Hoffman Center celebrates the night sky
Enjoy Once in a Blue Moon, 'Starry Night' artist reception

MANZANITA — The Hoffman Center for the Arts will celebrate the night sky with two events this weekend. The Once in a Blue Moon event at 7 p.m. Friday, July 31 will include a variety show featuring local individuals and groups performing moon-themed music and acts. A blue moon is rare because it happens only when a second full moon appears in any particular month.

"We haven't seen a Blue Moon since August 2012," said organizer Tela Skinner, "so this will be a great opportunity to mark the occasion." Performers will include Sherrie Wolf, Trillium Blue, the Ferrets, the Rag Tag Singers, and Rosa Erlebach. There will also be a moon song sing-along. Gary Seelig will emcee. The event will be a fundraiser for the Hoffman Center. Admission is $10.

Once in a Blue Moon will include a gallery showing of night sky photographs by Neahkahnne-based photography Linda Cook from her "Starry Night" collection. The next day, Saturday, Aug. 1, the Hoffman Center will host an artist's reception for Cook and her "Starry Night" collection from 1 to 3 p.m. "Starry Night" includes images of nighttime stars, planets, the moon, the Milky Way, as well as sunsets. Cook will be on hand to offer advice on how to best view and photograph night skies.

"Shooting these images in the dark of night and being blanketed in stars, planets and constellations is pure joy for me," said Cook. "It has become my passion, my preoccupation." Cook uses a full frame digital camera with a wide-angle lens to capture the pictures. The Hoffman Center for the Arts is located at 594 Lameda Ave.
