

Join Confluence Project interpretive walk

Angora Hiking Club visits Cape Disappointment State Park

ILWACO, Wash. — Angora Hiking Club will have interpretive specialist Aaron Webster lead a walk in Ilwaco on Friday, Sept. 25. The walk will start in Cape Disappointment State Park and visit the Confluence Project.

The Confluence Project is a series of outdoor installations and interpretive artworks located in parks along the Columbia River and its tributaries in Washington and Oregon. The works were a collaboration between Northwest communities, tribes and celebrated artist Maya Lin to create reflective moments that can shape the futures of the Columbia River system.

The Confluence Broadwalk features a timeline of locations

Interpretive walk

9:30 a.m. Friday, Sept. 25

Meet at Dooger's parking lot

103 U.S. Highway 101, Warrenton

503-861-2802

360-642-3029

Free

documented by Lewis and Clark to the very last point at the edge of the Pacific Ocean.

Walkers will meet at the Dooger's Restaurant parking lot in Warrenton at the corner of U.S. Highway 101 and Harbor Drive at 9:30 a.m. and car pool to Cape Disappointment.

Angora Hiking Club is scheduling this event, and

Submitted photo

The Angora Hiking Club has organized an interpretive hike open to all at the Confluence Project in Cape Disappointment State Park.

membership is not required to participate. For club information, contact chief guide Bob Westerberg at 503-325-4315.

If you're interested in participating in this walk, contact leader Kathleen Hudson at 503-861-2802, or Arron Webster at 360-642-3029.

Polecat plays high-energy stomp-grass

Catch Bellingham band perform at Fort George Brewery

ASTORIA — Fort George favorite Polecat returns to the brewery's upstairs stage at 8 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 27.

Polecat is a do-not-miss, self-proclaimed stomp-grass band from Bellingham, Washington. Keep the Pacific Northwest Brew Cup weekend rocking at Fort George for another night of music and dancing. All ages are welcome, and there is no cover charge. The Fort George Brewery is located at 1483 Duane St.

Polecat's high-energy blend of Americana, bluegrass, Celtic, reggae, country and rock 'n' roll makes for an incredible live show. Performing at festivals like, Bumbershoot and Polecat will perform at 8 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 27 at the Fort George Brewery.

Submitted photo

the Northwest String Summit, these guys have their sound down. If you've heard them before, you know the drill, and if you haven't, it is a see, hear and dance-to-believe show.

Formed in the spring of 2010, Polecat has traveled all over Northwest, performing over 400 shows in four years. The general appeal of Polecat comes from their take on roots music and their interactive live shows.

CLATSOP DISTRIBUTING COMPANY

is a local distributing company that employs local people and supports local community activities

Clatsop Distributing Company distributes many Pacific Northwest brews

Our World.
Our Responsibility.

Clatsop Distributing Company
wants to remind you to drink responsibly.
Plan ahead and get a designated driver.