columbia College in Longview, Wash. Burnard was the Northwest League Player of the Year for 2014-15, and was named to the Class 2A All-State second team. "Tyson is dynamic," said LCC head coach Jim Roffler. "He gets after it and he has the ability to drive and finish, plus he can hit the three. I think he will come in and compete hard against college competition." Burnard had a 50-point outburst in the NWL title game against Vernonia, the second-best in school history behind the 54 scored by legendary guard "Pudgy" Hunt in 1957. Burnard also led the Loggers to the Class 2A quarterfinals where he scored 36 in a loss to Heppner. "Tyson has played against smaller school competition," Roffler said. "But the times I've seen him go up against players from bigger schools he has never backed down. I think he's going to come into the program and try and make a mark." In other letter-of-intent news, Burnard's teammate, senior Andy Miller, has agreed to play baseball next year at Clark College in Vancouver, Wash. Earlier this spring, three Seaside athletes signed to continue their athletic careers at Northwest Christian College in Eugene. Hannah Garhofer will play soccer for the Beacons, while sisters Danielle and Kelly Willyard will compete in both volleyball and track at NCC. Garhofer will not be the first Seaside soccer player to compete for NCC. Soccer players on the NCC rosters last season included Bren Bletscher, Aaron Chesnut, Patrick Fritter, Ian Hawksford and Linsey Johnson. A current list of local letter-of-intent signees:

- Astoria
Bailey Haskell, Centralia softball
- Knappa
Tyson Burnard, Lower Columbia basketball
Andy Miller, Clark College baseball
- Seaside

Fishermen play the wind in win over Valiants

By GARY HENLEY
The Daily Astorian

Astoria bounced back from Tuesday's loss to Scappoose with an 8-5 win over Valley Catholic, in Cowapa League baseball action Wednesday at a windy Aiken Field. Astoria used the long ball to beat the Valiants, belting three home runs off Valley Catholic pitcher Alex Hyland. After the Valiants scored three runs in the top of the first, Astoria answered with three in the bottom of the first, highlighted by a home run from Fridtjof Fremstad. Teammate Carter Wallace added a solo shot in the second inning, and Joe Brawley homered in the fifth. Kai Brown and Fremstad combined to limit the Valiants to just five hits, with Fremstad allowing no hits with six strikeouts and two walks.

"It was a nice bounce-back win for us," said Astoria coach Dave Gasser. "We needed it. Fritz did a great job of getting us out of a major jam in the fifth, and we hit the ball hard."

Tillamook 14, Seaside 5
SEASIDE — More bad luck in the seventh inning cost the Seaside Gulls Wednesday night at Broadway Field. With Seaside holding a 5-2 lead entering the final inning, the Tillamook Cheesemakers scored 12 runs and left with a 14-5 victory. Tillamook had six hits and took advantage of three walks, two hit batters and two Seaside errors in the seventh. Zach Quicke had a double, triple and two RBIs for Seaside, which is scheduled to play at Banks Friday.
