

POINT of view

'What do you think about access to the Goonies house being cut off, and the front of the house being covered in blue tarps?'

"The Chamber of Commerce should have purchased it and kept it in the pristine condition it was in at the time of the movie. That was a huge mistake."

Jack Perry, Astoria

"That's unfortunate. I can understand that, because everyone wants to see the house. But there are several other worthwhile settings from the movie for fans and visitors to see. Then again, that's the price you pay for living in a historic home."

Starbuck Ballner, Ilwaco, Wash.

"That is terrible. Very disappointing. When you own something like that, you have an obligation to honor what makes it special and share it with people. It's too bad the public didn't show common decency, and it's sad they didn't respect her property."

Erick Bengel joins The Daily Astorian

Bengel hired as enterprise, quality of life and Warrenton reporter

The Daily Astorian

Erick Bengel, a former Cannon Beach Gazette reporter, has joined The Daily Astorian's news team as the enterprise, quality of life and Warrenton reporter.

He will cover the city of Warrenton and issues relating to health, poverty, the environment and the aging population on the North Coast. In addition, he will work on long-term enterprise stories.

"I think when journalism, or any form of storytelling, is done right, it gives readers a better understanding of the people who share the world with them. It gives them glimpses of the beliefs, passions, fears, shames, hopes and joys of other human beings," he said. "In other words, it creates empathy. That's what I like to read about, and it's what I like to write about."

Bengel, who was born in Corvallis and raised in Albany, spent three years at his university newspaper, the Portland State Vanguard, working first as a news reporter, then as the arts-and-culture editor and, lastly, as editor-in-chief.

He was The Daily Astorian's 2011 Snowden intern. The Charles Snowden Internship for Excellence in Journalism is a program, administered by the University of Oregon's journalism department, that offers paid full-time summer positions at various publications throughout Oregon.

For the last two years, Bengel, 29, wrote for the Cannon Beach Gazette and served as the Cannon Beach correspondent for The Daily Astorian.

He lives in Astoria. "With Erick's new role, The Daily Astorian will be better positioned to get to the 'big picture' stories and dig deeper into social issues that are important to us all," Managing Editor Laura Sellers said. "We're doubly excited to be able to recognize his great work and bring him up the coast to the daily."

Reach Bengel at 503-325-3211, ext. 218, cell at 503-440-7866, or at ebengel@dailyastorian.com.

Nancy Cannon Goodell Portland

Nov. 20, 1936 — Aug. 10, 2015

Nancy is survived by her husband, Stan; son, Bruce, and his sons Brandon and Nicholas of Dayton, Wash.; her daughter, Karin, and son-in-law David Ferguson, and their daughter Leah of Happy Valley, Ore.; her sister and brother-in-law, Anne and Don Nixon of Oysterville, Wash.; and by her brother-in-law and sister-in-law, Joe and Laurie Ferguson of Lake Oswego, Ore.

Nancy is the daughter of G.E. "Ding" and Gyla Cannon. She graduated from St. Helen's Hall (now Oregon Episcopal School) in 1954, and from Mount Holyoke College in 1958 with a bachelor's degree in music. Upon graduation, she worked at Jantzen Knitting Mills.

Nancy met Stan while skiing at Multitorpor ski area on Mount Hood, and they married on Sept. 12, 1959.

Nancy enjoyed public service and gave much time giving back to her community. She was a member of the Portland Junior League, served on the Northwest Outward Bound board of directors, Oregon Episcopal School board of trustees, and served a term as its president. She also was a member of the Trails Club of Oregon and the Multnomah Athletic Club. She made many friends playing duplicate bridge.

Nancy and Stan operated Ski Bluewood in the Blue Mountains above Dayton, Wash., and was its vice president, for 26 years.

As a child Nancy spent summers at her aunt's home in Oysterville, Wash. Nancy and Stan built a summer home on Willapa Bay near Oysterville, and lived there upon their retirement. She loved its sweeping panoramic view of the bay, its tall spruce rain forest, and the eagles, blue herons, and wildlife that surrounded them. She was a wonderful cook, and is especially known and remembered by family and friends for many seafood meals of salmon, crab, steamed clams, and razor clams which she also enjoyed digging.

Nancy was very kind, generous, and patient. She was fierce in protecting the people she believed in and was a most loving wife, mother, and grandmother. She made friends easily everywhere she went.

Nancy braided her long hair for over 40 years with three or four ribbons each day. She had over 250 ribbons, and could coordinate with any clothes she wore — they were her distinctive signature.

A memorial service celebrating Nancy's life will be held on Aug. 22, 2015 at 2 p.m. at Oregon Episcopal School, 6300 S.W. Nicol Road, Portland, OR 97223.

In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be made to Oregon Episcopal School or to Northwest Outward Bound School, 619 S.W. 11th Ave., Suite 225, Portland, OR 97205.
