Astoria Music Festival hosts Big Horn Brass in concert Saturday, Sept. 12 at the Liberty Theater.

Spin that radio dial with Big Horn Brass in Astoria

Concert includes classical, movie, rock music

ASTORIA — The Astoria Music Festival will bring a versatile brass band to town for a concert at 7:30 p.m. Saturday Sept. 12.

The Portland- and Vancouver, Washington-based ensemble, Big Horn Brass, will perform a concert titled “Spin the Radio Dial,” showcasing the group’s diversity of styles, including classical masterpieces, themes from exciting movie scores, and good old rock ‘n’ roll.

The performance will take place at the Liberty Theater, located at 1203 Commercial St.

Setting the dial on All Classical, audiences will hear works by Aaron Copland, Giovanni Gabrieli, Stephen Foster, Richard Wagner, Camille Saint-Saëns and Serge Prokofiev.

Spinning over to Radio Disney, there will be motion picture themes from “Beauty and the Beast” and “Aladdin” by Alan Menken, “The Producers” by Mel Brooks, and “The Incredibles” by Michael Giacchino.

Another spin of the dial lands on Pop Rock for a Beatles medley and “Walk Like an Egyptian.”

This concert brings together the 16-member Big Horn Brass under the baton of David Bryan. The night will feature arrangements by Phil Neuman, Dave Robertson, Lars Campbell, Kevin Walczyk, Charley Gray and William Berry, all from the Pacific Northwest.

Big Horn Brass was founded in 1983 by Andrew Harris. Members of the ensemble come from symphonies and brass ensembles across the Portland and Vancouver area. The group performs a wide variety of music including classical, romantic, Renaissance, ragtime, marches, patriotic, big band, and movie music.

General admission tickets are $15. Tickets for students of high school age and younger are $5.

Tickets can be purchased by calling the Liberty Theater or at the box office, open from 2 to 5:30 p.m. Tuesday to Saturday and two hours before the show. Tickets may also be purchased through TicketsWest at 503-224-8499.
