A longtime Astoria-area family celebrated 50 years of continuous reunions, with 74 in attendance, on Aug. 16. Family members include the Haukes, Henningsens, Wisbecks, Drilicas and Rasumssens. The oldest attendees were Bill Wisbeck, 95, and Nels Rasmussen, 92. A weekend of camping, good food, reminiscing, games and the traditional hay ride were enjoyed by family and friends. Held in various locations since the original gathering at the Olney Grange Hall, the reunion has been held at the Henningsen Farm on Oregon Highway 202 for the past 25 years. Originally a dairy farm, now a home to beef cattle, the farm was established in 1902, when Thor and Kristine Henningsen immigrated to America from Denmark.

Elks donate audiometer to Head Start

SEASIDE — Seaside Elks Lodge No. 1748 received a $2,000 Gratitude Grant from the Elks National Foundation, which was used to purchase an audiometer for Seaside Head Start, Community Action Team Inc., to help to meet the screening requirement for Head Start.

"Having a second hearing machine in the county will be a great asset to get the 164 children screened within our 45-day time frame," Joyce Ervin, director of Child and Family Development Programs at CAT, said.

"It has always been a balancing act to trade one hearing machine between three centers," Raedetta Castle, Seaside Elks past officer, Seaside Head Start Center manager and the main grant writer, said. "This additional machine will make it so much easier to get all our kids tested within 45 days."

Seaside Elks members also provide free eye screening each year for the students.

For information about Seaside Elks, or how to become a member, call 503-738-6651, email seasideelks@yahoo.com. Follow Seaside Elks on Facebook at www.facebook.com/seaside.elks

Cloverbud Club looking for leaders

The Clatsop County 4-H program is looking for Cloverbud Club leaders for the youngest 4-H members, who aren't quite ready to participate in many of the project areas and/or activities that their older brothers and sisters can.

The emphasis is on participation, learning and teamwork, not competition. The youth might learn about nutrition while helping to prepare simple snacks, or plant seeds and learn what they need to do to make them grow. They can explore science, build with Legos, and so much more.

Those interested in working with this age group (youth ages 5 to 8) should contact the Oregon State University Extension Office at 503-325-8573.

Traditional Club volunteer leaders in the project areas of art and home economics are also needed. As youth sign up for 4-H, more volunteer leaders may be needed in other project areas, as well.
