

See Coastal Fiber Arts show

ASTORIA — The Astoria Fiber Arts Studio puts on a vibrant fiber arts exhibit, Coastal Fiber Arts, featuring the works of nationally known fiber artists at the Clatsop County Heritage Museum, 1618 Exchange St. The opening for the public to meet the artists is from 6 to 8 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 6. This is the third year that Astoria Fiber Arts Studio has held this biannual juried art exhibition. Coastal Fiber Arts runs from Aug. 6 to Sept. 15. During August and September, Astoria Fiber Arts Studio, located at 1296 Duane St., will also show work by various local fiber artists, including the weaving done by Sarah Hendrickson, who was the recipient of the first Artist in Residency sponsored by Astoria Visual Arts. The studio is open 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays.

Hear old-fashioned country Fort George hosts Portland music trio

ASTORIA — Come to the Fort George Brewery at 8 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 9 for some good old fashioned country music from Portland's finest Jenny Don't & the Spurs. If you have a love for classic country artists like Hank Williams and Patsy Cline, then you might have a soft spot for this Portland trio. Jenny Don't sings from the heart and Sam and Kelly play like there's no tomorrow. Lewi Longmire brings the wailing-Waylon on lead guitar.

Teen Art Week has new date

ASTORIA — The Columbia River Maritime Museum's Teen Art Week has a new date this summer. The program will be held from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday through Friday, Aug. 10 to 14 at the Barbey Maritime Center located at 1792 Marine Drive. During art week, teens can explore creativity, be inspired and develop art-making skills. Teens will delve into Astoria galleries for inspiration and discover a variety of mediums, including fiber arts, sculpture, painting, drawing and more. The week will culminate with an evening art show from 4 to 6 p.m. Friday, Aug. 14. Cost is $100 for museum members and $125 for non-members. To sign up for the program, visit www.crm.org to print out and return the Teen Art Week Reservation Form. For more information, contact Education Program Coordinator Christine Fleming at 503-325-2323 or fleming@crmm.org
