

Photo by Joshua Bessex

The Shanghaied Roller Dolls will host a roller derby bout Oct. 24 at the Astoria Armory.

Find Rolling Dead at Armory Roller Dolls to host roller derby bout

ASTORIA — Just in time for Halloween, come out to the next hard-hitting roller derby bout featuring Astoria's Shanghaied Roller Dolls as they battle Storm City's Misfits of Mutiny at 7 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 24.

The Rolling Dead roller derby event takes place at the Astoria Armory, 1636 Exchange St. Doors open at 6 p.m.

It will be a night of fun and games for the entire family. Roller derby is a contact sport full of jams, hits, blocks, agility and awesomeness. Come witness the fastest growing amateur sport in the world. Food and drinks will be available for purchase.

VIP tickets cost $20, and general admission cost $10. Tickets for kids under 10, military, fire fighters and police are $5. Advanced tickets are available at www.brownpapertickets.com. Tickets are also available at Gimre's Shoes, Coldwater Surf & Skate, Hits 94.3 FM. There will be limited tickets at the door.

North Coast Land Conservancy holds gala event

Celebrate coastal conservation, learn about new book 'The Wild Edge'

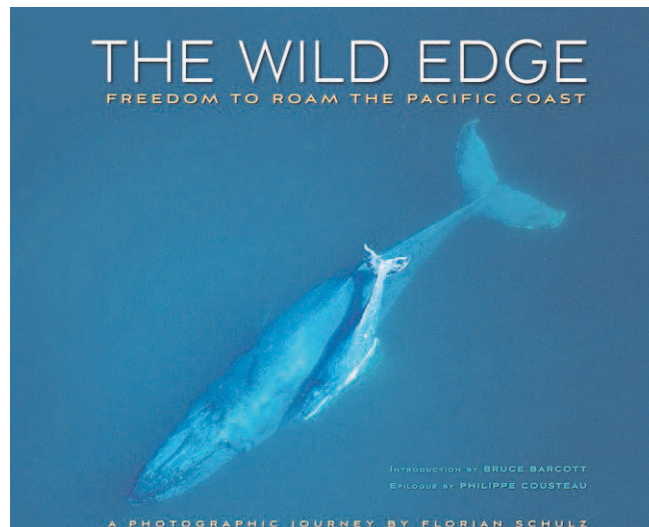

ASTORIA — The North Coast Land Conservancy has planned a gala evening at the Loft at the Red Building for Friday, Oct. 23 to celebrate coastal conservation and the release of photographer Florian Schulz's "The Wild Edge: Freedom to Roam the Pacific Coast."

This landmark book from nonprofit press Braided River reveals the great Pacific seam of North America that knits together land and sea in a tumble of interrelated life from the Baja Peninsula to the Beaufort Sea of Alaska. Doors open at 5 p.m. The Loft at the Red Building is located at 20 Basin St.

Following an introduction by NCLC Executive Director Katie Voelke, Seattle author Bruce Barcott, who was lead essayist for "The Wild Edge," will read and share images taken by Schulz for the book. "The Wild Edge" profiles NCLC as a conservation champions.

Barcott is a former Guggenheim Fellow in nonfiction and an award-winning author who writes about science, the environment and the outdoor world. He is a frequent contributor to The New York Times, Rolling Stone, National Geographic, Atlantic Monthly, Outside magazine and many other national publications.

"The Last Flight of the Scarlet Macaw," his critically

Submitted photo

"The Wild Edge: Freedom to Roam the Pacific Coast" is a photography book by Florian Schulz.

praised true story of a woman fighting a global corporation and a corrupt government to save the world's most beautiful bird, was reviewed on the front cover of the New York Times Book Review and was adopted as a One Book choice by a number of cities and colleges across the United States.

Barcott's previous book, "The Measure of a Mountain: Beauty and Terror on Mount Rainier," earned the Washington State Governor's Award. His latest book, "Weed: The Future of Legal Marijuana in America," was published by Time Books in April 2015. Barcott lives on

Bainbridge Island with his wife, author Claire Dederer.

Food and drink at the event will be provided by North Coast Food Web and Fort George Brewery. Signed copies of "The Wild Edge" will be available for purchase.

General ticket pricing is $10. A limited number of VIP tickets including a pre-event reception are also available for $100, $150 and $250. All tickets can be purchased at NCLC's Seaside office, located at 2609 N. Roosevelt Drive, by phone at 503-738-9126, or online at www.wildedgedge.brownpapertickets.com. NCLC is grateful for

Submitted photo by Braided River

Seattle author Bruce Barcott is the lead essayist for "The Wild Edge" and will speak at the event.

Submitted photo by Randall Henderson

NCLC Executive Director Katie Voelke will introduce author Bruce Barcott to the stage.

additional in-kind support from Anchor Graphics and the Cannery Pier Hotel. Proceeds benefit NCLC's conservation work on the Oregon Coast. For more details, visit www.nclctrust.org

Open 7am
Daily!

ASTORIA
COFFEEHOUSE
& BISTRO

243 11th Street, Astoria, OR 97103
503-325-1787
www.AstoriaCoffeeHouse.com

European Style Coffeehouse by day, intimate bistro offering neo-regional cuisine by night.

Regional selection of beers, wines and vintage cocktails available.

We cater your event! Follow & "Like" us on Facebook

Weekly Specials: 5-8 PM
Sushi & Martinis Mondays
Taco & Margarita
Thursdays (3 Buck Tacos)

Let Us
Overwhelm
You!

... not all of the light flickering is a part of the show

The Haunting
of Bissop House

October 21, 22, 28 & 29 7 pm
Reader's Theatre in McTavish

Box Office
325-5922 X55

Liberty Theater