Hollywood Theatre brings outdoor film to the Fort George

ASTORIA — Coinciding with the annual Astoria Regatta, Fort George Brewery and the Hollywood Theatre present a special outdoor showing of "The Life Aquatic with Steve Zissou," starring Bill Murray.

Don your red caps and assemble the crew in the Fort George courtyard, as Team Zissou takes you on an underwater hunt for the mysterious Jaguar Shark. The expedition begins at sundown Friday, Aug. 7.

As part of an ongoing summer partnership, the Hollywood Theatre and Fort George brewed a small-batch collaborative beer. Christened Vertigo Effect, this Prohibition-era pale ale was first tapped in Portland at the 89th anniversary party for the historic not-for-profit landmark theater. Now, the Hollywood Theatre is coming back to the coast, with a

Register for the Great Columbia Crossing

October 10K allows participants to cross the Astoria Bridge

ASTORIA — Registration for the Great Columbia Crossing 10K run/walk is now open. Make sure you get the once-a-year opportunity to experience the Astoria Bridge on foot.

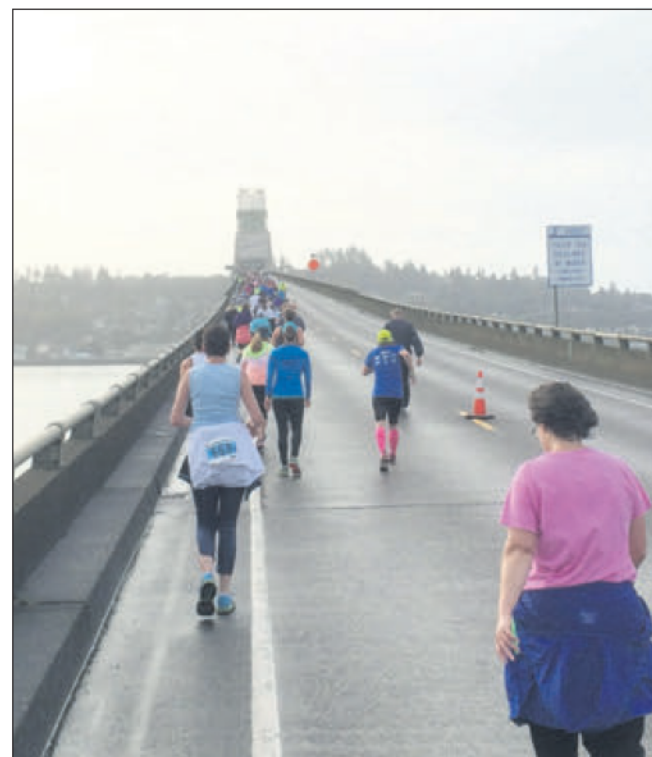

The race is set for Sunday, Oct. 11.

The 10K offers a scenic adventure on a fairly flat road with one steep incline to the peak of the bridge. It is the longest continuous truss bridge in North America.

Whether you're an experienced runner or looking for a family-friendly event, the Great Columbia Crossing 10K appeals to everyone.

The run is an Official USA Track & Field Certified Event (#OR12025LB). Runners will be timed with an electronic chip and will be given a separate start time from walkers.

Participants are required to register in advance. Registration will close when the event reaches capacity of 3,500 participants. Registration is $40 and $45 with electronic timing. Long-sleeve cotton T-shirts cost $16 or more. Register online at www.greatcolumbiacrossing.com, by phone at 503-325-6311, email events@oldoregon.com, or in person at 111 W. Marine Drive. See the
